

Winners Of Tennis Grand Slam

Tennis Grand Slam

- The Four annual tennis tournaments are collectively called the Grand Slam also known as majors.
- The Grand Slam is operated by the ITF- the International Tennis Federation.
- The Grand Slam tournaments consist of the Australian Open in mid January, the French Open or Roland Garros around late May, Wimbledon in June end, and the US Open tennis in the end of August.
- All the four Tennis Grand Slam tournaments are played over a period of 2 weeks.
- Wimbledon Tennis is the oldest, founded in 1877, then comes the US Open in 1881 followed by the French Open in 1891, and the last is Australian Open in 1905.
- The Australian tennis and US tournaments are played on hard courts, the French Open on clay courts, and Wimbledon on grass courts.
- The French Open tournaments was not considered a Grand Slam before 1924 - 1925
- Together, all four majors in all three disciplines (singles, doubles, and mixed doubles) are called a "boxed set" of Grand Slam titles
- Winning all four majors during the course of a career is called a career Grand Slam
- Winning the four majors in consecutive tournaments, but not in the same year is called the non-calendar year Grand Slam.
