PREFACE

It's great pleasure to introduce the Text Book of Book keeping & Accountancy as per revised syllabus for Std XI from the academic year 2019-20.

A student in the commerce stream studies various subjects, which covers business, management, finance, economics, costing, accounting etc. Book, keeping & Accountancy is one of the most important subjects in commerce, which deals exclusively with the accounting part of different business organizations.

As students are learning this subject first time in their academic career, due care has been taken to put the subject matter in a simple manner. As far as possible the content is designed in such a way that students will be able to understand the basic principles of Book-keeping & Accountancy. The contents are supported with charts, diagrams, tables etc. The exercise given at the end of each topic contains different types of questions to test conceptual clarity and accuracy. Students are given ample opportunity to solve practical problems which are based on application. Q.R. code is given on title which will help to get more knowledge and clarity about the contents.

This book introduces the basic concepts of topic like meaning and objectives of Book Keeping, accounting terms, concepts and conventions, classification of accounts, rules of accounts, various source documents, Journal, Ledger upto preparation of Final Accounts. We have also introduced some new concepts and trends followed in actual practice in this book e.g. GST, NEFT, RTGS, Debit card, Credit card e.wallet etc. We have also included so many activities for the students to gain practical knowledge.

We are grateful to the subject committee members, study group members, translators, reviewers, quality reviewers and all those who have taken efforts in designing this textbook.

We hope the textbook will be well received by academicians and students.

Introduction :

Book-keeping is related with recording of business transactions. Business enterprise and other organizations deal in activities which involve exchange of money or money's worth. All these activities are recorded for the purpose of taking important decisions as to whether the activities are feasible, profitable and are to be continued or not. Information about the business and other organizations is required not only by the proprietors and managers of business and other organisations but also to various other stakeholders such as the government, investors, customers, employees and researchers.

Evolution of Accounting :

In India, during Chandragupta Maurya's regime, Minister Kautilya wrote a book named 'Arthashastra', where in some references can be traced regarding the way of maintaining accounting records. Afterwards it was called as "Deshi Nama".

In the earlier time of civilisation, accounting was done by agents who managed the properties of wealthy people. They prepared accounts periodically for the owners of property. The records of debit and credit were found in the 12th century itself.

In the year 1494, Luca De Bargo Pacioli, an Italian merchant introduced Double-Entry Book-keeping system. Due to the industrial revolution in the 18th and 19th centuries, large scale operations were carried on and Joint Stock Companies emerged as an important form of organisation which involved separation of ownership from management. Hence, to safeguard the interest of owners and investors, the business establishments required detailed information about business which paved the way for development of comprehensive financial accounting information system.

In the 20th century, the need for analysis of financial information for managerial decision making caused emergence of Management Accounting as a separate branch of Accounting.

Though accounting was individual centric in the initial stage of evolution of accounting, it has gradually developed into Social Responsibility Accounting in the 21st century. This is due to the vast growth in business activities as a result of development in various fields. Thus, accounting has become inevitable in the modern world for business.

1.1 Meaning and Definition:

In simple words, the 'Book-keeping' means recording of the business transactions in the books of accounts in a systematic way. All the monetary transactions are recorded datewise for accurate business results from such records at the end of accounting year.

Book-keeping is an art or science of systematic recording, classifying and summarising the financial transactions of business for a particular period, generally one year.

Definition of Book-Keeping

Richard E. Strahelm : "The art of analyzing and recording business transactions, reporting results of business operations through periodic statements and interpreting such results for purposes of effective control of future operations."

J. R. Batliboi : "Book-keeping is an art of recording business dealings in a set of books."

Noeth Cott: "Book-keeping is an art of recording in the books of accounts the monetary aspects of commercial or financial transactions."

R.N. Carter : "Book-keeping is the science and art of correctly recording in the books of accounts, all those business transactions that results in transfer or money or money's worth."

Features of Book-keeping:

- 1) It is the method of recording day to day business transactions.
- 2) Only financial transactions are recorded.
- 3) All records are prepared for a specific period which are useful for future references.
- 4) Records of transactions are based on rules and regulations.
- 5) It is an art of recording business transactions scientifically.

Objectives of Book-keeping:

- 1) The main objective of book-keeping is to keep a complete and accurate record of all the financial transactions in a systematic, orderly and logical manner.
- 2) All the business transactions are to be recorded date wise and account wise.

- 3) Book-keeping serves as a permanent record of the monetary transactions of an enterprise business and it can be produced as an evidence, whenever and wherever required.
- 4) To know the profit or loss of the business during the financial year.
- 5) To know the total assets and liabilities of the enterprise.
- 6) To know what the businessman owes to others and what others owe to him.
- 7) Businessman comes to know the current year's progress over previous year and compares its financial results with other business enterprise in similar line.

1.2 Importance of Book-keeping:

The importance of Book-keeping is as follows:

- 1) Record : It is not possible for anyone to remember all transactions. But Book-keeping maintains records of all the transactions permanently and systematically in the books of accounts.
- 2) Financial Information: Book-keeping is useful to get information related to Profit, Loss, Assets, Liabilities, Investments and Stock, etc, at any given time.
- 3) Decision Making: Book-keeping provides financial information to the businessman for decision making.
- 4) Controlling: Book-keeping enables the executives of the business to control the activities of the business.
- 5) Evidence: Businessman needs financial evidence to be produced in the Court of law in case of any disputes.
- 6) Tax Liability: Book-keeping is useful to find out the tax liabilities e.g. : Income Tax, Property Tax, GST, etc.

Utility of Book-keeping:

- 1) Owner: The businessman can find out Profit, Losses, Assets and Liabilities of an enterprise at any time.
- 2) Management: Management of an enterprise can plan, take decisions and control overall business activities.
- 3) Investors: Investors can take proper decisions whether to invest or not.
- 4) Customer: Customer can easily understand financial position of the business. He can be assured about supply of goods.
- 5) Government: Government can easily find out different types of taxes due from various sources.
- 6) Lenders: Money Lenders can find financial standing of the enterprise for decision to lend money or not.
- 7) Development: Business enterprise can achieve the business growth with the help of accounting.

1.3 Difference between Book-Keeping and Accountancy

Point	Book-keeping	Accountancy
Meaning	It is concerned with recording and classifying the business transactions.	It is related with recording, classifying, summarising, analyzing and interpreting the financial data.
Stage	Book-keeping is the primary stage in accounting. It is the base for accounting	Apart from the primary stage, it includes secondary stage of analysis and interpretation.
Objectives	The objective of Book Keeping is to keep the records of all financial transactions in proper and systematic manner.	The objective of accounting is to prepare the financial statement and further communicate the information to the relevant authorities.
Responsibility	Junior staff is responsible for keeping records.	Senior staff is responsible for keeping accounts.
Outcomes	Book-keeping basically results in Journal and Ledger.	The results of Accountancy is Profit and Loss A/c and Balance sheet.
Period	Book-keeping gives day to day details.	Accountancy gives details of entire year.
Analysis	The process of Book Keeping does not require any analysis	Accountant uses Book Keeping information to analyse and interpret the data and then compiles it into reports.
Decision Making	Management cannot take a decision based on the data provided by book-keeping.	Depending on the data provided by the accountants, the management can take critical business decisions.
Skill required	Analytical skill is not required for book-keeping.	It requires analytical skill.

1.4 Meaning and Definition of Accountancy:

Book-keeping is a part of Accounting. It is the primary stage in accounting. It is the process of recording transactions in the books of accounts. Accounting is part of Accountancy. Accountancy is the practice of recording, classifying, and reporting of business transactions for a business. Accounting principles are the basic norms and assumptions developed and established as the basis for accounting system. These principles are adopted by the accountants universally.

Definitions:

- 1) “Accountancy refers to the entire body of the theory and process of accounting.” By Kohler.
- 2) Prof. Robert N. Anthony has defined accounting as “Nearly every business enterprise has an accounting system. It is a means of collecting, summarizing, analyzing and reporting in monetary terms information about the business transactions.”

1.5 Basis (Methods) of Accounting System

Basis of Accounting:

There are mainly three basis or methods of accounting in common usage, namely

- (i) Cash basis
- (ii) Accrual or Mercantile basis
- (iii) Mixed or Hybrid basis.

(i) Cash basis :

Under the cash basis of accounting, actual cash receipts and actual cash payments are recorded. In this basis, revenue is recognised when cash is received and expenses are recognised when cash is paid. e.g. (i) Any income received, (ii) Any expense paid. Such a method of accounting is usually followed by professionals such as Doctors, Lawyers, Chartered Accountant (CA) and Not for Profit Organisations.

(ii) Accrual or Mercantile basis

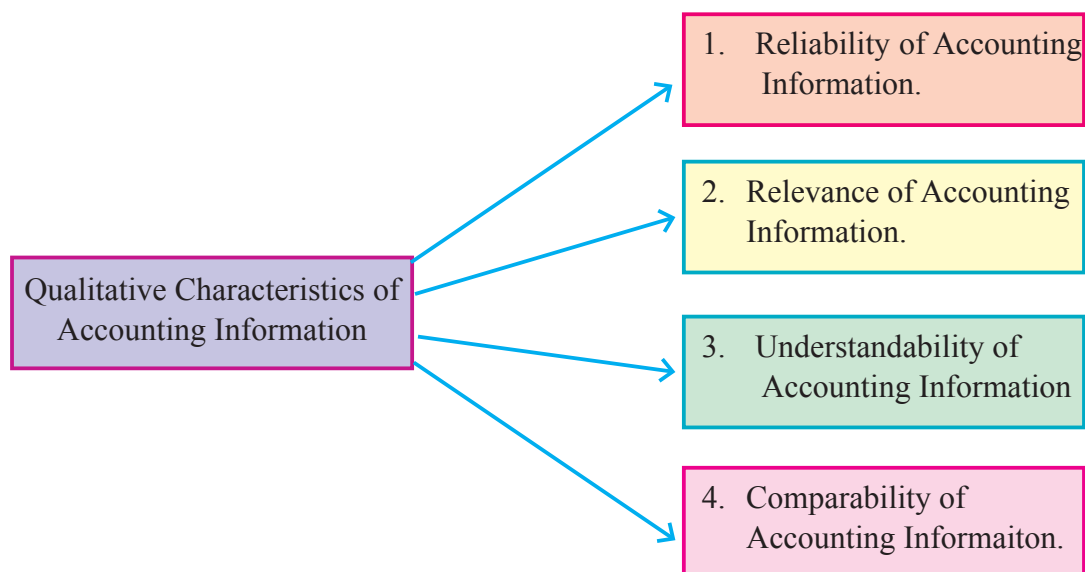

Under accrual basis of accounting, the revenue whether received or not, but has been earned or accrued during the accounting period and expenses incurred whether paid or not are recorded. In other words, revenue is recognised when it is earned or accrued and expenses are recognised when these are incurred. e.g. (i) Any income earned whether received or not, (ii) Any expense incurred whether paid or not.

(iii) Mixed or Hybrid basis

It is a combination of cash basis and accrual basis of accounting. Under mixed basis of accounting, both cash basis and accrual basis are followed. Revenues and assets are generally recorded on cash basis whereas expenses are generally taken on accrual basis. The laws in India prohibits the use of this method.

1.6 Qualitative characteristics of accounting information

Accounting means the numerical qualitative presentation of business transactions of financial nature. While recording accounting information in the books of accounts, we must observe the following qualitative characteristics of accounting.

1. Reliability of the Accounting Information: Reliability is described as one of the two primary qualities (relevance and reliability) that make accounting information useful for decision-making : Reliable information is required to form judgements about the earning potential and financial position of a business firm. Reliability differs from item to item.

Some items of information presented in an annual report may be more reliable than others. For example, information regarding plant and machinery may be less reliable than certain information about current assets because of differences in uncertainty of realization.

2. Relevance of the Accounting Information : Relevant accounting information must be capable of making a difference in a decision by helping users to form predictions about the outcomes of past, present and future events or to confirm or correct expectations. The accounting information related by the books of accounts and financial reports must be relevant. Accounting information should not include unnecessary and irrelevant information. All the information is said to be relevant which would have changed the outcomes of the business if disclosed i.e. All useful and related information must find a place in the books of accounts and the information must have timelessness, dedicative and feedback value.

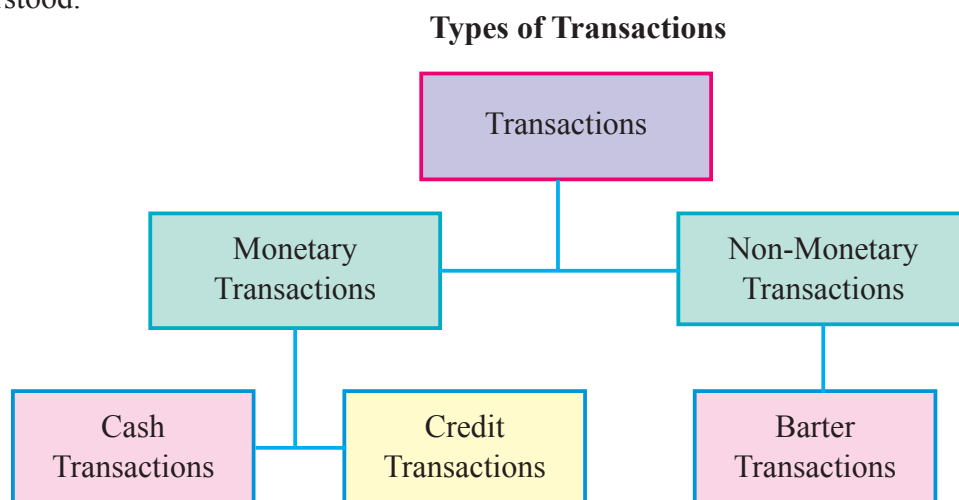

3. Understandability of the Accounting Information: Understandability is the quality of information that enables users to perceive its significance. The benefits of information may be increased by making it more understandable and hence useful to a wider circle of users. Thus, understandable financial accounting information presents data that can be understood by users of the information and is expressed in a form and with terminology adapted to the user's range of understanding.

4. Comparability of the Accounting Information: In making decision, the decision-maker will make comparisons among alternatives, which is facilitated by financial information. Comparability implies to have like things reported in a similar fashion and unlike things reported differently.

Information, if comparable, will assist the decision-maker to determine relative financial strengths and weaknesses and prospects for the future, between two or more firms or between periods in a single firm.

1.7 Basic Accounting Terminologies

In order to have better understanding of accounting, it is necessary to know the meanings of certain basic terms used in accounting. Accounting is a versatile system which serves a large number of purposes in the modern business world. Hence, the following terminologies need to be understood.

1.7.1 Transactions

Exchange of goods and services between two persons or parties for money or money's worth is known as Transactions.

(a) Monetary Transactions:

The transaction which involves an exchange of money or money's worth directly or indirectly is called monetary transactions. Only monetary transactions are recorded in the books of accounts.

- 1) Cash Transactions : A business transaction in which cash is paid or received immediately is known as cash transaction.
e.g i) Purchase of goods for cash at ₹ 15,000/-
ii) Payment of salary at ₹ 5,000/-
- 2) Credit Transactions: A credit transaction is one in which cash is not paid or received immediately at the time of a transaction but it is paid or received at a later date.
e.g i) Goods sold on credit to Mr. Aman at ₹ 8,000/- ii) Sold machinery to Mr. Amarsingh on credit at ₹ 20,000/-

(b) Non-Monetary Transactions:

The transaction which does not involve an exchange of money or money's worth directly or indirectly are called Non-monetary transactions. An exchange of one thing against another thing is called as Barter transactions.

- 1) Entry: Recording of a business transaction in the proper form or method in the books of accounts is called an entry.
 - 2) Narration: A brief explanation of the business transaction for which an entry is passed is called as a narration. It is always given in a bracket below the journal entry and it usually starts with the word "Being" or "For".
 - 3) Goods: The term 'goods' refers to merchandise, commodities, articles or things in which a trader trades. These are purchased or manufactured for the purpose of sale and to earn profit.
- e.g i) Medicines are goods for the chemist.
ii) Vegetables are goods for the vegetable vendor.
iii) Parts like tyres, engine gearbox, cables are produced by a vehicle manufacturer like Bajaj Auto, Hero Motors.

1.7.2 Capital and Drawings:

- a) Capital : The total amount invested into the business by the owner is called capital. Excess of assets over the liabilities is also called as capital. The equation for this is :

$$\text{Capital} = \text{Assets} - \text{Liabilities}$$

Capital is a liability of the business as this amount is payable by the business enterprise to the owner at the time of closure of the business.

- b) Drawings : The amount of cash or value of goods, assets, etc., withdrawn from the business by the owner for personal use called as drawings.

E.g. : A proprietor pays colleges fees of his son, or pays for his medical expenses, mobile bills etc, from the business.

1.7.3 Debtors and Creditors:

- a) Debtor : A person who has to pay to the business for getting goods and services on credit is known as debtor. A debtor is a person who owes money to the business.
- b) Creditor: A person to whom business has to pay for getting goods or services on credit is known as creditor. A creditor is a person to whom business owes money.
- c) Bad Debts : An irrecoverable amount from a debtor is known as "Bad Debts". It is a revenue loss to the business.

1.7.4 Expenditure and Types of Expenditure

Expenditure: An amount spent by the business for any consideration received by business is called expenditure.

- i) Capital Expenditure : This expenditure is incurred to acquire fixed asset or to increase the value of fixed asset. It gives the benefit for a long period of time and it is non-recurring in nature.

E.g. : Purchase of Machinery, extension of building, purchase of computer etc.

- ii) Revenue Expenditure : Revenue expenditure is an expenditure from which no future benefit is expected but having immediate or short term benefit may be less than one year. It does not increase profit earning capacity of an organization. These are normal day to day operating expenses of a business organization and appear on the debit side of Trading A/c or Profit and Loss A/c.

E.g. : Rent paid, Salary paid, Wages paid etc.

- iii) Deferred Revenue Expenditure: An expenditure which is basically revenue in nature but benefit of which is not exhausted within one year is called as Deferred Revenue Expenditure. Such expenditure is written off over number of years. Such written off amount is shown on debit side of profit and loss a/c and unwritten amount is shown on asset side of the Balance Sheet.

E.g. : Heavy expenditure on advertising , heavy legal expenses.

1.7.5 Cash Discount and Trade Discount :

Discount is a concession or allowance given by the seller to purchaser.

There are two types of discounts.

- i) Trade Discount : It is an allowance given on catalogue price or list price of goods. This discount is allowed at the time of purchase/sale of goods. Value of goods purchased/sold recorded is net value payable i.e after deduction of amount of trade discount allowed. If goods of ₹ 1000/- are sold at 5% trade discount, the value of goods that will be recorded will be ₹ 950/- both by the purchaser and the seller and not ₹ 1000/-. Hence, trade discount does not appear in the books of accounts separately.
- ii) Cash Discount: It is the amount deducted from the final amount due at the time of receipt. It is the concession given for encouraging prompt payment. It is given either for the spot payment or for payment within a specific period. Cash discount is calculated after deducting trade discount, since it is loss to the seller and gain to the buyer, cash discount appears in the books of accounts.

1.7.6 Solvent and Insolvent:

i) Solvent: If a person's assets are more than his liabilities, or equal to his liabilities, he is called as a solvent person. Solvent person is financially sound and is in a position to pay off all his debts.

E.g. : A person's total assets have been calculated to ₹ 50,00,000/- and his total debts were ₹ 30,00,000/- since his position is sound he is able to pay off his debts therefore he is called Solvent.

ii) Insolvent: A person whose liabilities are more than his assets is an insolvent person. Such person's liabilities are more than his assets.

E.g. : A person's total assets or property have been calculated to ₹ 20,00,000/- and his total debts were ₹ 50,00,000/- and if he is not in a position to get any amount from any sources and if the court is so satisfied then he will be declared as an insolvent person.

Accounting Year:

It is the period of 12 months for which accounts are maintained and closed by the proprietor. Earlier the proprietors were following any accounting year i.e. calendar year, or financial year or any other year as per tradition. But now for income tax purpose an accounting year starts on 1st April and end on 31st March. At the end of accounting year a proprietor has to prepare Trading account, Profit and Loss account and Balance Sheet to find out the financial position of the business.

Student Activity:

Collect some Advertisement relating to discount and stick it in the note books.

Trading Concern and Not for Profit Concerns.

i) Trading Concern: A business concern established with an object of earning profit by selling goods is known as Trading concern. It is also called as commercial organization or profit making organization.

ii) Not for Profit Concern: It is an organization not established for making profit but for rendering services to the society. An organization may be formed for promoting a useful object like art, science, sports, culture, charity, profession etc.

e.g Schools, Hospitals, Sports Club etc.

1.7.8 Goodwill:

Goodwill may be described as the aggregate of those intangible attributes of a business which contributes to its superior earning capacity over a normal return on investment. It may arise from such attributes as favourable locations, the ability and skill of its employees and management, quality of its products and services, customer satisfaction etc.

◆ Goodwill is the reputation of business expressed in terms of money.

◆ Goodwill is an intangible asset

1.7.9 Profit or Loss

a) Profit : When the selling price of goods is more than the cost price it is a profit. Profit increases the capital of the business.

e.g. If goods are sold for ₹ 50,000/- and all expenses during the period amounted to ₹ 30,000/- then the profit is ₹ 20,000/-

- b) Loss : When cost price of goods is more than its selling price it is a loss. Loss decreases the capital of business
e.g If goods are sold for ₹ 50,000/- and all expenses during the period amounted to ₹ 60,000/, then the loss will be ₹ 10,000/-
- c) Income: It is revenue arising as a result of business transactions. It is the amount receivable or realised from services provided and earnings from interest, dividend, commission, etc.
- d) Revenue: It is income that a business has from its normal business activities usually from the sale of goods and services to customer.

1.7.10 Assets, Liabilities, Net Worth:

- i) Assets : Any physical thing or right owned that has a monetary value is called as an asset. The ownership of the Asset must be with business unit. E.g Land, Goodwill, Patents, Computers etc.
- ii) Types of Assets:
 - a) Fixed Assets/Non current Assets : The assets which give long term benefit to the business are known as fixed assets e.g Land and Building, Plant & Machinery, Goodwill etc. These assets may be tangible or intangible.
 - b) Current Assets : Assets which are held in the business for the operating year and can be converted into cash very easily are called as current assets. e.g Debtors, Bills Receivable Cash in Hand, Cash at Bank, Stock etc.
 - c) Fictitious Assets : These assets are not represented by tangible possession or property. They are imaginary assets but do not have any realisable value. e.g Deferred revenue expense like advertisement paid for 4 years.
- iii) Liabilities: Amount payable by the business to others is known as liability. It is a debt or amount due from the business to others for the benefit received by the business unit. e.g Loan taken, Creditors, Bank Overdraft, Outstanding Expenses etc.
- iv) Types of Liabilities:
 - a) Fixed Liabilities : One of the major source of funds in the business is fixed liabilities. It may be in the form of capital, secured loans, long term loans from banks and from financial institutions etc.
 - b) Current Liabilities: Short term liabilities payable within a year are called current liabilities. Current liabilities arise in the regular current operations of the business. These liabilities are not normally secured. E.g. Creditors, Bills Payable etc.
- v) Net worth or Owners Equity or Capital:
The amount or funds provided by the proprietor in the business is called as “Capital” as well as the excess of assets over liabilities of the business is also known as “Capital” or “Net Worth”. Net worth includes Capital and Reserves. Capital can be in the form of cash or in kind.

Net worth = Owner’s Equity = Capital

OR

Owner’s Equity (Capital)= Total Equity(Assets) – Creditors Equity(Liabilities)

- e.g a) If the Capital of the business is ₹ 4,00,000 and Creditors ₹ 2,00,000 then
- $$\text{Total Equity(Assets)} = \text{Liabilities} + \text{Capital}$$
- $$₹ 6,00,000 = 2,00,000 + 4,00,000$$
- b) If total assets are ₹ 1,50,000 and outside liabilities are ₹ 50,000 the Creditors Equity (liabilities)
- $$\text{Creditors Equity (liabilities)} = \text{Assets} - \text{Capital}$$
- $$₹ 50,000 = ₹ 1,50,000 - ₹ 1,00,000$$
- c) If total assets of the business are ₹ 5,00,000 and Outside liabilities are ₹ 2,00,000 the Owner's Equity(Capital)
- $$\text{Owner's Equity (Capital)} = \text{Assets} - \text{Liabilities}$$
- $$₹ 3,00,000 = ₹ 5,00,000 - ₹ 2,00,000$$

Contingent Liabilities:

A liability which may arise in future depends on happening or non-happening of certain event is called as contingent liability. As it is not confirmed or perfect liability, it does not affect the financial position of the business and therefore, it is not shown on the liability side of the Balance Sheet. But it is shown by way of foot note to Balance Sheet simply as information.

e.g. A worker makes a claim for compensation of ₹ 5,000/- against the business and the decision is pending in the court. It may be a future liability for business on happening of an event i.e “Court Verdict”

1.8 Accounting Concepts, Conventions and Principles

Meaning and Importance of Accounting Concepts

Accounting is means of communicating the results of business operations to various parties interested in or connected with the business viz., the owners, creditors, investors, banks and financial institutions, Government and other agencies. Hence, it is rightly called as the language of business.

Accounting is not only associated with business, but also with everybody, who is interested in keeping an account of the monetary transactions. Generally the term 'accounting' refers to financial accounting. Book-keeping and Accountancy is an art of recording, classifying and summarizing transactions of business concern in a systematic manner.

Importance of Accounting Concepts:

- 1) Reliable financial statements.
- 2) Uniformity in presentation.
- 3) Generally acceptable basis of measurement.
- 4) Proper information to all.
- 5) Valid and appropriate assumptions.

Some of the important concepts are as follows :

- 1) Business Entity: This concept implies that a business unit is separate and distinct from the owner or owners, that is, the persons who supply capital to it. Based on this concept, accounts are prepared from the point of view of the business and not from the owner's point of view. Hence, the business is liable to the owner for the capital contributed by him/her.

According to this concept, only business transactions are recorded in the books of accounts. Personal transactions of the owners are not recorded. But, their transactions with the business such as capital contributed to the business or cash withdrawn from the business for the personal use will be recorded in the books of accounts. It implies that the business itself owns assets and owes liabilities.

e.g. Half of the building is used for business office and other half of the building is used for the residence of the proprietor. If the total rent of the building is ₹ 50,000/- then only ₹ 25,000/- will be deducted as drawings from proprietor's capital.

- 2) Money Measurement: This concept implies that only those transactions, which can be expressed in terms of money, are recorded in the books of accounts. Since money serves as the medium of exchange transactions expressed in money are recorded and the ruling currency of a country is the measuring unit for accounting.

Transactions which do not involve money will not be recorded in the books of accounts. For example, working conditions in the work place, strike by employees, efficiency of the management, etc. will not be recorded in the books, as they cannot be expressed in terms of money. It helps in understanding of the state of affairs of the business as money serves as a common measure by means of which heterogeneous facts about the business are recorded.

For example, if a business has 5 computers, 2 tables and 3 chairs, the assets cannot be added to give useful information, unless, they are expressed in monetary terms ₹ 1,50,000/- for computers, ₹15,000/- for tables and ₹ 2,500/- for chairs.

- 3) Cost Concept : An asset is recorded in the books on the basis of the historical cost, that is, the acquisition cost. Cost of acquisition will be the base for all further accounting. It does not mean that the asset will always be shown at cost. It is recorded at cost at the time of its purchase, but is systematically reduced in its book value by charging depreciation.

e.g. : Furniture is purchased for ₹ 3,00,000/- and same cost has been recorded in the books. In case the market value goes to ₹ 1,00,000/- or ₹ 1,50,000/- It will not be considered.

- 4) Consistency Concept: Any policy adopted for accounting should be continuous or consistent throughout the business and it need not be changed generally unless and until circumstances demand. However, it does not stop any improvement of new techniques. But that should be disclosed with a note.

e.g. : A company adopts fixed installment method for charging depreciation on fixed asset from the beginning till the end of estimated life of asset.

- 5) Conservatism: While recording the business transactions we have to anticipate no profit but provide for all possible losses. It encourages the certain secret reserves by making excess provision to prevent losses. The income statement may show lower income and the Balance Sheet overstates the liabilities and understates the assets. This policy of recording is asking the accountant 'to play safe' while writing the accounts.

e.g. : The closing stock in the factory is valued at ₹ 25,000/- at cost price and ₹ 35,000/- at its market price. But while recording in the books the value of ₹ 25,000/- will be considered being the lowest of all.

6) Going Concern: It is the basic assumption that business is a going concern and will continue its operations for future. Going concern concept influences accounting practices in relation to valuation of assets and liabilities, depreciation of the fixed assets, treatment of outstanding and prepaid expenses and accrued and unearned revenues. For example, assets are generally valued at historical cost. Any increase or decrease in the value of assets in the short period is ignored.

7) Realization: Income is recorded only when it is realized i.e. either it is received or earned. Revenues are recorded only when sale are affected or the services are rendered. Sales revenues are considered as recognized when sales are affected during the accounting period irrespective of the fact whether cash is received or not.

e.g. : A company gets an order for sale of goods ₹ 1,00,000/- in May 2017. Goods of only ₹ 60,000/- are sold and delivered in June 2017. Cash is received for ₹ 60,000/- in Sept, 2017. As per the principle of realization, sale is to be recorded in June 2017.

8) Accrual: Income is recorded when it accrues(earned) and expenses are recorded when they accrue(become payable). All expenses and revenues related to the accounting period are to be considered irrespective of the fact the revenues are received in cash or not or expenses are paid in cash or not.

e.g. : A company invested ₹ 100,000/- with a bank for one year on 1stOct 2015, Bank has to pay interest at 10% p.a on its maturity i.e 30th Sept, 2016.

9) Dual Aspect : According to this concept, every transaction or event has two aspects, i.e., dual effect. For example, when Akshay starts a business with cash ₹ 5,00,000/- , on one hand, the business gets cash of ₹ 5,00,000/- and on the other hand, a liability arises, that is, the business has to pay Akshay a sum of ₹ 5,00,000/-. This is the concept which recognizes the fact that for every debit, there is a corresponding and equal credit. This is the basis of the entire system of double entry book-keeping. From this concept the basic accounting equation, arises that is, Capital + Liabilities = Assets.

10) Disclosure: The accounts must disclose all material information. The accounting reports should disclose full and fair information to the related parties. The financial position and performance should be disclosed very honestly to all the users. The financial position means the Balance Sheet of the business and financial performance means business results in terms of profits or losses and income and expenses in profit and loss account.

All the information disclosed should be relevant, reliable, comparable and understood by all the concerned authorities.

11) Materiality: According to this convention, financial statements should disclose all material items which might influence the decisions of the users of financial statements. Hence, any item which is not significant and is not relevant to the users need not be disclosed in the financial statements.

This principle is basically an exception to the full disclosure principle. The term materiality is subjective in nature. Materiality depends on the amount involved in the transaction, size of the business, nature of information, requirements of the person making decision, etc. An item material to one person may be immaterial to another person.

12) Matching Concept: According to this concept, revenues during an accounting period are matched with expenses incurred during that period to earn the revenue during that period. This concept is based on accrual concept and periodicity concept. Periodicity concept fixes the time frame for measuring performance and determining financial status.

All expenses paid during the period are not considered, but only the expenses related to the accounting period are considered. On the basis of this concept, adjustments are made for outstanding and prepaid expenses and accrued and unearned revenues. Also due provisions are made for depreciation of the fixed assets, bad debt, etc., relating to the accounting period.

Thus, it matches the revenues earned during an accounting period with the expenses incurred during that period to earn the revenues before sharing any profit or loss.

Student Activity:

- 2) Prepare a list of Assets and Liabilities that you find in your house.

1.9 Accounting Standards (AS) and IFRS

Accounting Standards provide the framework and norms to be followed in accounting so that the financial statements of different enterprises become comparable. It is necessary to standardise the accounting principles to ensure consistency, comparability, adequacy and reliability of financial reporting.

In the words of Kohler : “Accounting standards are codes of conduct imposed by customs, laws or professional bodies for the benefit of public accountants and accountants generally”.

Thus, Accounting Standards are written policy documents issued by the expert accounting body or by government or other regulatory body covering the aspects of recognition, measurement, treatment, presentation and disclosure of accounting transactions and events in the financial statements.

Need for accounting standards :

The need for accounting standards is as follows:

- i) To promote better understanding of financial statements.
- ii) To help accountants to follow uniform procedures and practices.
- iii) To facilitate meaningful comparison of financial statements of two or more entities.
- iv) To enhance reliability of financial statements.
- v) To meet the legal requirements effectively.

International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS)

International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) are issued by the International Accounting Standard Board (IASB). IFRS is a set of International Accounting Standards stating how particular types of transactions and other events should be reported in financial statements. IFRS are issued to develop Accounting Standards that would be acceptable worldwide and to improve financial reporting internationally.

Accounting Standards in India

In India, Standards of Accounting is issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). The Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India constituted Accounting Standards Board (ASB) on 21st April, 1977 recognising the need for Accounting Standards in India. ASB. Formulates Accounting Standards so that such standards may be established by the Council of the Institute in India. The ASB will consider the applicable law, custom, usage, business environment and the International Accounting Standards while framing Accounting Standards (AS) in India.

Due to globalisation, the accounts prepared in India must be compatible with accounts prepared in other countries. This has resulted in the existing AS being converged with the IFRS. This convergence has resulted in what is known as Ind AS. Ind AS are basically the International Accounting Standards which have been modified in accordance with Indian accounting practices, customs and traditions. Presently, all big companies have to follow Ind AS rules, but smaller business units are allowed to continue using AS. In future, it is expected that all business entities in India will migrate to Ind AS.

Some Accounting Standards (AS): The Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India has so far issued thirty one accounting standards. Some of these Accounting Standards are explained below

1) AS-1 Disclosure of Accounting Policies (1-4-1991 for Companies and 1-4-1993 for others)

According to this standard the accounting policies followed in the preparation and presentation of financial statements should form a part of the financial statements and normally be disclosed in one place.

2) AS-2 Valuation of Inventories (1-4-1999)

According to this standard inventories in general should be valued at lower of historical cost and net realizable cost.

3) AS-3 Cash Flow Statements (1-4-2001)

According to this standard a cash flow statement is prepared and presented for the period for which the profit and loss account is prepared.

4) AS-6 Depreciation Accounting (1-4-1995)

According to this standard the depreciation amount of an asset should be allocated on a systematic basis for each accounting period during the useful life of an asset.

5) AS-8 Accounting for Research and Development (1-4-1991 for Companies and 1-4-1993 for others)

According to this standard, the amount of research and development costs should be charged as an expense of the period in which they are actually incurred.

6) AS-9 Revenue Recognition(1-4-1991 for Companies and 1-4-1993 for others)

This standard deals with the basis required for recognition of revenue items in the Profit and Loss Account of an enterprise. It lays down conditions to recognize revenues that arise from the various transactions of an enterprise.

- 7) AS-10 Accounting for Fixed Assets(1-4-1991 for Companies and 1-4-1993 for others)
According to this standard, the cost of fixed assets should comprise of the original cost and any attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working conditions for its intended use. The fixed assets should be eliminated from the financial statement on disposal or when no further benefit is expected from their use.
- 8) As-12 Accounting for Government Grants(1-4-1994)
According to this, standard, government grants should be recognized when there is an assurance that the enterprise will comply with the conditions attached to them.
- 9) As-13 Accounting for Investments (1-4-1995)
According to this standard, an enterprise should disclose the current and long term investments distinction in its financial statements. Current investments should be carried in the financial statements at the lower cost or fair value. However long term investments should always be carried in the financial statements at the cost price.
- 10) AS-22 Accounting for Taxes on Income (1-4-2001)
According to this standard, tax expenses for the period comprising current tax and deferred tax should be included in the determination of the net profit or loss for the period.

2.1 Meaning and Definition of Double Entry Book-Keeping:

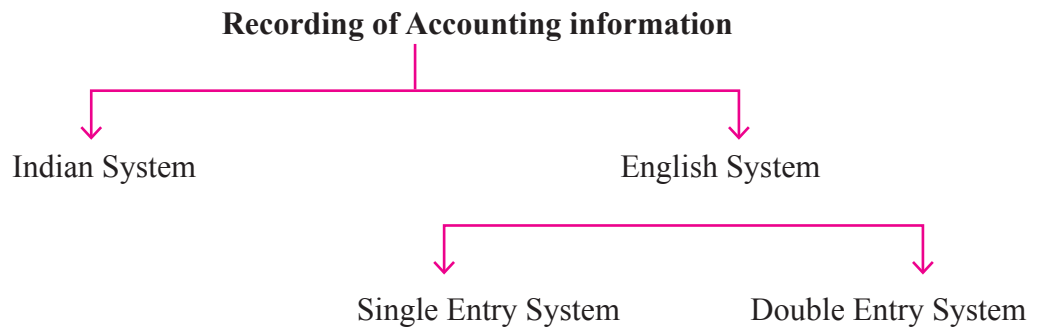

Double Entry Book-keeping System is the most scientific method of recording all monetary transactions in the books of accounts. This system owes its origin to Italian Merchant “LUCA D. BARGO PACIOLI” on 10th November 1494 and this day is celebrated as International Accounting Day. This system of Book-keeping is based on the fact that there are two aspects of every business transactions. Every business transaction involves two persons or accounts or parties where in one is the receiver of the benefit and the other is the giver of the benefit. If something comes into the business, something goes out from the business. Recording of two aspects of monetary transactions in the Books of Account in terms of Debit (Dr.) and Credit (Cr.) is called as "Double Entry" System of Book-keeping.

LUCA D. BARGO PACIOLI

According to modern approach, every business transaction is concerned with Assets, Liabilities, Capital, Expenses and Income. Whenever there is an increase in assets and expenses it is debited and decrease in assets and expenses are credited.

2.2 Methods of Recording accounting information:

1) Indian System:

Indian system maintains, records in Indian languages, such as Marathi, Hindi, Urdu, Gujrati etc. It is called Mahajani Deshinama system. In this system transactions are recorded or maintained in long books, known as Bahi-Khata and Kird. This system of accounting is not based on Double Entry system of accounting. Thus, is not a scientific accounting system. Even today this system is used in India for small business organization.

2) English System:

A) Single Entry System:

This system of accounting records only Cash book and Personal accounts. It is unscientific method and also known as an incomplete recording system, because it changes with the convenience of business for recording transactions. This system of accounting does not provide accurate information about the financial position of business and it is suitable for small business.

B) Double Entry System:

Double Entry System is the most scientific method of recording all business transactions in the books of accounts. Under this system double or two fold effects of each transaction is recorded.

According to Double Entry Book-keeping System, one account is to be debited and another account is to be credited with equal amount.

Every debit has an equal and corresponding credit of the same amount is the basic principle of Double Entry System.

Important Elements of Double Entry Book-keeping System:

Definition of Double Entry System

Definition of Double Entry System is as follows-

“Every business transaction has a two fold effect and that it affects two accounts in opposite directions and if a complete record is to be made of each such transaction it would be necessary to debit one account and credit another account. It is this recording of two fold effect of every transaction that has given rise to the term Double Entry.” – J.R. Batliboi.

Principles of Double Entry Book-keeping System:

- 1) In every business transaction there must be minimum two effects i.e debit and credit.
- 2) Two Accounts means one is the Receiver of the benefit and other is the Giver of the benefit.
- 3) If one account is debited other account must be credited.
- 4) Every debit has a equal and corresponding credit of the same amount.

2.3 Advantages of Double Entry Book-keeping System:

1) Complete Record:

Under this system all business transactions are recorded. This method is scientific and records both the aspects of each transaction.

2) Accuracy:

In this system both aspects are recorded in the books of accounts so it gives complete accuracy in accounting work. It also checks arithmetical accuracy.

3) Business Results:

All expenses, losses, income, gains, liabilities, assets, debtors and creditors all these transactions are recorded, therefore it helps to find out accurate business results of particular accounting period.

4) Common Acceptance:

It is widely accepted since it follows universal accounting principles. Double Entry System is accepted by financial institutions, government authorities etc.

Conventional Accounting System (Traditional):

Conventional Accounting System is based on practicability. Accounting convention means rules which by common agreement are used in accounting. However, there is no clear information of rules between concepts and convention.

Indian system of accounting is the example of conventional accounting. This system does not follow principles of double entry system. It is incomplete system of recording the business transactions.

2.4 Classification of Accounts :-

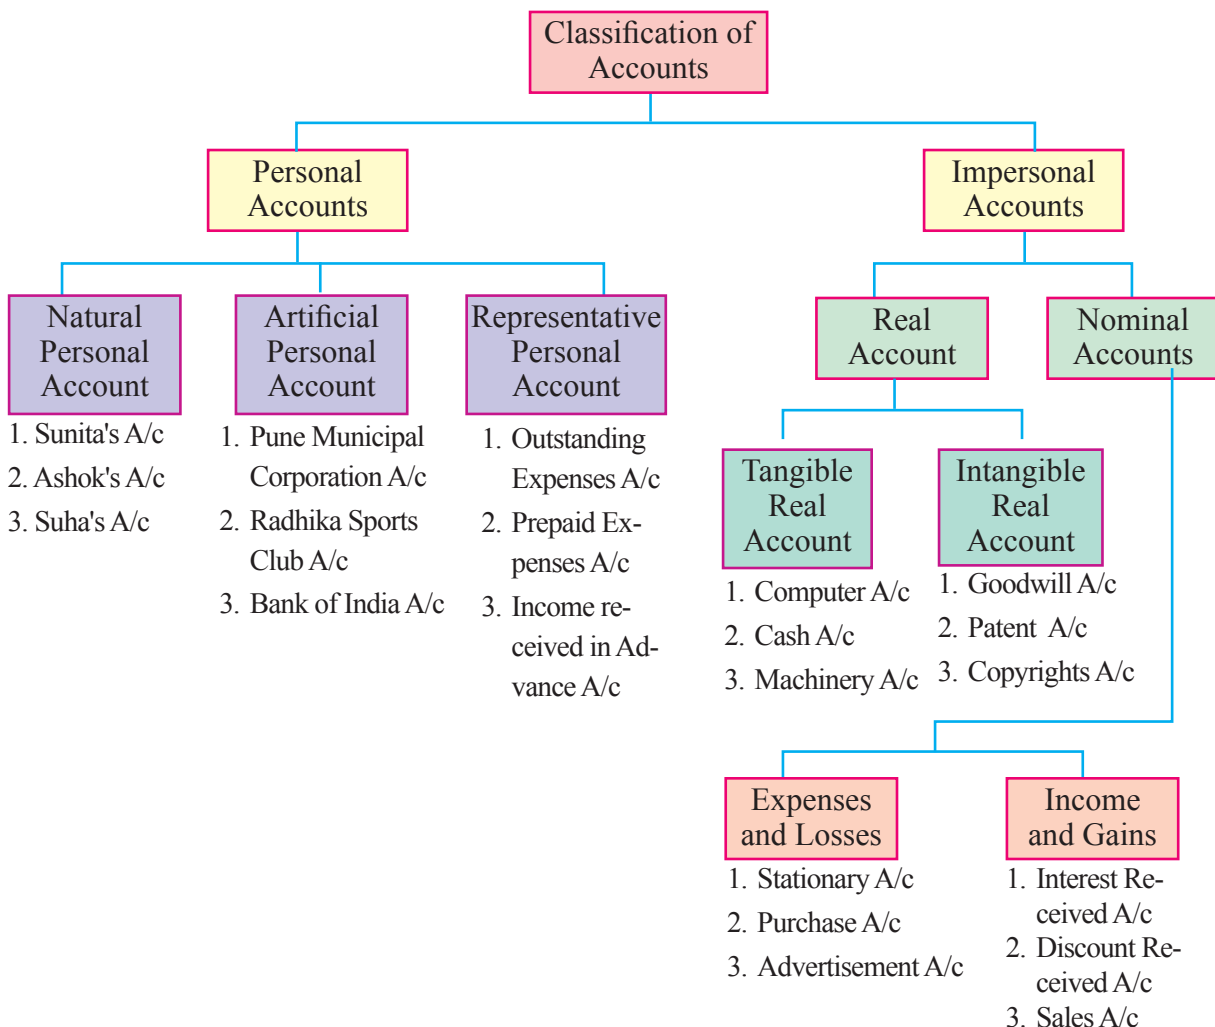

Meaning of Account:

An account is a summarized record of transactions relating to a particular person, asset, liability, particular head of expense or income recorded at one place. In day to day business activity large number of business transactions takes place. It affects the several accounts. At the end of certain period of time, it is necessary for the businessman to balance the accounts to find out the information. like total capital, total liabilities and assets , total incomes and expenses etc. of the business.

Definition of Account:

“An account is summarized record of transactions affecting one person, one kind of property or one class of gain or loss.” – G.R.Batliboi

“An account is a ledger record in a summarized form of all the transactions that have taken place with the particular person or thing specified.” – Carter

Each type of accounts is explained below with examples-

2.8 Accounting Equations:

Accounting equation signifies that assets of a business are always equal to the total of its liabilities and capital.

The equation is expressed as follows-

$$\text{Assets} = \text{Liabilities} + \text{Capital}$$

The fundamental equation gives the foundation to the Double Entry Book-keeping system.

Following are the equations-

$$\text{Capital} = \text{Total Assets} - \text{Outsider's Liabilities}$$

$$\text{Assets} = \text{Capital} + \text{Outsiders Liabilities}$$

$$\text{Assets} = \text{Liabilities}$$

Example:-

1. Rahul started business with Cash ₹50,000.

The accounting equation will be-

$$\begin{aligned}\text{Assets} &= \text{Capital} + \text{Liabilities} \\ \text{Cash} &= \text{Capital} + \text{Liabilities} \\ ₹50,000 &= ₹50,000 + 0 \\ ₹50,000 &= ₹50,000\end{aligned}$$

2. Rahul purchased Machinery from H.P. Co. on credit of ₹10,000.

The accounting equation will be-

$$\begin{aligned}\text{Assets} &= \text{Capital} + \text{Liabilities} \\ \text{Cash} + \text{Machinery} &= \text{Capital} + \text{Sundry Creditors} \\ ₹50,000 + ₹10,000 &= ₹50,000 + ₹10,000 \\ ₹60,000 &= ₹60,000\end{aligned}$$

3. Rahul purchased goods ₹20,000.

The accounting equation will be-

$$\begin{aligned}\text{Assets} &= \text{Capital} + \text{Liabilities} \\ \text{Cash} + \text{Machinery} + \text{Stock} &= \text{Capital} + \text{Sundry Creditors} \\ \text{Old Bal.} ₹50,000 + ₹10,000 + 0 &= ₹50,000 + ₹10,000 \\ \text{New Transaction} ₹30,000 + ₹10,000 + ₹20,000 &= ₹50,000 + ₹10,000 \\ \text{New Balance.} ₹30,000 + ₹10,000 + ₹20,000 &= ₹50,000 + ₹10,000 \\ ₹60,000 &= ₹60,000\end{aligned}$$

3.1 Introduction:

Book Keeping records all day to day business transactions on the basis of supporting documents. The word 'document means a piece of paper which provides detailed information as a legal nature . Document is a legal proof for recording every transaction e.g. when we purchase computer for cash ₹30,000 we get the cash memo , this cash memo is a source document. The person or accountant first ensure the reliability and legal proof of the transactions recorded in the books of accounts .Every entry in books of accounts is supported by the relevant documentary evidence . These papers are called 'Accounting documents' . The accounting documents are the base for entering business transactions into the books of accounts

Importance and utility of Accounting documents

1. Documents are necessary for recording all transactions into the books of accounts.
2. The accounting transactions are recorded in proper mode and computer based.
3. Accounting documents are stored in physical files or in software.
4. Accounting documents are legal evidence for court matters.
5. Accounting documents are required for charity commissioner's office.
6. Accounting documents are required for payments of state government and local body authority.

The most important Accounting Documents for recording transactions in Journal are as follows :

VOUCHER :

Voucher is a document that supports a payment made by the businessmen . It is a legal evidence that certain sum of money has been paid to a specific person or party. There are different types of vouchers prepared by the businessmen e.g. Cash voucher, Bank voucher, Purchase vouchers, Sales Vouchers, Travel bills, Wages bill, Salaries bill etc.

There are two types of vouchers internal voucher and external voucher.

Internal vouchers: The internal vouchers are documents prepared internally by an organisation. The voucher which is created by the business itself and signed by the payee is called as an internal voucher. It is prepared when we cannot get receipt as proof for such a transactions. e.g. Taxi fare, Bus fare, Auto fare etc.

External voucher: These vouchers are documents generated from outside the business. It is a document received from an outside agency regarding the business transactions. e.g. Tax Invoice received from the seller for the purchase of goods or stationary, Receipt of electricity bills paid, Debit Note, Credit Note, Cash memo etc.

Journal voucher: Journal voucher is basic/original voucher on the basis of which the transactions should be Journalised in journal book.

3.3 Writing of Journal Entries

1. Simple Journal Entry:

In a simple entry, only two accounts are affected, one account is debited and the other is credited. Few transactions are given below for Simple Journal Entries. The process of journalising can be explained with the following illustration.

Illustration-A

Process of Journalising:

Transactions	Two effect	Two Accounts	Types of Account	Rules Applicable	A/c to be Debited	A/c to be Credited
1. Started business with Cash ₹ 1,00,000	Cash comes in to the business Proprietor is the giver of benefit..	Cash A/c Capital A/c	Real A/c Personal A/c	Dr. what comes in Cr. the giver	Cash A/c	Capital A.c
2. Purchased Computer of ₹ 20,000 for Cash.	Computer comes in Cash goes out	Computer A/c Cash A/c	Real A/c Real A/c	Dr. what comes in Cr. what goes out	Computer A/c	Cash A/c
3. Paid for Wages ₹ 9,000	Wages is an expenses Cash goes out	Wages A/c Cash A/c	Nominal A/c Real A/c	Dr. the expenses/ losses Cr. what goes out	Wages A/c	Cash A/c

Journalise the following transactions in the books of Narendra General Stores

- 2019 April 1 Narendra commenced business with Cash ₹ 80,000
 3 Purchased goods from Kiran ₹ 40,000 on credit
 5 Paid rent ₹ 2,000
 10 Sold goods to Mr. Vikas ₹ 5,500 on credit

- 15 Purchased Furniture of ₹ 30,000 @ GST 18%
 18 Received a Bearer Cheque of ₹ 25,000 from Mr. Vikas
 21 Paid to Kiran by Cheque of Dena Bank ₹ 20,000
 30 Paid Salary ₹ 5000

Solution:

In the books of Narendra Journal with classification of Accounts

Date	Particulars	Type of Account	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
2019 April 1	Cash A/c Dr. To Capital A/c (Being started business with cash)	Real A/c Personal A/c		80,000	80,000
3	Purchases A/c Dr. To Kiran's A/c (Being purchased goods from Kiran on credit)	Nominal A/c Personal A/c		40,000	40,000
5	Rent A/c Dr. To Cash A/c (Being paid for Rent)	Nominal A/c Real A/c		2,000	2,000
10	Vikas's A/c Dr. To Sales A/c (Being sold goods to Vikas on credit)	Personal A/c Nominal A/c		55,000	55,000
15	Furniture A/c Dr. Input CGST A/c Dr. Input SGST A/c Dr. To Cash A/c (Being purchased Furniture @ 18% GST)	Real A/c Nominal A/c Nominal A/c Real A/c		30,000 2,700 2,700	35,400
18	Cash A/c Dr. To Vikas's A/c (Being received bearer cheque from Vikas)	Real A/c Personal A/c		25,000	25,000
21	Kiran's A/c Dr. To Dena Bank A/c (Being paid to Kiran by Cheque)	Personal A/c Personal A/c		20,000	20,000
30	Salary A/c Dr. To Cash A/c (Being paid for salary)	Nominal A/c Real A/c		5,000	5,000
	Total			2,62,400	2,62,400

Explanatory Note:

1. Entry on April 18

A bearer cheque is received from Vikas. Bearer cheque received is treated as cash received. [Real A/c] and Vikas is giver [Personal A/c], Cash A/c is debited and Vikas A/c is credited.

2. Entry on April 21

The amount of cheque ₹ 20,000 will be paid by Dena Bank to Kiran who is receiver [Personal A/c] hence Kiran's A/c is debited and Bank A/c is credited.

Discount :

Discount means an allowance or concession given by the seller of goods to the purchaser. There are two types of discount: i) Trade Discount and ii) Cash Discount

- i) Trade Discount: It is an allowance given on printed list price of goods. This discount is allowed at the time of Purchase / Sale of goods on cash as well as credit transactions. Trade discount is not recorded in the books of accounts Example : Amar bought goods worth ₹ 20,000 from Rakesh at 10% trade discount.

Journal Entry in the Books of Amar (Buyer)

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
Year Month/ Date	Purchases A/c Dr. To Rakesh's A/c (Being bought goods from Rakesh at 10% trade discount)		18,000	18,000

Journal Entry in the Books of Rakesh (Seller)

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
Year Month/ Date	Amar A/c Dr. To Sales A/c (Being sold goods to Amar at 10% discount)		18,000	18,000

- ii) Cash Discount: It is the concession given to encourage prompt payment .

Discount is a Nominal Account. Cash discount is a loss to the receiver of cash and a gain to the giver of cash. Therefore, whenever cash discount is allowed, discount allowed account should be debited in the books of the person who receives cash and discount received account should be credited in the books of the person who pays cash. It is to be calculated after deducting Trade discount i.e. on invoice price. It is recorded in the books of accounts.

Example 1: Received from Kartik ₹ 1,900 and allowed him discount ₹ 100

Journal entry

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
Year Month/ Date	Cash A/c Dr. Discount Allowed A/c Dr. To Kartik's A/c (Being cash received and discount allowed)		1,900 100	2,000
	Total		2,000	2,000

Example 2: Paid to Chanda ₹ 980 who allowed us discount ₹ 20

Journal entry

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
Year Month/ Date	Chanda's A/c Dr. To Cash A/c To Discount Received A/c (Being cash paid and discount received)		1,000	980 20
	Total		1,000	1,000

2) Combined Journal Entry

In many of transactions, more than two accounts are affected.

A Journal Entry which contains more than one debit or more than one credit or both is called as a combined /compound Journal Entry.

Thus, in a combined Journal Entry.

- (i) Several accounts are debited and one account is credited.
- (ii) One account is debited and several accounts are credited.
- (iii) More than one account is debited and more than one account is credited.

Example1: Simple entry and combined entry transaction :

Started business with Cash ₹ 150,000 Goods, ₹ 30,000 and Laptop ₹ 50,000.

Simple entry		Combined entry
A) Cash A/c	Dr 1,50,000	Cash A/c	Dr 1,50,000
	To Capital A/c 150,000	Stock of goods A/c	Dr 30,000
B) Stock of goods A/c	Dr 30,000	Laptop A/c	Dr 50,000
	To Capital A/c 30,000	To Capital A/c	2.30,000
C) Laptop A/c	Dr 50,000	(Being started business with cash, goods and laptop)
	To Capital A/c 50,000

In the above three simple entries capital A/c is commonly credited.

Example 2: Transaction :Sold goods worth ₹30,000 to Kishor who paid us ₹10,000 on account.

Simple entry		Combined entry
A) Kishor's A/c	Dr 30,000	Cash A/c	Dr 10,000
To Sales A/c	30,000	Kishor's A/c	Dr 20,000
B) Cash A/c	Dr 10,000	To Sales A/c	30,000
To Kishor A/c	10,000	(Being goods sold to Kishor and part payment received)

In the above two simple entries Kishor's A/c is debited by ₹ 30,000 and subsequently credited by ₹10,000 . The net effect is that Kishor's A/c is debited by ₹20,000 which is shown in a combined entry.

Example 2: : Paid Wages ₹5000 and Salaries ₹2000 = Wages A/c Dr 5,000
Salaries A/c Dr 2,000
To Cash A/c 7,000

Example 3: Received Commission ₹ 700 and Dividend ₹500 = Cash A/c Dr 1,200
To Commission Received A/c 700
To Dividend Received A/c 500

Introduction

In the process of accounting, all the business transactions are recorded in chronological order in Journal. These business transactions are recorded in proper books of accounts. The books of accounts can be grouped as follows:

We are aware that all types of business transactions are recorded in Journal e.g. Transactions related to assets, liabilities, expenses, income, cash or credit etc.

At the end of the particular period if we want to know what is the total amount spent on particular type of expense, or what is the amount payable to particular person /party? These types of questions cannot be answered easily through Journal. So to overcome these limitations of Journal we need Ledger. A Ledger is called as the main Book of Accounts. Once the transactions are recorded in Journal or Subsidiary books the next stage is the transfer of those transactions in their respective accounts opened in the Ledger.

4.1 Meaning and Importance of Ledger

Meaning and Definitions :

Ledger is the Principal Book of accounts. It is also called as book of final entry. It is summarised record which contains all the accounts e.g. Assets A/c, Liabilities A/c, Capital A/c, Revenue A/c, Expenses A/c.

The word 'LEDGER' is derived from Latin word 'Ledger' which means 'to contain' As the ledger is the collection of all the accounts so 'it contains' and hence the name signifies.

1. "A Ledger Account may be defined as a summary, statement of all the transactions relating to persons, assets, expenses or incomes which have taken place during a given period to time and shows their net effect".- S. P. Jain, K. L. Narang –Advanced Accountancy
2. "Main record of the accounts of a business, traditionally, a ledger was a large book with separate pages for each account. In modern systems ledger may consist of separate cards or computer records"- Oxford Dictionary
3. "A Ledger containing accounts in which all the transactions of a business enterprises or other accounting units are classified either in detail or in summary form"- E. L. Kohler- A Dictionary for Accountants

Importance of Ledger

1. It is the summarised record of all the transactions in form of Asset A/c, Liabilities A/c, Expenses A/c, Income A/c etc.
2. The ultimate object of Book-Keeping is to ascertain with the least trouble, what is the amount owed to the supplier, what is the amount receivable from the customer and so on. In the process of posting information collected is condensed in form of Debtors A/c ,Creditors A/c to get the ready results
3. It is necessary for preparation of Trial Balance.
4. The financial position of the business can be easily known with the help of various types of Assets A/c and Liabilities A/c
5. It is possible to prepare various types of income statement on the basis of balances shown by different ledger Accounts.
6. Ledger can be used as a control tool as it shows accounts of various expenses with the balance.
7. On the basis of the results shown in the Ledger it is useful for the management to forecast or plan the future plan of action.

Contents of Ledger

Ledger is a bound book which contains several pages. Each page of a ledger is serially numbered. For each account separate page is allotted. The page number of the ledger is called as 'Ledger Folio' (L.F.) Each ledger account is divided into two sides. The left side is known as debit side and the right side is known as credit side. This is indicated by writing the abbreviations 'Dr.' on the left side top corner and 'Cr.' on the right side top corner.

Every Ledger has an index. Index is prepared in the alphabetical order. The page number on which a particular account appears is shown against the name of the account shown in index. This facilitates quick reference.

Both the sides of the ledger have four columns. These columns are:-

- 1) Date: In this column the date of the transaction is written. The year, month and date should be clearly mentioned.
- 2) Particulars: In this column, the name of the account in which the corresponding credit or debit is found under double entry principle will be mentioned. The posting on the debit side begins with 'To' and on the credit side with 'By'.

- 3) Journal Folio (J.F.): Folio means page number. In Journal Folio (J.F.) column, page number of journal from where we have transferred the entry into Ledger is to be written.
- 4) Amount: In the column, the amount for which an account is debited or credited is entered.

4.3 Posting of entries from Journal/Subsidiary books to Ledger

Transactions are recorded in various books of original entry as and when they occur. From the books of original entry, the necessary records in the Ledger are made. The process of transferring entries from the Journal or Subsidiary Books into the appropriate account in the Ledger is called 'Posting'.

The Recording process:

The process of recording transactions in the Ledger involves the following steps:

- 1) From the Journal entries, ledger posting is to be done.
- 2) Open the necessary ledger accounts with proper headings.
- 3) If the opening balance of ledger account is given, it should be posted first, either as 'To balance b/d' or 'By balance b/d'
- 4) For posting the transactions into the ledger account, first write the date of the transaction in the date column.
- 5) In the particular column on the debit side of the ledger account the name of the account credited in the entry is written and on the credit side of ledger account, the name of the account to be debited in the entry is written.

Currently there are three types of GSTs applicable

- 1) SGST- State Goods and Service Tax
- 2) CGST-Central Goods and Service Tax
- 3) IGST– Integrated GST.

* Rate applicable to different types of goods and services subject to change according to Government policies.

Posting of entries from Subsidiary Books

1) Posting from Cash Book

Separate column of Cash and Bank will serve as Cash A/c and Bank A/c.

So no need to open Cash A/c and Bank A/c, as the Cash Book serves the purpose of Journal as well as Ledger. Entries posted on the debit side of the Cash Book are posted on credit side of Personal A/c ,Real A/c or Nominal A/c . In the same way entries which are posted on credit side of Cash Book are shown on debit side of those ledger accounts.

Posting from Petty Cash Book

Initially main cashier hands over some cash to petty cashier for that entry is Petty Cash A/cDr.

 To Cash/Bank A/c

Petty cashier will spend for all petty expenses from available cash. To record these various expenses journal entry will be Individual Expenses A/cDr.

 To Petty cash A/c

Taking imaginary expenses head, the Journal Entry would be :

Travelling & Conveyance A/cDr.

Balancing of Ledger Accounts

Balancing of Ledger accounts means totalling both the sides of Ledger Account, finding the difference between greater total and smaller total and recording the difference on the smaller side

Steps for balancing the ledger accounts

- 1) Take the totals of both the sides i.e Debit and Credit.
- 2) Find out the difference between both the sides.
- 3) If the debit side total is more than the credit side then difference will be shown on credit side as 'By Balance c/d' in particulars column and difference amount is shown in amount column.
- 4) Same way if the credit side total is higher than the debit side total then the difference amount is shown on debit side as 'To Balance c/d' in particulars column and difference amount is shown in amount column.
- 5) These closing balances of different ledger accounts are shown as Opening Balances for the next period. Closing balance shown on debit side of ledger account will be shown as Opening Balance on the credit side at the beginning of the period as 'By Balance b/d'
- 6) Closing Balance shown on credit side of ledger account will be shown on debit side of the account as Opening Balance at the beginning of the period as 'To Balance b/d'

Do you know?????

If the total of debit side of the account is higher than the total of credit side the account is said to have Debit balance and vice-versa.

4.4 Balancing of Ledger Accounts

1. Personal Account
2. Real Account
3. Nominal Account

Balancing of Personal Account

These accounts may have debit balance or credit balance or nil balance. A personal account having debit balance is a Debtor and credit balance is a Creditor. Balance of these accounts is carried forward.

a) Debit balance: If the debit side total of ledger Account is more than the credit side total it indicates a debit balance.

4.5 Preparation of Trial Balance

Trial Balance

A Trial balance is an abstract or list of all the ledger accounts as on a specific date showing debit and credit balances of all Ledger Accounts. Usually, Trial Balance is prepared at the end of the financial year. However it can be prepared periodically depending upon requirement of the business. It is prepared to ascertain the arithmetical accuracy of Books of Accounts.

Types of Trial Balance:

- (1) Gross Trial Balance: In this type of Trial Balance total of debit side of a particular account is shown in the debit column of the Trial Balance and total of credit side of a particular account is shown in the credit column of the Trial Balance. It is not in common use as it does not disclose the balance of each account.
- (2) Net Trial Balance: In this type of Trial Balance only the balances of each ledger account are shown against its name. If an account shows a credit balance then its balance is recorded in the credit amount column and vice versa. this Trial Balance is used in practice

Methods of preparing Trial Balance:

There are two methods of preparing Trial Balance

- (1) Vertical or Journal form of Trial Balance
- (2) Horizontal or Ledger form of Trial Balance

Format of Vertical / Journal form of Trial Balance

Trial Balance as on.....

Sr. No.	Head of Accounts	L.F.	Debit (₹)	Credit (₹)

Format of Horizontal / Ledger form of Trial Balance

Trial Balance as on.....

Sr. No.	Debit Balances	L.F.	Amt (₹)	Sr. No.	Credit Balances	L.F.	Amt (₹)

Utility of a Trial Balance:

- 1) It shows balances of different Ledger accounts.
- 2) It proves arithmetical accuracy of Books of Accounts.
- 3) It helps to prepare Final Accounts of a business.

5.1 Introduction

A small business may be able to record all transactions in single Journal but as the business expands the number of transactions becomes so large, that the Journal is required to be sub-divided into Special Journals which are called Subsidiary Books.

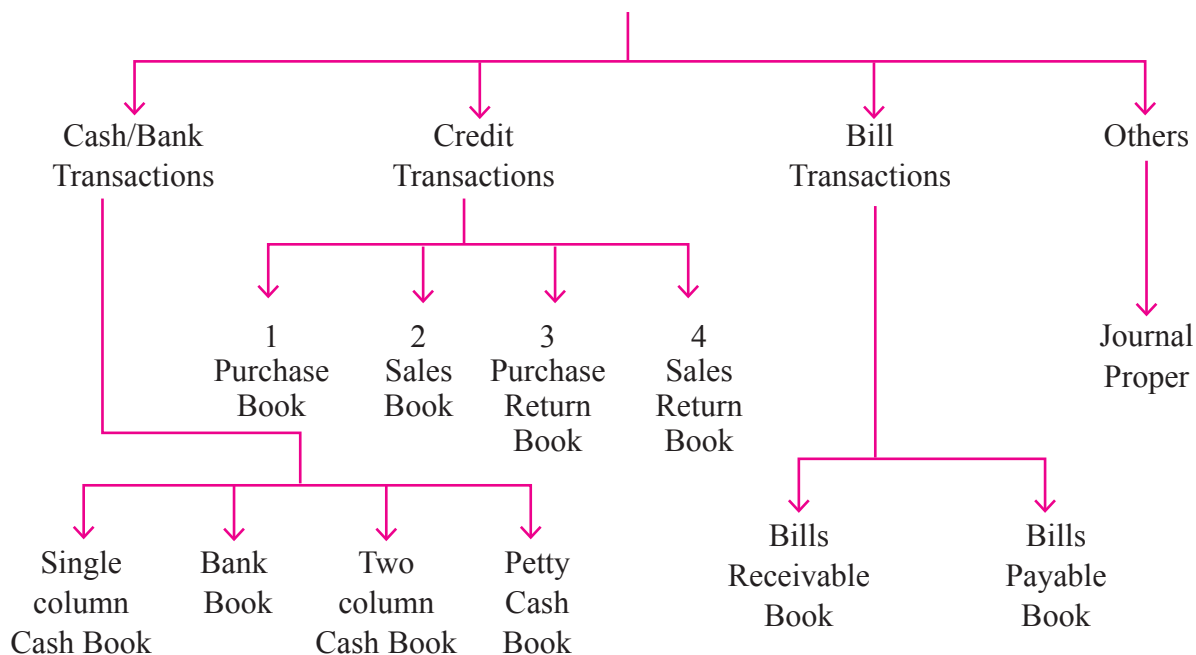

Meaning : The sub division of Journal on the basis of nature of transaction is known as Subsidiary Books. These books are also called as Books of Original entries or Prime entries because the transactions are first recorded in Subsidiary Books and then posted in the Ledger.

Need for maintaining Subsidiary Books :

- 1) Specialisation : When the staff is appointed for same type of work it leads to specialisation and increase in efficiency.

- 2) Time saving and economical : Different accounting procedures can be taken up at the same time. This will save time and prove to be economical.
- 3) Division of work : The writing of Subsidiary Books can be conveniently divided among different clerks. Hence it is easy to keep the Books upto date.
- 4) Quick information and future reference : Subsidiary Books gives quick information relating to the accounts and makes future reference easy.
- 5) Internal check : Verification of correctness can be made more effectively.

Types of Subsidiary Books on the basis of transaction :

Following are the important Subsidiary Books.

- 1) Cash Book.
- 2) Petty Cash Book.
- 3) Purchase Book
- 4) Purchase Return Books (Return Outward Book)
- 5) Sales Book
- 6) Sales Return Book (Return Inward Book)
- 7) Journal Proper

5.2 Cash Book :

All Cash and Bank transactions are recorded in the Cash Book. The Cash Book has two sides where the left hand side is Receipt Side (Debit-side) and the right hand side is Payment Side (Credit side). When amount is received details are recorded on the Receipt side and when payments are made details are recorded on the Payment side. Cash Book a Journal since it is a Book of Original entries and it also a ledger since it constitutes a classified record of all cash transactions in the form of Ledger and helps in finding out Cash and Bank balance at the end of particular accounting period. Thus, it can be said that cash book serves dual purpose of journal as well as ledger.

5.3 Two column Cash Book (Cash Book with Cash and Bank column)

Bank plays an important role in providing various services to traders. It accepts deposits from customers and allows withdrawals by way of cash or cheque or various net banking transactions. In addition to this bank provides a number of functions, like, payment by cheques and drafts, loan facility, cash credit, collection of cheques and above all safety of cash. Moreover, when a trader opens a current account with the bank he can avail Overdraft facility.

A businessman who indulges in a number of banking transactions opens a Current Account with the bank to take the advantage of Overdraft facility.

5.3.1 Columns in Cash Book with Cash and Bank columns :

Cash book with Cash and Bank columns has one additional column on receipt side and payment side along with cash column. This column is known as 'Bank' column. Only banking transactions are recorded in this column. Bank column represents the Bank Current Account.

5.3.2 Format of Cash Book with Cash and Bank columns :

In the books of -----
Two column Cash Book

Date	Receipts	R.No.	L.F.	Cash (₹)	Bank (₹)	Date	Payments	V.No.	L.F.	Cash (₹)	Bank (₹)

5.3.3 Accounting treatment of banking transactions in Cash Book with Cash and Bank columns :

1. Opening balance of bank account : When total of receipt side (debit side) is greater than the total of payment side (credit side) it is known as debit balance. When total of payment side (credit side) is greater than the total of receipt side (debit side) it is known as credit balance. Bank account is a personal account therefore; it can have debit balance or credit balance. Credit balance in bank account means 'Bank Overdraft'.
 - (a) When debit balance of Bank account is given : When debit balance of Bank account is given it will appear on the receipt side of cash book in the Bank column as : "To Balance b/d"
 - (b) When credit balance of bank account is given or Overdraft in bank account is given: Credit balance of bank is known as overdraft. Overdraft is a situation when amount withdrawn by account holder exceeds deposits in current account. It is a short term loan given by bank to current account holders. It is recorded on the payment side of the cash book in the bank column as under "By Balance b/d".
2. Cheque received : Cheques can be received for cash sales, commission, dividend, interest or settlement of accounts by debtors.
 - (a) Crossed cheque received : When crossed cheque is received, it is recorded, on receipt side of cash book in the bank column as "To Sales/Asset/Income/Debtor's A/c"

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr

To Sales/Asset/Income/Debtor's A/c

(b) Interest allowed by bank : Bank allows interest on bank deposits, this is income for the trader and therefore increases the balance in bank. It is recorded on the receipt side in the bank column as "To Interest A/c"

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr
To Interest A/c

(c) Interest charged on overdraft debited by bank : Overdraft facility is a short term loan given to current account holders. Bank charges certain percentage of interest on overdraft amount which is expenditure to the trader. It is recorded on the payment side in the bank column as "By Interest on overdraft A/c"

Journal entry : Interest on overdraft A/c.....Dr
To Bank A/c

(d) Bank charges debited by bank : Certain amount is charged by the bank for services rendered by them. This is known as bank charges. Bank charges are expenditure for the trader and are recorded on the payment side in the bank column as "By Bank Charges A/c"

Journal entry : Bank Charges A/c.....Dr
To Bank A/c

(e) Dividend or interest on investment collected by bank on behalf of trader : This is income of trader collected by the bank. On receiving an advice or statement from Bank, the trader records this transaction on the receipt side in the bank column as "To Interest on Investment A/c / Dividend A/c"

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr
To Interest on Investment or Dividend A/c

(g) Payment made by Bank under the standing instruction given by trader : As per the standing instructions given to Bank, the Bank makes payments of Insurance premium, Telephone bill, Electricity bills and other expenses on behalf of trader. This is recorded on the payment side in the bank column as "By Respective Expenses A/c"

Journal entry : Respective Expenses A/c.....Dr
To Bank A/c

4. Transfer of amount : In addition to Current Account, a businessman may have Credit or a Loan amount with the bank to meet his financial requirements. He can transfer money from Cash credit or Loan account to Current account or from Current account to Cash Credit or Loan account. Similarly amount can be transferred from Personal Savings Account to Current Account or from the Current Account to Personal Account. The treatments for these transactions are as under.

(a) From Cash Credit or Loan Account to Current Account : This transaction increases the current account balance and is therefore recorded on the receipt side in the bank column as "To Cash Credit or Loan A/c"

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr
To Cash credit/Loan A/c

(b) From Current Account to Cash Credit or Loan Account : This transaction decreases the current account balance and is therefore recorded on the payment side in the bank column as "By Cash Credit or Loan A/c"

Journal entry : Cash Credit/Loan A/c.....Dr
To Bank A/c

(c) From Personal Saving account to Current Account : This is additional cash brought into business by the trader. It increases the capital balance and current account balance and is recorded on the receipt side in the bank column as "To Capital A/c"

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr
To Capital A/c

(d) From current account to personal savings Account : This is drawings of the proprietor. It decreases the current account balance and is recorded the payment side in the bank column as "By Drawings A/c"

Journal entry : Drawings A/c.....Dr
To Bank A/c

5. Contra Entries : Certain transaction affects Cash Account and Bank Account simultaneously but with opposite effect. It may decrease the cash balance and increase bank balance or increase the cash balance and decrease bank balance at the same time. In columnar Cash Book, Cash Account and Bank Account appear under the same heading of cash book. To record increase in bank balance, bank account is debited and to record decrease in cash balance, cash account is credited and vice versa. Entries recorded on both the sides of Cash Book are called as "Contra Entries". It occurs only when Cash Account and Bank Account are simultaneously affected in a transaction. Contra entries are denoted by the capital letter "C" in the Ledger Folio column.

Situations under which contra entry takes place :

1. Cash deposited into the Bank.
2. Cash withdrawn from the Bank for office use.
3. Bearer Cheque received on previous date and deposited into the Bank"

Accounting treatment for contra entries are as under :

(a) Cash deposited into the Bank : This transaction increases the bank balance and decreases the cash balance and is recorded as under : Receipt side "To Cash A/c" in the bank column.

Payment side "By Bank A/c" in the cash column.

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr
To Cash A/c

In the above transaction Bank is the receiver therefore it is debited to Cash Account. Similarly cash is going out therefore it is credited by Bank Account.

(b) Cash withdrawn from bank for office use : This transaction increases the cash balance and decreases the bank balance and is recorded as under : Receipt side "To Bank A/c" in the cash column. Payment side "By Cash A/c" in the bank column.

Journal entry : Cash A/c.....Dr
To Bank A/c

Here cash comes into the business therefore it is debited to Bank Account. Similarly bank is the giver and therefore is credited by Cash Account.

- (c) Bearer Cheque received on previous date deposited into the Bank : Bearer cheques received are treated as cash. When it is deposited into the bank for collection it is assumed that cash is going out and bank is the receiver. This transaction increases the bank balance and decreases the cash balance. It is recorded as under : Receipt side "To Cash A/c" in the bank column. Payment side "By Bank A/c" in the cash column.

Journal entry : Bank A/c.....Dr
To Cash A/c

5.3.4 Balancing of Cash Book with Cash and Bank column :

After recording all receipts and payments, the Cash Book is balanced to find out the cash balance and bank balance.

Cash column : Since the amount of cash in hand is always more than or equal to the payments, the total amount of receipt side should be more than the total amount of payment side. Total amount of payment side is deducted from the total amount of receipt side and the balance is recorded on the payment side as "By Balance c/d" in the cash column. At the beginning of the next accounting period this balance is brought down on the receipt side as "To Balance b/d" in the cash column.

Bank column : Bank account is a Personal Account. It can have debit balance or credit balance. When the total of receipt side is more than the total of payment side the difference is known as positive or normal balance. This balance is recorded on the payment side in the bank column as "By Balance c/d" At the beginning of the next accounting period this balance is brought down on the receipt side in the bank column as "To Balance b/d".

When the total amount of payment side is more than the total amount of receipt side the difference is known as bank overdraft or credit balance. This is recorded on the receipt side in the bank column as "To Balance c/d". At the beginning of the next accounting period, overdraft amount is brought down on the payment side in the bank column as "By Balance b/d".

Types of Bank Account : The following are the types of Bank Account.

1. Current Account : Current Account is suitable for businessman, since there is no restriction on number of deposits and number of withdraws or cheque payment made through current account. Generally, no interest is allowed on Current Account, but overdraft facility is available on Current Account.
2. Savings Account : A person having fixed or regular income can deposit his surplus in Saving Account. This account helps the person having limited income to develop the habit of savings. There are restrictions on withdrawals. Interest at a prescribed rate is allowed on this account. No Overdraft facility is available on this Account.
3. Fixed Deposit Account : In this account a fixed amount is deposited for a fixed period of time in order to earn higher rate of interest. The amount deposited cannot be withdrawn before expiry of that period. This account is not useful to businessman for regular banking transactions. It is useful to create time deposit and earn extra income.
4. Recurring Deposit Account : The account holder deposits fixed amount, monthly upto a particular decided period. It offers higher rate of interest as compared to Saving Bank Account and lower rate of interest as compared to fixed deposit account. Depositor is not allowed to withdraw money till its maturity.

Net cash purchases = Cash purchases 10% T.D.

= 60,000 – 6,000 = 54,000

Amount paid = Net Cash purchases - 5% C..D.

= 54000 – 5% of 54,000

= 54,000 – 2,700 = 51,300

1/2 Amount paid in cash = 51,300 x 1/2 = 25,650

Remaining amount paid by cheque = 51,300 – 25,650 = 25,650

5.4 Petty Cash Book

In large business organization the accounting work is divided systematically. There are various departments spending small amount on stationary, postage and telegram, refreshment carriage etc.

The person maintaining petty cash book is known as petty cashier. The Petty cashier is given certain amount by the main cashier as an advance at the beginning of every month from which all petty expenses are paid and recorded by petty cashier. The term petty is derived from the French word "Petit" which means "small". So this book is maintained for recording small expenses which cannot be paid by cheque.

Types of Petty Cash Book :

There are two types of Petty Cash Book which are as under :

- 1) Simple petty cash
- 2) Analytical Columnar Petty Cash Book

1) Simple Petty Cash Book :

Simple Petty Cash Book is divided into two sides Receipt side and Payment side. Cash or cheque received from head cashier is recorded in column of amount received and petty expenses paid are recorded in amount paid column. Transactions recorded in Simple Petty Cash Book are to be posted in respective Expenses A/c in Ledger. This requires additional time and labour therefore business firm do not use Simple Petty Cash Book.

From the following transactions prepare Simple Petty Cash Book

2) Analytical Petty Cash Book/Columnar Petty Cash Book :

An Analytical Petty Cash Book has two sides, left hand side for recording receipt of cash and right hand side for recording payments. Analytical Petty Cash Book has many sub columns on payment side for recording various expenses.

For example : Printing and Stationery, Postage, Carriage and Cartage etc. There is no hard and fast rule for number of columns in analytical Petty Cash Book. For example Ledger column is prepare for making payment towards Personal or Real accounts. The Petty Cashier prepares a statement stating the summary of expenses paid and submits it to the Chief cashier.

Imprest system of Petty Cash Book : Maintaining Petty Cash Book under Imprest System is the best system. Under Imprest System estimate is made for petty expenses for a certain period. Such amount is paid to Petty cashier to start with. At the end of the period he presents the accounts of payment made by him to the head cashier. After checking the account the petty cashier will be given a sum equal to the amount actually spent by him. Now the Petty cashier will start with the same amount that he had at the beginning of the previous period. The system is known as Imprest System of Petty Cash Book.

5.5 Purchase Book (Bought Day Book) :

Goods purchased on credit for manufacturing or for resale are only recorded in purchase book. Cash purchases are not recorded in purchase book. Similarly credit purchases other than goods like purchase of office equipment, furniture, stationary and building are not recorded in purchase book. For example, a business dealing in machinery spare parts will record only credit purchase of machinery spare parts in purchase book. This book is also known as Purchase Journal

Goods purchased on credit are always recorded at net value.

5.8 Sales Return Book (Return Inward Book) :

When goods sold on credit are not according to specifications, sample or are damaged in transit, buyer or debtor can return them to seller. Such return of goods sold on credit only is recorded in Sales Return Book. Return of goods sold for cash is not recorded in this book. It is also known as Sales Return Journal.

On receipt of goods from the customer, a credit note is prepared. The difference between the credit and the debit note is that the former is prepared by the seller and the later is prepared by the buyer.

- 2) Credit Note : Credit Note is a statement containing the details of the goods returned as to quantity, rate etc. The credit note indicates that the account of the person to whom the goods are returned is credited.

5.9 Journal Proper

A book maintained to record the transactions which do not find place in Special Journal (Subsidiary Books) is known as Journal Proper. Thus transactions that cannot be recorded in any particular book are recorded in Journal Proper. For example : Assets and other things except goods purchased on credit cannot be recorded in Cash Book or in Purchase Book, but these type of transactions are recorded in Journal Proper.

Following transactions are recorded in this Journal Proper

- 1. Opening Entries : In the beginning of new accounting year record of the opening balances of assets, liabilities and capital in the form of opening entries are made in Journal Proper.
- 2. Adjustment Entries : In order to update Ledger Account on accrual basis such entries are made at the end of accounting period. Such as rent outstanding, prepaid insurance, depreciation commission received in advance, etc.
- 3. Rectification Entries : To rectify errors in recording transactions in the books of original entries and their posting to ledger account Journal Proper is used.
- 4. Transfer Entries : Drawings Account is transferred to Capital Account at the end of accounting year. Expenses and Revenues which are not balanced at the time of balancing are opened to record specific transactions. Accounts relating to operation of business such as Sales, Purchases, Opening stock, Income, Gains and Expenses and Drawings are closed at the end of accounting year and their total balances are transferred to Trading and Profit and Loss Account by recording the Journal entries. These are also called closing entries.

5. Other Entries like

- a) Purchase of Assets on credit
- b) Sale of old Assets on credit.
- c) Withdrawal of goods by proprietor
- d) Bad debts written off.
- e) Loss of goods by fire or stolen or damaged in transit.
- f) Goods distributed as free sample or charity.
- g) Discount received and allowed on cash transactions.

Format of Journal Proper

Accounting treatment for transactions appearing in Journal Proper

1. Opening Entries : These entries are passed at the beginning of financial year to bring the assets and liabilities into the books of Account. All assets are debited and liabilities are credited. Excess of assets over liabilities is capital which will be credited.

i.e. $\text{Capital} = \text{Assets} - \text{Liabilities}$

$\text{Assets} = \text{Capital} + \text{Liabilities}$

Illustration 1 : Cash in hand	₹ 8,500
Cash at Bank	₹ 35,000
Plant & Machinery	₹ 1,10,000
Stock	₹ 37,000
Debtors	₹ 43,000
Creditors	₹ 32,000

Pass Opening Journal entries for the above.

Solution :

Journal Proper

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
2019 April 1	Cash A/c Dr Cash at Bank A/c Dr Plant & Machinery Dr Stock Dr Debtors Dr To Creditors A/c To Capital A/c (Being Assets & Liabilities brought down)		8,500 35,000 1,10,000 37,000 43,000	32,000 2,01,500

Note :	Total Assets	2,33,500
	Less : Total Liabilities	32,000
	Capital	2,01,500

Excess of Assets over Liabilities is Capital

2. Adjusting Entries : To calculate Profit Final Accounts are prepared at the end of accounting year on the basis of Trial Balance. Trial Balance contains balances of only those accounts which are recorded in the books of Accounts. Items like further bad-debts, depreciation of assets, closing stock, income receivable, outstanding expenses etc. do not appear in Trial Balance. Unless all these items are brought into the books of accounts. Final Accounts will not disclose accurate result. Thus to bring these items into the books of accounts adjusting entries are passed.

Illustration 2 :Pass adjusting entries for the following.

- 1) Further Bad Debts ₹ 3,750
- 2) Provide for depreciation on Building ₹ 31,500

Solution

Journal Proper

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
1	Bad Debts A/c Dr To Debtors A/c (Being Bad-debts written off)		3,750	3,750
2	Depreciation A/c Dr To Building A/c (Being Building depreciated)		31,500	31,500
	Total		35,250	35,250

3. Closing Entries : In order to find out Profit or Loss, all the accounts of Expenses and Income are closed at the end of year. Accounts of Expenses and Income are closed by transferring them to "Trading" Account or Profit and Loss Account by passing closing entries. Closing entry is passed at the time of preparing Final Accounts.

Illustration 3 :Pass closing entries for the following.

- 1) Office Expenses for the year ₹ 17,500 is transferred to Profit & Loss A/c
- 2) Purchases of the Year amounted to ₹ 2,95,000

SolutionJournal Proper

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
1	Profit & Loss A/c Dr To Office Expenses A/c (Being Office Expenses account closed by transferring it to Profit & Loss A/c)		17,500	17,500
2	Trading A/c Dr To Purchases A/c (Being Purchases A/c transferred to Trading A/c)		2,95,000	2,95,000
	Total		3,12,500	3,12,500

Note : Trading and Profit & Loss A/c are prepared at the end of the year to ascertain Gross Profit or Gross Loss and Net Profit or Net Loss. Revenue Expenses and Income are transferred to Trading or Profit & Loss A/c as the case may be.

4. Transfer Entries : Sometimes in order to close one particular account, the balance in the account is transferred to another account. Entries passed in such cases are known as "Transfer Entries"

Illustration 4 :Pass Necessary transfer entries for the following.

- 1) Net Profit ₹ 87,500 is transferred to Capital A/c
- 2) Drawings ₹ 10,500 is transferred to Capital A/c

SolutionJournal Proper

Date	Particulars	L.F.	Debit Amount (₹)	Credit Amount (₹)
1	Profit & Loss A/c Dr To Capital A/c (Being Net Profit transferred to Capital A/c)		87,500	87,500
2	Capital A/c Dr To Drawings A/c (Being Drawings transferred to Capital A/c)		10,500	10,500
	Total		98,000	98,000

5. Rectification Entries : A mistake committed by accountant without any intention of fraud is known as an error. If the mistakes are not corrected the Books of Accounts will not give a true and fair result. Thus to correct the errors accountant passes Rectification Entries.

Illustration 5 :Pass the necessary rectification entries for the following.

- 1) Goods purchased from Mr. Sourabh on credit ₹ 50,000 were not recorded in the Books.
- 2) Wages paid for installation of Machinery ₹ 5,000 were debited to Wages Account.

Solution

6.1. Meaning, Importance and Utilities of accounting documents.

Introduction:

Accounting Documents describes all the basic facts of transactions like the amount of transaction, to whom the amount was paid, the purpose of transaction and the date of transaction. This is essential in the process of Book Keeping as it provides evidence that a financial transaction has actually taken place. There has been a drastic change in the functioning of modern banks. Internet and mobile banking play a prominent role in today's business. Payments and receipts of cash through these methods generates instant and automatic proof for both the parties.

But even now a large number of transactions are made by personally visiting the bank. Payments and receipts by cheques and drafts have not lost their significance altogether.

Types of Bank Documents:

1. Pay-in-slip

Meaning: Pay-in-slip is also known as deposit slip. This slip is filled when the account holder deposits cheque or cash into his bank account. When cash is deposited account holder gives his account number, date of deposit and details of cash deposited. Similarly, when a cheque is deposited details of cheque, account number, name of drawee bank, amount etc are filled.

Pay-in-slip is divided into two parts. The right hand side is kept with the bank for their record. The left hand side known as counterfoil is duly stamped, signed and dated by the receiving clerk. This is returned back to the account holder which serves as acknowledgement.

Importance and Utilities:

- Facilitates the account holder to deposit cash or cheque to be credited in his account.
- Entries in respect of cash or cheque deposited into bank are recorded in the books of accounts on the basis of pay-in-slip.
- Counterfoil or acknowledgement acts as legal evidence.

Contents:

(same contents appear on the left hand side and right hand side of the pay-in-slip)

- Name of Bank, branch and address.
- Date of transaction.
- Amount deposited in figures and words. (Cash/cheque)
- Name of account holder.
- Account Number.
- Type of account.
- Details of denomination, i.e. number of ₹ 100, ₹ 200, ₹500, ₹ 2000 notes etc. deposited.
- Details of cheque.
- Details of drawee bank.
- PAN card number if the amount of deposit is more than ₹ 50,000.

Format : Pay-in-slip

Fig. 6.1 (a)

In modern times, a cheque along with duly filled pay-in-slip can be simply dropped into the drop box placed in the bank for collection.

2. Withdrawal Slip

Meaning: Withdrawal means removing funds from a bank. Form which is to be filled for withdrawing money from bank is known as withdrawal slip or form. A copy of this document is not available to record the transaction in the books of accounts but it is reflected in the Pass Book.

Importance and Utilities:

- This document is used by the account holder within the bank only to withdraw money.
- Account holder signs on the face of the slip and backside of the slip.
- Signature of the account holder is matched with his/her specimen signature recorded in the books of bank thereby avoiding malpractices.

Contents:

- Name of the bank and branch.
- Date of transaction.
- Account holder's name.
- Account number and type.
- Amount in figures and words.
- Signature of the account holder.

If the amount of withdrawal is more than ₹ 50,000 account holder has to submit a photocopy of his PAN card.

A cheque can also be used to withdraw cash from bank by the account holder.

Pass Books appeared in the 18th century, allowing customers to have transaction information in their own hands for the first time. Prior to this, customers had no history of their own deposits and withdrawals. Today bank statements can be viewed on lines.

4. Bank Statement:

Meaning: Businessmen open current account for their business considering the benefits provided by this account. Current account holders enjoy unlimited number of deposits and withdrawals and therefore the number of transactions is large. Businessmen like to know the details of transactions and the bank balance. Therefore, the bank issues a bank statement to them. A bank statement is a summary of financial transactions which have taken place over a given period on a bank account held by account holder. Earlier, bank statements were printed paper statements produced monthly, quarterly or annually. Bank as a matter of service would provide a periodical bank statement. Today with better access to the internet and online banking, bank statement also known as electronic statement can be viewed online, downloaded and printed by the account holder. This reduces the cost of paper and postage.

Importance and Utilities:

- i) Bank statement enables the account holder to know the balance with bank.
- ii) Suitable arrangements for payment can be made.
- iii) It helps businessmen know the time taken for clearance of cheques deposited.
- iv) It helps in preparation of bank reconciliation statement.

Contents:

- i) Details of bank, branch and address.
- ii) Date of transaction.

SMS alerts and notifications have overtaken bank advice today. Account holder receives SMS on their registered mobile number giving updates of their latest banking transactions.

6.2 Meaning, Definition, Need and Importance of Bank Reconciliation Statement.

Meaning: A businessman maintains a Cash Book with bank column in his ledger, wherein he records all banking transactions. The bank column in his Cash Book represents bank current account. Bank being the other party records these transactions in their ledger known as Pass Book. When businessman deposits money or cheque into bank for collection it is recorded in the Cash Book on the debit or receipt side. Bank records this on the credit or receipt side of Pass Book. Similarly, when businessman issues cheque for making payments, it is recorded on the credit or payment side of Cash Book. Bank records this transaction on the debit side or payment side of Pass Book / bank statement. Thus, whatever is recorded by businessman in the Cash Book is invariably recorded in the Pass Book / bank statement. Ideally then, Cash Book bank balance and Pass Book balance should be the same. The only difference would be that if Cash Book has a debit balance the Pass Book will have a credit balance and vice versa.

But in practice Cash Book bank balance is sometimes different from the Pass Book balance. You will learn about the causes of differences and method of reconciling balance of these two books by preparing bank reconciliation statement. A copy of bank statement is issued to the current account holder periodically by the bank. Bank statement is compared with the Cash Book for analysing the causes of difference in the balance of the two books.

Definition:

“A statement which reconciles the Bank balance as per Cash Book and the balance as per Pass Book showing all causes of difference between the two.”

“A statement showing the causes of disagreement between the balance shown by the bank Pass Book and the balance shown by the Cash Book under the bank column at the end of the specific period or month, is called Bank Reconciliation Statement.”

Need and importance of Bank Reconciliation Statement:

- i) It explains and clarifies the causes of disagreement between bank balance as per Cash Book and Pass Book.
- ii) It helps in detecting errors and omission made in Pass Book and Cash Book.
- iii) It reduces the chance of fraud by the staff dealing in cash.
- iv) It helps to check whether the bank makes proper entries for banking transactions.
- v) It helps to have a moral check on the staff of business organisations to keep Cash Book up to date.
- vi) It is an important mechanism of internal check and gives information of cash inflow and outflow.

6.3 Reasons for difference between Cash Book balance and Pass Book balance.

- i) Time difference.
- ii) Errors and omission made by businessman or bank.

i) Time difference:

Transaction cannot be recorded in the Cash Book and Pass Book at the same time. There is a time gap between recording transaction in the two books. For example, when businessman deposits a cheque into bank for collection, it is a transaction for him and he immediately records it in his Cash Book. On the other hand, bank will record it in Pass Book only after collecting the amount of cheque. At this point of time entry for transaction appears only in Cash Book thereby creating a difference in the balance of the two books which is to be reconciled.

ii) Errors and omission made by bank or businessman:

Differences in balance may also arise due to errors committed by bank or businessman. For example, bank charges debited by bank ₹ 540 is recorded as ₹ 450 in Cash Book. Here the transaction appears in both the books but with wrong amount causing a difference in the balance of the two books.

Causes of difference in Cash Book and Pass Book

I. Due to time difference.

- a) Transaction that appears in Cash Book but not in Pass Book.
 - i) Cheque issued but not presented.
 - ii) Cheque deposited but not collected.
- b) Transaction that appears in Pass Book but not in Cash Book.
 - i) Interest credited by bank.
 - ii) Direct collection of income on behalf of customer.
 - iii) Direct payment of expenses by bank.
 - iv) Bank charges, interest on overdraft, commission charged by bank.
 - v) Dishonour of cheques or Bills of exchange.
 - vi) Amount directly deposited in the bank account.

II. Due to errors and omission made by bank or business.

- i) Recorded on wrong side.
- ii) Recording wrong amount.
- iii) Wrong balancing and totalling.
- iv) Double recording.
- v) Omission of a transaction.

Fig 6.3(a)

I. Due to time difference:

a) Transaction that appears in Cash Book but not in Pass Book.

- i) Cheque issued but not presented: As soon as a cheque is issued, it is entered on the credit side of the Cash Book but the bank makes no entry for cheque until it is presented for payment. It means if the cheque is not presented for payment up to the date of preparation of bank reconciliation statement, the balance in the Pass Book will be higher than the balance as per Cash Book on that date.
- ii) Cheques deposited / paid into bank but not cleared: As soon as cheques are received and deposited into the bank they are recorded in the Cash Book on debit side which increase the balance at bank as per Cash Book but bank does not give credit for the cheques deposited until it is cleared and collected by bank. Therefore, a difference will arise on the date of preparation of bank reconciliation statement.

b) Transaction that appears in Pass Book but not in Cash Book.

- i) Interest credited by bank: If the bank allows interest to customer it credits the customer account and the bank balance as per Pass Book will increase. But customer will make corresponding entry in the Cash Book only when he receives the intimation from the bank. Until then the balance as per Pass Book would be more than the balance as per Cash Book.
- ii) Direct collection on behalf of customer: As per the standing instructions of the customer, bank can collect interest, dividend, rent etc. directly from the person concerned and credit the customer's account and increase the balance as per Pass Book. But the same will be entered in Cash Book only when the customer receives the statement or intimation of the same from bank. Till then the balance as per Cash Book and bank statement (Pass Book) will differ.
- iii) Direct payment by bank: As per standing instructions bank can pay certain expenses on behalf of the customer e.g. insurance premium, electricity bill, telephone bill, loan instalments etc. As soon as such payments are made bank debits customer account in bank Pass Book / bank statement but the customer has no information of the same till it is informed to him. Till then balance as per Pass Book / bank statement will be less than balance as per Cash Book.
- iv) Bank charges, interest on overdraft, commission charged by bank: Sometimes bank charges their customers for various services provided to them. It may be in the form of bank charges or commission. Similarly, bank can charge interest on overdraft facility provided to the customer. Bank debits the customer's account for such facilities time to time. However, the firm will know about these charges, commission etc. only when it goes through the bank Pass Book / bank statement. So, on the date of reconciliation balance as per Pass Book will be less than that of Cash Book.
- v) Dishonour of cheques or Bill of exchange: When cheque or Bill of exchange discounted with the bank is dishonoured, the same is debited in the Pass Book / bank statement but not given effect in the Cash Book until intimation is received. Similarly, when customer makes the payment by cheque and if it is dishonoured, bank credits the same in Pass Book / bank statement to cancel the earlier effect of cheque but will not give effect of dishonour of cheque in the Cash Book until the intimation is received from bank. Thus, the balance differs.
- vi) Amount directly deposited in the bank account : There are instances when debtors directly deposit money in businessman's bank account. Businessman is not aware of this transaction till he receives the intimation in bank statement. In this case bank records the receipt in customers account but the same is not recorded in the businessman's Cash Book. As a result, the balance shown in bank Pass Book will be more than the balance shown in Cash Book.

IMPS (Immediate Payment Service) is an instant payment interbank electronic funds transfer system in India. When an account holder needs to transfer funds immediately, IMPS can be used because this service is available 24/7 throughout the year including bank holidays.

NEFT(National Electronic Funds Transfer) is suitable for small money transfers(less than ₹ 2 Lakhs) and RTGS (Real Time Gross Settlement) is suitable for larger money transfers (greater than ₹ 2 Lakhs).

II. Due to errors and omission made by bank or businessman:

Sometimes bank may commit errors while recording the transactions in the Pass Book / bank statement which may disagree with the balance as per Cash Book and Pass Book. For e.g.

- i) Recorded on wrong side.
- ii) Recording wrong amount.
- iii) Wrong balancing and totalling.
- iv) Double recording.
- v) Omission of a transaction.

Alternate Presentation.

Bank Reconciliation Statement can be prepared in alternative method. In this method two columns are prepared to record the amount. One column is for recording reasons that increase balance (plus items) and the other is for recording reasons that reduce the balance (minus items).

- Debit balance of Cash Book is written in plus column.
- Credit balance of Cash Book or overdraft is written in minus column.
- Debit balance of Pass Book or overdraft is written in minus column.
- Credit balance of Pass Book is written in plus column.

The two columns are then totalled and the difference is ascertained. This difference is balance or overdraft as per Cash Book or Pass Book.

6.5 Preparation of Bank reconciliation Statement.

Procedure for finding the causes of difference and effects thereof:

When there is a difference between balance as per Pass Book and Cash Book following steps are required to find the causes of difference-

1. Compare the items appearing on the debit side of the Cash Book with those on the credit side of the Pass Book (deposit column) and tick mark those items appearing in both the books.
2. Compare the items appearing on the credit side of the Cash Book with those on the debit side of the Pass Book (withdrawal column) and tick mark those items appearing in both the books.
3. Make a list of the items that are unticked in both the books. These are the items responsible for the difference in the balance shown by Cash Book and Pass Book.
4. Analyse the causes of difference.
5. Select the date for preparation of Bank Reconciliation Statement. Bank reconciliation statement can be prepared on any date. The date for the preparation of the Bank Reconciliation Statement is generally chosen as the last day of the month because Cash Book balance and Pass Book balance are readily available on that date.
6. Prepare Bank Reconciliation Statement by taking balance as per Cash Book or Pass Book as starting point.
7. Adjust the starting point with other balances by adding or subtracting the unticked items as found in step 3. If balance as per Cash Book has been taken as the starting point, then balance as per Cash Book is to be adjusted according to entries passed in the Pass Book or vice versa.

8. Apply the rule of plus and minus.
- When balance as per Cash Book is given
 - Add credits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - Less debits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - When balance as per Pass Book is given
 - Add debits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - Less credits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - When overdraft as per Cash Book is given
 - Add debits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - Less credits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - When overdraft as per Pass Book is given
 - Add credits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.
 - Less debits in Cash Book or in Pass Book.

A. When extract of Cash Book and Pass Book is given for a common period:

When extracts are given for common period the following points must be considered.

- Uncommon items are to be considered.
- The opening balance of Cash Book and Pass Book.

Items that create difference between the balance as per Cash Book and as per Pass Book can be ascertained by comparing the two books. Entries appearing in both the books in the same period do not create any difference in the balance of the two books, thus are to be ignored. The items which appear in Cash Book but does not appear in Pass Book and vice versa will only create difference in the balance of the two books. These are entered in the Bank Reconciliation Statement.

Find out the reasons for difference in the balance of the two books. Prepare Bank reconciliation Statement as on 30th April 2019:

- i) When balance as per Cash Book is given.
- ii) When balance as per Pass Book is given.

Solution: On comparing the Cash Book balance with Pass Book balance it can be noted that items appearing in both the books are given a (✓) tick mark. these do not create any difference in the balance of the two books and are to be ignored. Items that are appearing in any one of the Book only is given (✗) 'cross mark', these are the reasons which will create difference in the balance of the two Books which are to be added or deducted in Bank Reconciliation Statement.

On comparing debit side (receipt) of Cash Book with credit side (receipt) of Pass Book it is found that: -

- i) Cheques received from Mohan ₹ 7,100 and Deepak ₹ 6,800 is deposited into the bank for collection but not yet collected by bank.
- ii) Dividend ₹ 2,000 collected by bank does not appear in the Cash Book.

On comparing credit side (payment) of Cash Book with debit side (payment) of the Pass Book it is found that :-

- i) Cheque ₹ 2,600 issued to Atul and Sons has not been presented for payment.
- ii) Bank has paid insurance premium ₹ 6,500 for which no entry has been made in cash book.
- iii) Bank has debited bank charges ₹ 800 which does not appear in Cash Book.

These discrepancies will appear in the Bank Reconciliation Statement as under :-

i) When balance as per Cash Book is given:

Bank Reconciliation Statement
As on 30th April 2019

Note: When we start with the Cash Book balance, we arrive at Pass Book balance and when we start with Pass Book balance, we arrive at Cash Book balance.

A business can prepare Bank Reconciliation Statement with Cash Book balance or Pass Book balance.

B. When extract of Cash Book and Pass Book is given for different periods:

When extract is given for uncommon period, consider only common items appearing in both the books. Common items only create discrepancies in the balance of the two books which are to be adjusted in the Bank Reconciliation Statement.

On 31st March 2018 bank Pass Book of Mr. Rajiv showed a credit balance of ₹ 6,300 but Cash Book showed a different balance. On comparing the two books the following differences were noticed.

- i) Cheques sent to bank for collection ₹ 85,000 on 25th March 2018 but a cheque of ₹ 60,000 was only cleared by bank before 31st March 2018.
- ii) Out of cheques issued ₹ 58,500, cheques of ₹ 48,500 were not presented for payment before 31st March 2018.
- iii) A Bill of Exchange for ₹ 4,000 discounted with the bank was dishonoured on 30th March 2018. Intimation of the same was received on 5th April 2018.
- iv) Interest allowed by bank ₹820 appeared twice in the Cash Book.

- v) Pass Book debit side was overcast ₹ 200.
- vi) Cheque received from Akash ₹ 4,250 deposited into bank for collection was not yet collected. The entry was recorded in the cash column of Cash Book.
- vii) A Bills Payable amounting to ₹ 8,700 paid by bank has not been recorded in the Cash Book.
- viii) Mr. Aditya, our customer directly deposited ₹17,000 into our account through NEFT. It was not recorded in the Cash Book.

Prepare the Bank Reconciliation Statement as on 31st March 2018.

Solution:

In the books of Mr. Rajiv
Bank Reconciliation Statement
As on 31st March 2018

Particulars	Amount (₹)	Amount (₹)
Bank Balance as per Pass Book		6,300
Add : 1. Cheques sent to bank for collection but not yet cleared	25,000
2. Discounted bill dishonoured does not appear in Cash Book	4,000
3. Interest allowed by bank appears twice in cash book	820
4. Pass Book debit side was overcast	200
5. Bills Payable paid by bank not recorded in cash book	8,700	38,720
		45,020
Less : 1. Cheques issued but not presented for payment	48,500
2. Direct deposit made by customer not recorded in Cash Book	17,000	65,500
		20,480
Bank Overdraft as per Cash Book		20,480

Note:

Reason No. vi) will not appear in the bank reconciliation statement. This does not create any difference in the balance of the two books because it has not been recorded in the Bank column of cash-book and it does not appear in the Pass Book too since it has not been collected by bank.

Reconciliation of Debtors and Creditors:

Reconciliation helps us to identify and fix accounting errors. Reconciliation is carried out to verify the completeness and accuracy of a particular part of accounting records by comparing it with another record. Reconciliation Statement can also be prepared for vendor reconciliation i.e. reconciliation of debtors and creditors. Debtors represent money owed to us and creditors represent money owed by us. Here we compare debtor's ledger in our books with our ledger in the debtor's book and reconcile the differences if any.

Procedure for Reconciliation of Debtors and Creditors:

1. Request debtor to give our ledger account as appearing in their books.
2. Prepare debtor's ledger account in our book in excel.
3. Copy paste both in one excel file.
4. Compare and match entries appearing in both the ledger accounts.
5. Prepare list for entries which are not matching.
6. Group similar types of differences and give heading.
7. Prepare vendor reconciliation statement with the differences.

Competency Statements

- Students understand the concepts, methods and importance of Depreciation.*
- Students understand the difference between Fixed Assets and Current Assets.*
- Students are able to calculate the amount of depreciation of different fixed assets.*
- Students are able to differentiate the amount of depreciation by Straight Line Method and Written Down Value Method*

In daily life, we use many assets which could be Tangible or Intangible. Such assets have their own life e.g. Building, Furniture, Machinery, etc. It is necessary to spread the cost over a number of years during the useful life of the assets. This process of spreading the cost of fixed assets is termed as ‘Depreciation’.

7.1 Meaning and Definition of Depreciation:-

The word depreciation is derived from the Latin word ‘Depretium’ which means reduction. Every business concern acquires some fixed assets which are used in the business for its trading activity. These assets are purchased for business with an intention of permanent use and not for resale.

Working life of all fixed assets, except Land, decreases with the passage of time. The value of these assets decrease every year. So, reduction in the value of fixed assets due to its Wear and Tear or actual use is called as ‘Depreciation’.

“Depreciation is defined as shrinkage in the value of an asset due to wear and tear, passage of time or obsolescence.”

Unless depreciation is charged to the revenues, the true income of the business cannot be ascertained properly, and we cannot make provision for their replacement. Purchase of an asset is a capital expenditure and not a recurring expenditure.

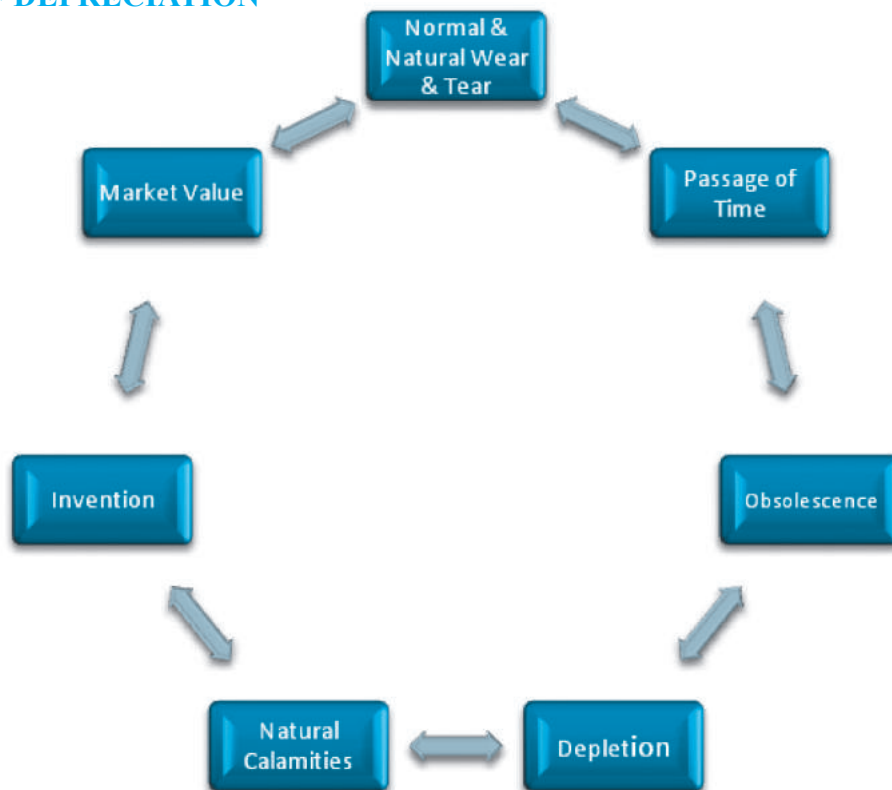

NOTE:.

1. Land is never depreciated, many a times it is appreciated. Moreover, the area of the Land neither increases nor decreases.
2. Depreciation is charged every year whether the business concern is earning profit or suffering a loss.

Definition:-

1. “Depreciation is the gradual decrease in the value of an asset from any cause.”
-R.N.Carter.
2. “Depreciation may be defined as a gradual deterioration in the value due to use.”
-R.G.Williams.
3. “Depreciation may be defined as permanent and continuing diminution in the quality, quantity or the value of an asset.”
-William Pickles.
4. “A measure of the wearing out, consumption or other loss of a value of a depreciable asset arising from use, effluxion of time or obsolescence through technology and market changes.”
-The Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.(ICAI)
5. “Depreciation is the allocation of the depreciable amount of an asset over its estimated useful life. Depreciation for the accounting period is charged to income either directly or indirectly.”
-The International Accounting Standard Committee.(ICAC)
6. “Continuous, gradual and permanent reduction in the value of assets is called depreciation.”

CAUSES OF DEPRECIATION

1. Normal and Natural Wear and Tear-

Value of fixed asset is reduced due to its normal and natural wear and tear or actual use. More the use of an asset, more the wear and tear.

2. Passage of Time-

Fixed assets get depreciated due to affluxion of time,so it is necessary to depreciate them even if they are not in use. e.g. Patents, Trademarks, Copyrights, Leases, Software, Designs, etc.

3. Obsolescence–

On account of technological development or changes in techniques of production, the old assets become obsolete or out-dated and all these cause reduction in their values. It is called obsolescence, e.g Computer ,Television etc.

4. Depletion –

To deplete means to empty. Depletion is also one of the causes of decrease in the value of wasting assets such as Forests, Oil-wells, Mines, Quarries, etc.

5. Natural Calamities/Impairment of an Asset –

The price of fixed assets decreases due to natural calamities such as earthquakes, storms, cyclones, fire, floods, or accidents,etc. and damages of the assets is accounted for in the Books of Accounts.

6. Invention –

When the new machines or assets are invented, the earlier assets or machines being used may lose their utility and hence their value is reduced. e.g. When in the market, i-phone8 was introduced the value of i-phone7 reduced.

7. Market Value –

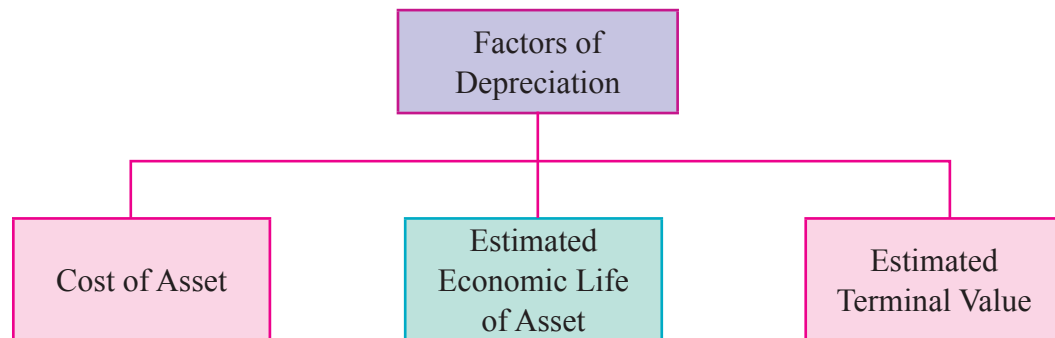

Market Value of an asset goes on changing according to the prevailing conditions. Hence depreciation also changes. When market value of an asset decreases as compared to its cost, it causes the depreciation on it.

NEED AND IMPORTANCE OF DEPRECIATION–

1. Depreciation is charged to Profit and Loss A/c as it is an element of Cost. It is also essential to arrive at true value of the asset and also net Profit or Loss during a particular accounting period. Even if an asset is not in use, its value is reduced due to passage of time. Depreciation is Cost/Loss to the business. It is a non – cash expenditure. It is a Nominal Account.
2. If depreciation is not provided and deducted from the value of assets, the assets will be overvalued and we cannot find out true and fair financial position of the business.
3. Depreciation is necessary to make provision for replacement of old assets. If provision for depreciation is not made, the business may not have sufficient funds to replace them.
4. It enables the business to compute and pay correct amount of tax to the Government.
5. Depreciation must be calculated and equivalent funds should be provided for every year, so that at the end of its life, the assets may be easily replaced.

7.2. FACTORS TO BE CONSIDERED WHILE CHARGING DEPRECIATION

While deciding the amount of depreciation to be charged every year, the following basic factors should be taken into consideration.

1. Cost of Asset:-

The cost of asset is an important factor while computation of depreciation. Historical cost of the assets represents the money spent in connection with its acquisition, installation or improvement thereof.

In short $\text{Original Cost of the Assets} = \text{Purchasing Price of Assets} + \text{its Installation or Incidental charges}$ i.e. cost of transportation, transit insurance, custom duty, unloading charges, brokerage, wages for fixation, amount spent for repairs on second hand assets or reconditioning, etc.

2. Useful or Estimated Economic Life of Assets :-

The useful life of an asset is generally taken to be in terms of years or working life of the assets expected utility to the business concern.

In other words it means the business should use the assets till the business gets useful services from the asset and earns Profit from its use.

3. Estimated Terminal or Scrap or Residual Value :-

Scrap Value is the Realisable (net) value of the asset at the end of its economic life. This value should be calculated after deducting the disposal and removal costs from the sale value of the asset.

7.3. METHODS OF DEPRECIATION

There are different methods of charging depreciation according to the nature of asset, use of asset and necessity. Following are the various methods for providing depreciation.

1. Fixed Instalment or Straight Line or Original Cost Method.
2. Diminishing or Reducing Balance or Written Down Value Method.
3. Annuity Method.
4. Depreciation Fund Method.
5. Revaluation Method.
6. Insurance Policy Method.
7. Machine Hour Rate Method, etc.

Note: Out of the above methods, only first two methods have been prescribed in the syllabus for class XI Commerce and hence only these methods are explained below.

7.3.1. Fixed Instalment or Straight Line or Original Cost Method:-

Under this method depreciation is charged at a specific percentage on the Original Cost of the asset every year, so as to reduce the asset account to nil or to its Scrap value at the end of the estimated life of the asset.

To ascertain the annual charge under this method, all that is necessary is to divide the original value of the asset (minus its residual value, if any) by the number of years of its estimated life.

Depreciation is calculated by following formula-

$$\text{Depreciation (p.a.)} = \frac{\text{Original cost} - \text{Scrap Value}}{\text{Estimated life of the asset (in years)}}$$

- Original cost of Asset = Purchasing price of an Asset + Incidental Charges etc.

For example

A machine costing ₹15,000 is purchased and installation charges of ₹ 3000 is paid. Estimated life of the asset is 10 years and the Scrap Value is estimated to be ₹ 2,000 at the end of its life. The amount of depreciation would be,

$$\begin{aligned}\text{Depreciation(p.a.)} &= \frac{(15,000 + 3,000) - 2,000}{10} \\ &= \frac{16,000}{10} \\ &= ₹ 1,600 \text{ p.a.}\end{aligned}$$

Depreciation is also charged when the rate of depreciation is given. It is calculated by using following formula

$$\text{Depreciation (p.a.)} = \frac{\text{Cost of the Asset} \times \text{Rate of depreciation}}{100}$$

NOTE : At the time of calculation of depreciation amount, the period for which the asset is used in the business during the current Accounting year should be considered.

For example –

The Original cost of an asset is ₹ 80,000, and the depreciation is charged @ 10% p.a. at Fixed Instalment Method, then the amount of depreciation will be computed as follows.

1. Depreciation p.a.(1st year) = $80,000 \times 10/100 = ₹ 8,000 \text{ p.a.}$
WDV = $80,000 - 8,000 = 72,000$ (at the end of the 1st year)
2. Depreciation p.a.(2nd year) = $80,000 \times 10/100 = ₹ 8,000 \text{ p.a.}$
WDV = $72,000 - 8,000 = 64,000$ (at the end of the 2nd year)
3. Depreciation p.a.(3rd year) = $80,000 \times 10/100 = ₹ 8,000 \text{ p.a.}$
WDV = $64,000 - 8,000 = 56,000$ (at the end of the 3rd year)
4. Depreciation p.a.(4th year) = $80,000 \times 10/100 = ₹ 8,000 \text{ p.a.}$
WDV = $56,000 - 8,000 = 48,000$ (at the end of the 4th year)

Note : In this method depreciation is charged every year on Original Cost of the asset.

The amount of depreciation to be charged per year on the asset is constant. If the amount of depreciation is plotted annually on a graph paper and the points are joined together, then the graph will reveal a Parallel Line to X axis, that is why this method is also called as Straight Line Method.

7.3.2. Diminishing or Reducing Balance or Written Down Value Method:-

Under this method, depreciation is calculated at a certain percentage each year on the balance of the asset which is brought forward from the previous year. In other words, under this method depreciation is calculated at a specific percentage on the value of that asset which stands in the books of accounts on the opening date of each year.

The amount of depreciation charged per year is not fixed but it goes on decreasing gradually as the opening balance of the asset will decrease in each year. The charges depreciation in initial periods are higher than those in the later periods.

For example –

The Original Cost of an asset is ₹80,000, and the depreciation is charged @ 10% p.a. under Written Down Value Method, then the amount of depreciation will be computed as follows

1. Depreciation p.a.(1st year) = $80,000 \times 10/100 = ₹ 8,000$ p.a.
WDV = $80,000 - 8,000 = 72,000$ (at the end of the 1st year)
2. Depreciation p.a.(2nd year) = $72,000 \times 10/100 = ₹ 7,200$ p.a.
WDV = $72,000 - 7,200 = 64,800$ (at the end of the 2nd year)
3. Depreciation p.a.(3rd year) = $64,800 \times 10/100 = ₹ 6,480$ p.a.
WDV = $64,800 - 6,480 = 58,320$ (at the end of the 3rd year)
4. Depreciation p.a.(4th year) = $58,320 \times 10/100 = ₹ 5,832$ p.a.
WDV = $58,320 - 5,832 = 52,488$ (at the end of the 4th year)

Note : In this method depreciation is charged on original cost in first year and from the next year it is charged on Written Down Value(WDV)of an asset. It is charged on opening balance of every year.

The amount of depreciation charged during each year of asset life goes on decreasing every year. If the charge of depreciation is plotted annually on a graph paper and the points joined together, then the graph will reveal as follows :

Fig. 7.2 Depreciation amount using Written Down Value Method

7.3.3 Difference between Fixed Instalment Method and Written Down Value Method.

Points	Fixed Instalment Method	Written Down Value Method
Meaning	Under this method depreciation per year on the asset remains fixed	Under this method depreciation per year on the asset goes on reducing
Charged on	On original cost of the asset.	On reduced balance of the asset.
Amount	Amount of depreciation remains the same each year.	Amount of depreciation goes on decreasing each year.
Value of fixed asset	Value of fixed asset can be reduced to Zero.	Value of fixed asset cannot be reduced to Zero.
Profits	Profits are more during the earlier years of the life of the asset than later years	Profits are less during the earlier years than the later years
Recognition by Tax/Law	It is not recognized by any Tax/Law	It is Recognised by Tax/Law
Suitability	This method is suitable where repair charges are less and obsolescence is not frequent.	This method is suitable where repair charges are more in later years and obsolescence is more.
Depreciation Curve	Under Straight line method the curve is parallel to X axis.	Under Written Down value method the curve slopes downward from left to right.

Competency Statements

- ❑ Students will know the meaning and effects of Rectification of Errors
- ❑ Students will know the different Types of Errors and their examples
- ❑ Students are able to detect the errors and rectify them.
- ❑ Students will learn the meaning and need of Suspense A/c
- ❑ Students will know how to maintain Suspense A/c.

8.1 Introduction and Meaning

In the previous chapter we have learnt that a Trial Balance is prepared to check the arithmetic accuracy of transactions recorded in a Journal posting them into the ledger and balancing the ledger account. If a Trial Balance agrees it is assumed that recording posting etc. have been done correctly. But this is only partly correct because even if Trial Balance agrees there may be some errors in the accounting records.

Accuracy is assured only when there are no errors in the books of accounts. To confirm accuracy errors are identified and rectified. Many business units have shifted from manual accounting to computerized accounting. Yet errors in accounting are unavoidable. Hence errors are to be located and rectified to find out the real profit or loss and financial position.

Reasons of Errors

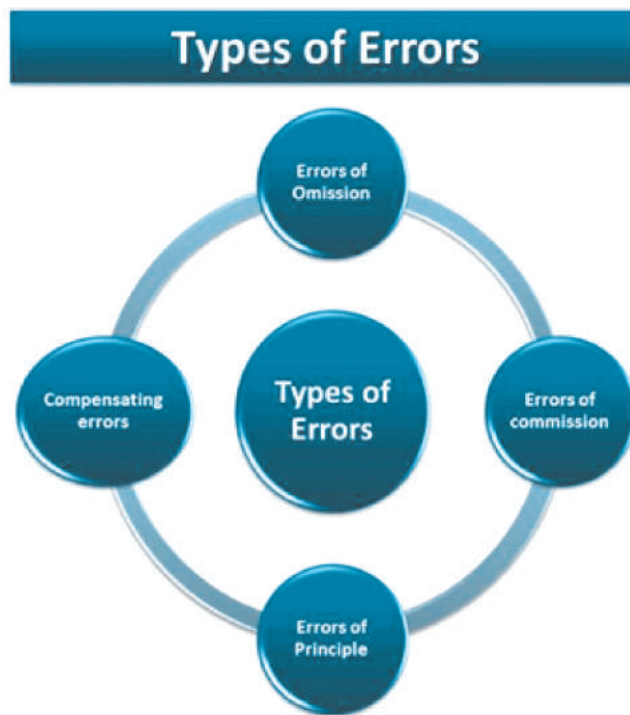

1. Lack of Accounting Knowledge
2. Wrong Data Collections
3. Wrong Recording
4. Incorrect Arithmetical Calculations

Need of Rectification:

1. For the preparation of correct Accounting Entries/Records.
2. Preparation of Profit & Loss A/c with corrected figures to finalize correct Profit and Loss.
3. To find out the accurate financial position of the firm/enterprise by preparing Balance Sheet with corrected figures.

Types of Errors:

While writing the Books of Accounts it is likely that some mistakes are committed and they are required to be corrected. Errors can be classified in the following four categories.

- 1) Errors of Omission: This kind of error arises when a transaction is partially or completely omitted to be recorded in the books of accounts. e.g. failure to record credit purchases. As a result of this omission neither the creditor's account is credited nor is the Purchase account debited. This type of error does not affect the agreement of Trial Balance and hence the Trial Balance fails to disclose such type of errors.

These can be of two types:

- a) Error of complete omission which does not affect the agreement of Trial Balance.
- b) Error of partial omission which affects the agreement of Trial Balance.

Type of Error with Meaning	Sub-Types with Examples
I. Error of Omission These errors are caused due to complete or partial omission.	(a) Error of Complete Omission Goods sold to Aditya on credit but not recorded in Sales Book.
	(b) Partial Omission Goods sold to Aditya on credit recorded in Sales Book but not posted to the A/c of Aditya thus Sales A/c is credited but Aditya's A/c is not debited. This error will affect the Trial Balance.

- 2) Errors of Commission: These are the errors which are committed due to wrong Entries or Posting of transactions wrong totalling or wrong balancing of the accounts, wrong casting of the- Subsidiary Books or wrong recording of amount in the books of original entry. These errors affect the agreement of Trial Balance.

Errors of commission are classified into following:

- a) Errors of Recording
- b) Errors of Casting
- c) Errors of Carrying
- d) Errors of Posting

Type of Error with Meaning	Sub-Types with Examples
II. Errors of Commission These errors are caused due to wrong recording of transactions, wrong totalling of Subsidiary Books or Ledger Accounts, Wrong posting and wrong carry forward	(a) Errors of Recording in the Book of Original Entry Goods purchased from Chaitanya for ₹850/- recorded as ₹580/- in the Purchase Book. (This error will not affect the agreement of Trial Balance as same amounts will be posted in both the accounts Purchase A/c and Chaitnaya's A/c.)
	(b) Wrong Totalling of Subsidiary Book. Example : Purchase Book has been under cast (total taken less) by ₹ 500/- Purchase A/c will be debited less by ₹500/- decreasing the debit side of Trial Balance by ₹500/-.

	(c) Error in Totalling or Balancing of Ledger Accounts Example : Creditors A/c has been undercast by ₹700/-. In this case credit balance of Trial Balance will be less by ₹700/- (d) Error of Posting (i) Posting to the wrong side but correct account. Goods sold to Rohan for ₹900/- entered to the credit of Rohan's A/c instead of posting to the debit side of his account. (ii) Posting with wrong amount. (iii) Posting twice in an Account. (iv) Errors in posting to the wrong A/c but correct side.. (e) Error in carrying forward. Total of Purchase Book ₹1,500/- is carried forward as ₹1,250/- Creates less debit of ₹250/- in Purchase A/c and also less debit in Trial Balance.

3) Errors of Principle: Transactions recorded without following the accounting principles and rules are known as Errors of Principle. An error of principle may occur due to the incorrect classification of expenditure or receipt between capital and revenue as it may lead to under/over stating of income or assets or liabilities. This error does not affect the Trial Balance as amounts are placed on the correct side but in a wrong account.

Type of Error with Meaning	Sub-Types with Examples
III. Errors of Principles. These errors are caused due to the violation of accounting principles.	(a) Treating Capital items as Revenue item Example: Wages paid for the installation of new Machinery debited to Wages Account instead of Machinery Account. (b) Treating Revenue items as Capital Item Example : ₹500/- paid for the repairs of an old Machinery is debited to Machinery Account instead of Repairs Account.

- 4) Compensating Errors: When two or more errors are committed in such a way that the net effect of these errors on the debit and credit of accounts is nil or nullified such errors are called compensating errors. These errors do not affect the agreement of Trial Balance.

Type of Error with Meaning	Sub-Types with Examples
IV. Compensating Errors Two or more errors committed in such a way that the net effect of these errors of the debit and credit of the accounts is nil.	Example: On May 10th 2018 a sum of ₹3000/- paid to Ashok is posted as ₹300/- to the Debit of his A/c and on May 20th 2018 a sum of ₹300/- paid to Kumar has been posted as ₹3000/- to the Debit of his A/c. Net Effect will be zero.

Errors may also be classified as One Sided Errors and Two Sided Errors.

One Sided errors affects only one account and affects the agreement of Trial Balance. These Errors can be rectified by giving a note for debiting or crediting the account, if it is located before preparation of Trial Balance.

When One Sided Errors are located after the preparation of Trial Balance then these errors will be rectified with help of Suspense Account.

Two sided errors affects two or more accounts and it does not affect the agreement of Trial Balance. It always be rectified with the help of Journal Entries.

Note : Rectified entries are recorded in Journal Proper.

8.4 Suspense account

Meaning of Suspense Account :

When the Trial Balance does not tally the amount of difference is located to the debit (when the total of the credit column is higher than the debit column) or credit (when the total of the debit column is higher than the credit column) to a temporary account known as 'Suspense Account'. Errors affecting only one account is known as one sided errors. These errors will now be rectified with the help of Suspense Account. When all one sided errors are located and rectified Suspense Account automatically closes.

Illustration 6:

The Trial Balance of Shri. Kishorilal did not agree and the difference of debit balance of ₹ 620 was temporarily transferred to Suspense A/c. Later on following errors were located. Give the Journal entries to rectify the following errors and show the Suspense A/c.

Introduction :

Accounting is considered as a scientific approach in maintaining record of business transactions. It provides a systematic accounting record to all on the financial status of the enterprise. No sooner a business transaction takes place, the accounting process starts. The process is completed by the drafting the final accounts.

9.1 A) Meaning of Final Accounts :

The primary aim of accounting is assessment of business performance for the benefit of all stakeholders (such as owners, employees, suppliers, customers, financiers etc.) which will also help them to form their opinions on the financial position of their business concerns. For this purpose, various accounting reports are prepared in the form of Final Accounts at the end of every financial year. In brief, Final Accounts are financial statements that validate and explain working results and financial status for a specific period of time on a particular date. It is a set of Trading Account, Profit and Loss Account and Balance Sheet. Balancing figure of Trading Account is Gross Profit or Gross Loss. In case of Profit and Loss Account the balancing figure is Net Profit or Net Loss. Whereas Balance Sheet shows financial position of assets and liabilities at a given period of time.

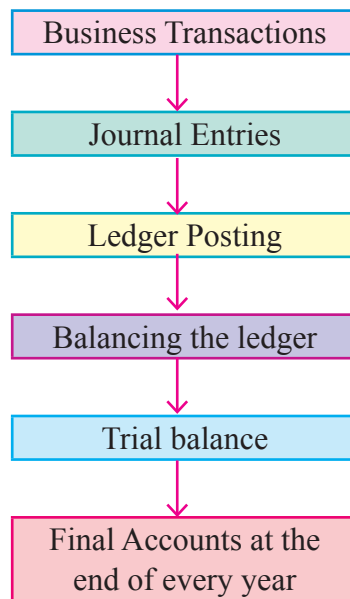

- The basic objectives of Final Accounts is to determine Gross Profit /Gross Loss and Net Profit or Net Loss of the business during the financial year.
- Final Accounts shows the true and correct financial position of business.
- It informs the operating results and exact financial position of the business to the stake holders to take financial decisions.
- It enables to control financial activities of business effectively.

C) Importance of Final Accounts :

- 1) Final Accounts are the basis on which management or businessmen decides business policies and take financial decisions.
- 2) Final Accounts gives a true picture of the financial status of business for the financial year.
- 3) Final Accounts are useful for accurate accounting records.
- 4) Transparency in business dealings are possible due to financial statements.
- 5) Final Accounts help to get a clear break-up of amounts payable to government as various taxes, e.g. Income tax, GST etc.
- 6) It is a mandatory requirement to maintain records of financial state of any business establishment.

How to Prepare Final accounts ? -

Every time a business transaction takes place, the details of it is made in Primary books. These entries are then posted to the ledger. At the end of a financial year the ledger accounts are balanced and closing balance of each ledger account is determined. There may be a debit or credit balance. With the help of all these balances, a Trial Balance is prepared. This in turn helps in preparing Trading Account, Profit and Loss Account and Balance Sheet, which is known as Final Accounts. This accounting process can be represented as follows :

Final accounts include

- 1) Manufacturing Accounts
- 2) Trading Account
- 3) Profit and Loss Accounts
- 4) Profit & Loss Appropriation Account
- 5) Balance sheet

Note : Manufacturing Account and profit and Loss Appropriation account are not included in the syllabus of XI commerce. So for XI commerce Final Accounts consist only of Trading Account, Profit and Loss Account and Balance Sheet.

Trading Account

Trading Account is an account which gives the overall preview of all trading activities. The expenses and losses relating to trading activities are debited to this account and all outward movements of goods and stock of goods at the end of the year are recorded to the credit side of this account.

Debit side of Trading Account includes activities such as opening stock, purchases and all direct expenses - e.g. Wages, Freight, Carriage Inward, Coal, Gas, Fuel, Water, Manufacturing or Direct expenses. Similarly credit side of trading includes Closing Stock, Sales, less returns (sales returns) any kind of goods that is used for promotions as Free Samples, goods withdrawn by proprietor for personal reasons etc. Therefore it is said Trading Account is prepared to ascertain gross profit or loss for a given period of time. When there is credit balance. It is referred to as Gross Profit and when there is debit balance it referred to a Gross Loss which is transferred to profit and loss account. Trading Account is a Nominal Account.

Important terms of Trading Account :

1) Stock : Goods that are unsold are called Stock.

Stocks are of two types :

(i) Opening stock : It refers to unsold goods at the beginning of the year.

(ii) Closing Stock : The unsold goods on the last day of accounting period is referred to as Closing Stock. This is always valued at cost or market price, whichever is less. Closing Stock is credited to the Trading Account. It is also recorded on the asset side of Balance Sheet.

2) Purchases : This includes the purchases of goods and not purchases of assets. Purchase of goods may be on the basis of cash or credit. Purchase Returns are deducted from total purchases and thereafter net purchases are recorded on the debit side of Trading Account.

3) Sales : Sales includes the sales of goods and not sale of Assets. Sale of goods may be on the basis of cash or credit. Sales returns are deducted from total sales and thereafter net sales are recorded on the credit side of Trading Account.

4) Direct Expenses : Direct expenses are those expenses which are incurred for purchase of goods, production of goods and purchase expenses. All nominal accounts e.g. Wages, Manufacturing expenses, Factory lighting, Coal, Gas, Fuel, Water. Dock dues, Carriage inward etc.

Working Notes :

- 1) New Bad debts ₹ 2,000 and R.D.D. is 3%

So Debtors	₹ 76,000
Less : Bad debts (New)	₹ 2,000
	₹ 74,000

Therefore R.D.D. 3% on 74,000

New R.D.D. 2,220

$74,000/1 \times 3/100 = ₹ 2,220$

- 2) Interest on Capital 5% p.a.

So $1,00,000/1 \times 5/100 = ₹ 5,000$

Therefore Interest on Capital is ₹ 5,000

Competency Statements

- Students are able to understand the meaning of Single Entry System*
- Students are able to distinguish between Single Entry System & Double Entry System.*
- Students are able to prepare opening & closing statements of affairs & statement of profit or loss of a Sole Trading Concern*

10.1 Introduction:

We have studied Double Entry System of Sole Trading concern in previous chapters. Now in this chapter we are going to learn Single Entry System of Sole Trading concern only. In ancient times there was no scientific method of recording business transactions. They were maintaining record of business transactions by their traditional methods. Single Entry System can be useful suitable for small size business, where the number of transactions are small. Single entry system is not a particular system of accounting rather it is a Double entry system in an incomplete and unscientific form. It is not a scientific and accurate system of Accounting.

Meaning of Single Entry System:

Under this system, Cash Book and personal accounts of debtors and creditors are maintained. Real and Nominal accounts are not maintained. Single Entry System has no proper set of rules to be followed.

Definitions:

- i) Kohler defines Single Entry System as, “A system of Book Keeping in which as a rule only records of cash and of personal accounts are maintained. It is always incomplete double entry varying with the circumstances.”
- ii) Carter has defined Single Entry as, “a method or variety of methods, employed for the recording of transactions, which ignores the two fold aspect and consequently fails to provide the businessman with the information necessary for him to be able to ascertain his financial position.”

Single entry system is a combination of Single entry, Double entry and No Entry.

Single Entry System is suitable for the following reasons:

1. It is a very simple method of recording business transactions.
2. Accounting records can easily be maintained since it does not require adequate skill and knowledge of principles of Book Keeping.
3. It is less expensive as compared to Double Entry Book Keeping.
4. Ascertainment of Profit or Loss is much easier.
5. It is to small concern with limited number of transactions and very few assets and liabilities.
6. It can be prepared easily in short period of time.

Difference between Single Entry System and Double Entry System

Points	Single Entry System	Double Entry System
1) Dual Aspect	Under this system each transaction is not recorded with dual aspect.	Under this system each transaction is recorded in dual aspect.
2) Accounts	Under this system Personal Accounts and Cash Accounts are maintained. Real and Nominal Accounts are not maintained.	Under this system, Personal Real and Nominal Accounts are maintained.
3) Trial Balance	Under this system Trial Balance cannot be prepared because of incomplete information of Accounting. Arithmetical accuracy of the accounting cannot be verified.	Under Double Entry System, Trial Balance can be prepared therefore arithmetical accuracy of the books of accounts is verified.
4) Profit or Loss	Under this system Profit and Loss Account is not prepared to find out the Net Profit or Net Loss.	Under this system Profit and Loss Account is prepared to find out Net Profit or Net Loss.
5) Balance sheet	Under this system only Statement of Affairs is prepared, Balance Sheet is not prepared.	Under this system to find out correct financial position, Balance Sheet is prepared.

6) Utility	Single Entry System is only useful to small business concerns.	Double Entry System is useful for all types of business concerns.
7) Rules	Single Entry System does not follow any accounting rules.	Double Entry System follows accounting rules.
8) Authenticity	The Government authorities do not consider this system as authentic.	The Government authorities consider this system as authentic
9) Expensive	Single Entry System is less expensive because time and labour involved is less.	Double Entry System is expensive compare to Single Entry System.
10) Financial Position	With the help of Statement of Affairs we can understand the estimated financial position of the business.	Balance Sheet is prepared to give true and fair financial position of business.

10.3 Preparation of Opening and Closing Statement of Affairs:

To find out the financial position of the business, under Single Entry System, following Statements are prepared.

- i) Opening Statement of Affairs
- ii) Closing Statement of Affairs
- iii) Statement of Profit or Loss.

Statements of Affairs:

A Statement of Affairs is a statement of Assets and Liabilities. It is as good as Balance Sheet. Right hand side is used for recording Assets and left hand is used recording for Liabilities. Statement of Affairs is prepared under the Single Entry System in order to find out the amount of Opening or Closing Capital of the business. The difference between the total of Assets and total of Liabilities is considered as the amount of capital.

Opening Statement of Affairs:

Opening Statement of Affairs is prepared to find out opening Capital balance. Opening Assets and Opening Liabilities are shown in the “Opening Statement of Affairs”. If the total of the Assets side is greater than the total of the Liability side it represents Opening Capital.

$$\text{Opening Capital} = \text{Opening Assets} - \text{Opening Liabilities}$$

Closing Statement of Affairs:

Closing Statement of Affairs is prepared at the end of the Accounting year to find out the closing Capital balance. Closing Assets and Closing Liabilities are shown in the “Closing Statement of Affairs”. If the total of the Assets side is greater than the total of the Liability side it represents Closing Capital.

$$\text{Closing Capital} = \text{Closing Assets} - \text{Closing Liabilities}$$

Following format of the Statement of Affairs may give the idea of items to be shown in it.

In the Books of -----
Statement of Affairs as on ----- -

Liabilities	Amt (₹)	Assets	Amt (₹)
Sundry Creditors	-----	Plant and Machinery	-----
Bills Payable	-----	Furniture and Fixtures	-----
Outstanding Expenses	-----	Building	-----
Bank Overdraft	-----	Investments	-----
Bank Loan	-----	Sundry Debtors	-----
		Bills Receivable	-----
Capital (Balancing figure)	-----	Prepaid Expenses	-----
		Cash in Hand	-----
		Cash at Bank	-----
	-----		-----

(Note: Opening Statement of Affairs and Closing Statement of Affairs can be prepared in columnar form)

10.4 Preparation of Statement of Profit or Loss:

A statement of Profit or Loss is to be prepared in order to find out the Profit or Loss made during the year.

When Books of Accounts are maintained under Single Entry System profit made during the year is calculated by the following methods:

- i) Net Worth Method
- ii) Conversion Method

(Note: The second method is not included the 11th standard syllabus, so it is not explained here)

Net Worth Method:

To ascertain Profit of a Business, Trading Account and Profit and Loss Account are prepared, but under Single Entry System it is not possible because of lack of adequate information. Therefore, under this system, profit is ascertained by preparing Statement of Profit or Loss.

After ascertaining capitals, they are compared with each other. If the Closing Capital is more than the Opening Capital the difference is Profit. If the Closing Capital is less than the Opening Capital the difference is Loss. Moreover, it is necessary to consider the other adjustments (i.e. Additional Capital, Drawings etc.) to ascertain Profit or Loss. This Profit or Loss is further adjusted for depreciation, interest on capital and provision for bad and doubtful debts to calculate Net Profit or Net Loss.

The following is the format of Statement of Profit or Loss:

In the Books of ----
Statement of Profit or Loss for the year ended -----

Particulars	Amount (₹)	Amount (₹)
Closing Capital/Capital at the end of the year		-----
Add : Drawings made during the year
In Cash	-----
In Kind	-----	-----
Less : Additional Capital brought during the year
Adjusted Closing Capital		-----
Less : Opening Capital
Net Profit/Loss for the year		-----

The following example can give the idea of calculating the Profit or Loss.

Opening Capital = ₹ 90,000

Closing capital = ₹ 1,50,000

Additional capital brought during the year ₹ 10,000.

Drawings made during the year ₹ 15,000.

Solution:

Statement of Profit or Loss for Year Ending-----

Particulars	Amt.(₹)	Amt. (₹)
Closing Capital		1,50,000
Add : Drawings		15,000
		1,65,000
Less : Additional Capital introduced during the year		10,000
Adjusted Closing Capital		1,55,000
Less : Opening Capital		90,000
Net Profit for the Year		65,000

10.5 Additional Information (Adjustments):

1. Additional Capital:

During Accounting Year, amount of cash or assets of any kind brought by proprietor into the business is called Additional Capital or Further Capital. Additional Capital is deducted from the Closing Capital in the Statement of Profit or Loss.

2. Drawings:

In the Statement of Profit or Loss, the amount of drawings is to be added to Closing Capital Balance. Closing Capital will be increased due to drawings during the accounting year.

3. Depreciation:

Depreciation should be recorded in the Statement of Profit or Loss. The amount of depreciation is a charged against Profit or Loss and is to be deducted.

4. Bad Debts:

The debts which are not recovered from a debtor is called Bad Debts. Hence it should be deducted in the statement of Profit or Loss.

5. Reserve for Doubtful Debts (provision for bad and doubtful debts)-

Reserve for bad and doubtful debts is to be deducted in the statement of Profit or Loss.

6. Undervaluation and Over valuation of Assets and Liabilities:

To find out the correct Profit or Loss of the business, if the assets and liabilities are undervalued or overvalued it is to be adjusted properly.

A) Undervaluation of Assets: In the Books of Accounts value of assets is undervalued so that the asset should be increased by the amount of undervaluation to bring it to proper value. Under valuation means lower capital which required to be adjusted and it is added in Statement of Profit or Loss.

B) Overvaluation of Assets: In the books of Accounts value of the Asset is already overvalued so that assets should be decreased by the amount of over valuation to bring it to the proper value. Overvaluation means higher capital which requires to be adjusted it is deducted in Statement of Profit or Loss.

C) Undervaluation of Liabilities: Undervaluation means liabilities are recorded at lesser amount which is to be adjusted. It is deducted from Statement of Profit or Loss.

D) Overvaluation of Liabilities: Overvaluation means the liabilities are recorded at higher amount which to be adjusted it is to be added in the Statement of Profit or Loss.

7) Interest on Loan:

The amount borrowed by the business is called as Loan. Interest on loan is the expenditure to the business, hence it is to be deducted in Statement of Profit or Loss.

8) Interest on Capital:

Interest on Capital is to be calculated on Opening Capital and also the amount of Additional Capital, which is utilized by the business. Interest on capital is expenditure to the business. Hence it is to be deducted from the Statement of Profit or Loss.

e.g. Opening Capital as on 31st March 2017 is ₹ 1,50,000 Additional Capital introduced in the business as on 1st Oct 2017 is ₹ 40,000. The rate of interest on capital is 10% p.a. The amount of interest will be as follows:

Interest on Capital	10% on ₹ 1,50,000 for one year	₹ 15,000
Interest on Additional Capital	10% on ₹ 40,000 for 6 months	₹ 2,000
Total Amount of Interest on capital		₹ 17,000

9) Interest on Drawings :

It is the income to the business; hence to be added in the Statement of Profit or Loss. If the date of drawings is not given and rate of interest is given, then interest on drawings is to be calculated for six months.

10) Outstanding/ Unpaid Expenses:

The expenses due but not paid during the year are known as Outstanding Expenses. It is to be deducted in Statement of Profit or Loss.

11) Prepaid Expenses/Expenses paid in Advance/Unexpired expenses :

In the business certain expenses are paid in advance which are known as Prepaid Expenses. Such expenses are not related with current year; hence it is added in Statement of Profit or Loss. The consolidated effect of the above adjustments can be seen at a glance in the following Statement of Profit or Loss.

Statement of Profit or Loss for Year Ended -----

Problem: 6

Jyoti keeps her books on Single Entry System. From the following particulars, prepare Opening and Closing Statement of Affairs and Statement of Profit or Loss for the year ended 31st March 2018.

Particulars	1.4.2017 (₹)	31.3.2018 (₹)
Bank Balance	35,000	30,000
Cash Balance	14,000	10,000
Sundry Debtors	1,20,000	1,60,000
Stock	50,000	90,000
Furniture	18,000	18,000
Machinery	90,000	1,20,000
Sundry Creditors	32,000	50,000
Bills Payable	18,500	25,000

Additional Information:

1. Jyoti has withdrawn ₹ 33,500 from the business for her private use.
2. She has introduced additional Capital of ₹ 5,000 in the business on 1st Jan,2018
3. Additions to Machinery were made on 1st January, 2018
4. Depreciate Furniture and Machinery @ 10% p.a.
5. Maintain R.D.D. @ 15% on Sundry Debtors.
6. Closing Stock is overvalued by 20% in the books.

Solution:

In the books of Jyoti
Opening and Closing Statement of Affairs as on -----

Liabilities	1.4.2017 (₹)	31.3.2018 (₹)	Assets	1.4.2017 (₹)	31.3.2018 (₹)

			Machinery	90,000	1,20,000
	3,27,000	4,28,000		3,27,000	4,28,000

Statement of Profit or Loss for the year ended 31st March 2018

Particulars	Amt. (₹)	Amt. (₹)
Closing Capital as on 31 st March, 2018		3,53,000
Add. Drawings		33,500
		3,86,500
Less Additional Capital		5,000
Adjusted Closing Capital		3,81,500
Less Opening Capital as on 1 st April, 2017		2,76,500
Profit before adjustments		1,05,000
Less: Expenses and Losses during the year
1. Depreciation on Furniture (10% on ₹ 18,000)	1,800
2. a) Depreciation on Machinery (10% on ₹ 90,000)	9,000
b) Depreciation on additional Machinery (10% on ₹ 30,000 for 3 months)	750
	9,750
3. R.D.D. (15% on ₹ 1,60,000)	24,000
4. Overvaluation of Stock	15,000
	58,550
Net Profit during the year		54,450

Working Note:

Overvaluation of Stock by 20% , So we have to find out the Actual value of stock.

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{Book Value}}{100 + \% \text{ of Overvaluation}} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{90,000}{100 + 20} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{90,000}{120} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = ₹ 75,000$$

Therefore, Current value of Stock is lesser than the Book value by ₹15,000 (i.e. ₹ 90,000 – ₹ 75,000) It is a loss and deducted from Trading profit in the Statement of Profit or Loss.

- Bad Debts ₹ 2000 and maintain Reserve for Doubtful Debts @ 5% on debtors
- Stock was overvalued by 20 %
- Creditors were undervalued by 20%
- 10% Govt. Bonds were purchased on 1st Oct. 2018.
- Charge interest on Drawings at 10% p.a.
- Allow interest on Capital at 10% p.a.
- Depreciation on Furniture 10% p.a.
- Depreciation on Machinery at 10 % p.a.

Solution:In the books of Mr. Raj*Statement of Affairs as on -----

Add : Incomes and Gains during the year
1. Interest on Drawings (10% on ₹ 2000 for 6 months)	100
2. Interest on Govt. Bonds (10% on ₹ 20000 for 6 months)	1,000	1,100
		34,600
Less : Expenses and Losses during the year
1. i) Interest on Opening Capital (₹ 61,000×10/100) = ₹ 6,100
ii) Interest on Additional Capital (₹ 6,000 × 10/100 × 6/12) = ₹ 300	6,400
2. Depreciation on Furniture (₹ 12,000×10/100)	1,200
3. Depreciation on Machinery = ₹ 3,000 (₹ 30,000 × 10/100)
Depreciation on additional Machinery = ₹ 1,000 (₹ 20,000 × 10/100 × 6months/12months)	4,000
4. Bad debts	2,000
5. R.D.D. 5% on Debtors (₹ 50,000 – ₹ 2,000 = ₹ 48,000) (5% on ₹ 48,000)	2,400
6. Overvaluation of Stock (W.N.1)	10,000
7. Undervaluation of Creditors (W.N.2)	15,000	41,000
Net Loss for the year		(-) 6,400

Working Note:

- 1) Stock is Overvalued by 20%, So we have to find out the Actual value of Stock

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{Book Value}}{100 + \% \text{ of overvaluation}} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{₹ } 60,000}{100 + 20} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{₹ } 60,000}{120} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \text{₹ } 50,000$$

Therefore Actual value of stock is lesser than the Book Value by ₹ 10,000 (i.e. ₹ 60,000 – ₹ 50,000) It is a loss and deducted in the statement of Profit or Loss

- 2) Creditors are undervalued by 20%. We have to find out the Actual value of Creditors

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{Book Value}}{100 - \% \text{ of undervaluation}} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{₹ } 60,000}{100 - 20} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \frac{\text{₹ } 60,000}{80} \times 100$$

$$\text{Actual Value} = \text{₹ } 75,000$$

Therefore Actual value of creditors is greater than the Book Value by ₹ 15,000 (i.e. ₹ 75,000 – ₹ 60,000) It is a profit and added to in Statement of Profit or Loss.
