

My Favourite Subject Maths Essay For Kids

Mathematics is my favourite subject as I love to solve mathematical problems like addition, subtraction, division and multiplication. I enjoy playing with numbers and it gives me an immense level of satisfaction when I'm able to solve a mathematical problem without any hassle.

By practising various arithmetical sums and questions, it sharpens my knowledge and boosts my energy to explore further. Whenever I face some difficulty in solving any problem, I check either with my Maths teacher at school or with my parents while I'm at home.

The main reason why I love Maths is because it does not require me to memorise or retain complex and lengthy concepts in mind. It is a scoring subject if you're aware of the various mathematical formulas. The more I practice, the better I become in solving difficult sums and problems. My Maths teacher at school also taught us some useful tips and tricks to solve complex mathematical questions with speed and accuracy.

Mathematics is, therefore, an intriguing subject and it plays a vital role in our daily lives. The most amazing part of the subject is that it is the only subject where a student can score full marks and thereby raise his/her overall percentage.
