Preface

The overall aim of Communicative English for Class XII is to develop the communicative competence of learners as opposed to linguistic competence. Hence authentic materials have been given priority in this textbook as was done in Class XI. These materials will influence the quality of classroom interaction and language use. They include extracts from media, magazines, journals or books etc. The textbook has been prepared keeping in mind the consistent needs and interests of the learners and in tune with the social and cultural context in which they will be used. The focus is to equip the learners with essential language skills and give them confidence to use them effectively in real-life situations. The materials are sensitive to perspectives of equality (gender and societal) and harmony (between humans, and between humans and nature), given that a quantum of independent reading is expected.

Emphasis is on study skills such as note-making, note-taking and reference skills and spoken and written communication skills such as public speaking, interviewing, and debating, rather than on writing essays on well-worn topics. Exposure to well-known speeches and the structure of arguments has been analysed. Grammar serves as a tool for increasing the language repertoire and for understanding the construction of text - rhetoric and argumentation.

ICT corner will kindle the learner's interest to go beyond the textbook. This corner is a digital resource with adequate learning material. The additional information and reference skill will equip the learners to achieve effective learning and project completion.

Finally evaluation must be 'proficiency' rather than 'achievement' oriented, i.e. designed not to test the mastery of studied passages, but rather the ability to use the language appropriately in new contexts.

The syllabus has been prepared according to the recommendations of the National Curriculum Framework 2005.

How to Use the Book

- ❖ Class XII Communicative English textbook has been designed based on themes, with selections from authentic, true-to-life materials. Embedded in the course are universal values and social justice with focus on the inherent diversity of India. They involve different kinds of texts and the activities have been built around them.
- ❖ Warm up activities are designed to introduce the theme and the essence of the unit.
- ❖ The focus is concentration on use and appropriacy rather than simply on language form.
- ❖ Emphasis is on fluency- focused rather than accuracy-focused activities.
- ❖ Communication tasks are to be performed through the language rather than exercises on the language.
- ❖ Necessary scaffoldings are provided to help learners to build their abilities in creative writing. Focus is on a plethora of writing forms accompanied by guidelines , samples and checklists.
- ❖ Appreciation will be for variation in language rather than uniformity of language structure.
- ❖ Linking LSRW skill based activity will reduce the curriculum load while providing learning experience that is creative and participative.
- ❖ Students have to take the initiative and interact, rather than wait for directions from the teacher.
- ❖ The learners should contribute as much as they gain and interact primarily with each other rather than with the teacher.
- ❖ The teachers have to take on several roles – that of a facilitator, participant, manager, instructor and guide – so that learning takes place through individual, pair or group activities.

Learning Outcomes

Listening and Speaking

Students will be able to

- ❖ engage in oral exchanges of ideas through discussions, debates etc.
- ❖ participate actively and effectively in group work as presenter or facilitator
- ❖ deliver a speech with clarity, coherence, suitable for purpose and audience
- ❖ respond to activities embedded in appropriate and meaningful context
- ❖ speak fluently with correct phonic skills

Reading

Students will be able to

- ❖ develop inferential abilities and rich vocabulary to enhance learner's word power
- ❖ respond in writing to works of fiction and non-fiction
- ❖ identify essential nuances in poem
- ❖ read and explore works from various genre
- ❖ record or store information for easy retrieval

Writing

Students will be able to

- ❖ engage in meaningful formal and informal writing tasks using all stages of the writing process, in class and at home
- ❖ write in clear, understandable and accurate language
- ❖ use language and style appropriate to the purpose and audience
- ❖ organize and order words, sentences and paragraphs in an essay with an introduction, coherent body and a conclusion that summarizes the topic
- ❖ proofread various areas such as sentence structure, grammar and punctuation
- ❖ evaluate their own writing according to the established rubrics

STOP DISCRIMINATION

b. You must have come across discrimination of various kinds in the news. Discuss in pairs and list out a few.

Example- 'Fair Brides Preferred'

c. Given below are some human values and human rights. Classify and write 'V' for values or 'R' for rights, against each word.

honesty	justice	compassion	speech	equality
language	expression	trust	citizenship	kindness
speech	self-esteem	tolerance	mercy	information
religion	liberty	gratitude	education	humility

Reading

a. Read the following passage.

- J.K.Rowling

Short stories capture human values evolving from wide ranging incidents and episodes. Each of the stories given below has a specific goal; to teach unique values that are truly valuable in life.

Positive Thinking

This parable is told of a farmer who owned an old mule. The mule fell into the farmer’s well. The farmer heard the mule praying or whatever mules do when they fall into wells.

After carefully assessing the situation, the farmer sympathized with the mule, but decided that neither the mule nor the well was worth the trouble of saving. Instead, he called his neighbours together, told them what had happened, and enlisted them to help haul dirt to bury the old mule in the well and put him out of his misery.

Initially the old mule was hysterical! But as the farmer and his neighbours continued shovelling and the dirt hit his back, a thought struck him. It suddenly dawned on him that every time a shovel load of dirt landed on his back, HE WOULD SHAKE IT OFF AND STEP UP!

This he did, blow after blow. “Shake it off and step up... shake it off and step up... shake it off and step up!” He repeated to encourage himself. No matter how painful the blows, or how distressing the situation seemed, the old mule fought panic and just kept right on SHAKING IT OFF AND STEPPING UP!

It wasn’t long before the old mule, battered and exhausted, stepped triumphantly over the wall of that well! What seemed like it would bury him actually helped him ... all because of the manner in which he handled his adversity.

THAT’S LIFE! If we face our problems and respond to them positively, and refuse to give in to panic, bitterness, or self-pity, life becomes meaningful.

Selflessness

Once upon a time, there lived a big mango tree. A little boy loved to come and play around it every day.

He climbed to the tree top, ate the mangoes, and took a nap under the shade. He loved the tree and the tree loved to play with him.

Time went by... The little boy grew, and he no longer played around the tree.

One day, the boy came back to the tree with a sad look on his face.

“Come and play with me,” the tree asked the boy.

“I am no longer a kid; I don’t play around trees anymore.” The boy replied, “I want toys. I need money to buy them.”

“Sorry, I don’t have money, but you can pick all my mangoes and sell them so you will have money.”

The boy was so excited. He picked all the mangoes on the tree and left happily. The boy didn't come back. The tree was sad.

One day, the boy, now a grown man, returned. The tree was so excited.

"Come and play with me," the tree said.

"I don't have time to play. I have to work for my family. We need a house for shelter. Can you help me?"

"Sorry, I don't have a house, but you can chop off my branches to build your house."

So the man cut all the branches off the tree and left happily. The tree was glad to see him happy but the man didn't return afterwards. The tree was again lonely and sad.

One hot summer day, the man returned and the tree was delighted.

"Come and play with me!" the tree said.

"I am sad and getting old. I want to go sailing to relax myself. Can you give me a boat?"

"Use my trunk to build your boat. You can sail far away and be happy."

So the man cut the tree trunk to make a boat. He went sailing and didn't return for a long time.

Finally, the man returned after he had been gone for many years.

"Sorry, my boy, but I don't have anything for you anymore. No more mangoes to give you," the tree said.

"I don't have teeth to bite," the man replied.

"No more trunk for you to climb on."

"I am too old for that now," the man said.

"I really can't give you anything— the only thing left is my dying roots," the tree said with sadness.

"I don't need much now, just a place to rest. I am tired after all these years," the man replied.

"Good! Old tree roots are the best place to lean on and rest. Come sit down with me and rest."

The man sat down and the tree was glad and smiled.

The tree in the story represents our parents. When we are young, we love to play with them. When we grow up, we leave them and only return when we need help. Parents sacrifice everything for us, like the tree.

All experiences teach us something. A valuable lesson can be learnt from these stories. The short story then can be equated with situations in life and values can be established, which in turn motivate us. The moral and ethical principles imparted through these short stories help in influencing behaviour and priorities in life.

d. Read the following poem carefully.

Be A Friend

- By Edgar Albert Guest

Be a friend. You don't need money;
 Just a disposition sunny;
 Just the wish to help another
 Get along some way or other;
 Just a kindly hand extended
 Out to one who's unbefriended;

Just the will to give or lend,
This will make you someone's friend.

Be a friend. You don't need glory.
Friendship is a simple story.
Pass by trifling errors blindly,
Gaze on honest effort kindly,
Cheer the youth, who's bravely trying,
Pity him who's sadly sighing;
Just a little labour spend
On the duties of a friend.

Be a friend. The pay is bigger
(Though not written by a figure)
That is earned by people clever
In what's merely self-endeavour.
You'll have friends instead of neighbours
For the profits of your labours;
You'll be richer in the end
Than a prince, if you're a friend.

e. Complete the summary of the poem given below with suitable words.

In the first stanza, the poet explains that it doesn't cost any to be a We just need to be, helpful and be willing to others. The second stanza links to some of the of friendship. Task

Women have the courage to change the course of history. We have read of such women from mythological and historical times and seen them shape our world in modern times, too.

There can be no development without equal participation of women and men in all spheres of life and at all levels.

Being able to do more than one thing at a time is not easy. Women have however been able to multitask without much of a struggle, juggling between motherhood and career.

Many a time we are stuck in tedious arguments. Some argue that a stay-at-home mother spends all her time with her child and shares a stronger bond, while the others believe that there is some truth in the adage "Distance makes the heart grow fonder."

Now with your partner/ group, analyse the pros and cons of stay-at-home mothers and working mothers and participate in a class debate organised by your teacher on the motion "Who makes a better home – a stay-at-home mother or a working mother?"

Writing

MESSAGE

You have already learnt how to write a message in Class XI. Recall the format and the writing technique.

a. The following is a telephone conversation between Prabha and Karthik. After the call, Karthik has to leave for work and hence leaves a message for his roommate Dr.Vetri. Read the conversation and write the message in not more than 50 words.

Prabha: Hello, can I talk to Dr.Vetri?

Karthik: I am sorry; he is not here right now. May I know who is on the line?

Prabha: I am Prabha, a colleague of his, from the hospital where he works.

Karthik: Glad to speak to you. Would you like to leave a message for him?

Prabha: Yes, please. Inform him that the conference scheduled to be held in Madurai on the 10th of October has been postponed to the 15th of October. So he can come to Madurai by 14th evening, and I have also made the hotel booking too at Park Plaza.

Karthik: I will surely convey this message to him. Don't worry.

Prabha: Thank you.

b. Rachel and Shiela plan to go to a book fair at 10 a.m. But guests arrive unexpectedly at Rachel's house and therefore her mother asks her to stay back and help her. So she sends a message to Shiela expressing her inability to go to the book fair. Write the message for Rachel in not more than 50 words.

c. You are going to Salem. Your manager accompanies you to the airport to see you off. On reaching the airport you hear the following announcement:

"Your attention please! Flight No. 133 flying from Chennai to Salem has been delayed by 30 minutes due to a technical snag. Passengers are requested to wait for further announcements. The inconvenience is regretted."

Now write a message to your father informing him of the delay and send it through your manager.

SHORT PARAGRAPH

You have classified human rights and values in the beginning of this unit. Now, choose one of the values which you consider the most important for all human beings and write a short paragraph in about 100 words.

REPORT WRITING

Report writing has been dealt with in detail in Class XI. Recall those instructions and complete the following exercises.

a. You are a Special Reporter appointed by the Commission for Human Rights. This commission examines, monitors and publicly reports on various human rights violations. Recently you came across an incident where a domestic help, a boy of 18 years, has been facing multiple forms of violence in the hands of his employers. Write a report about it in about 120 to 150 words, to be submitted to the Commission, using the following hints.

- ❖ beaten up and held captive
- ❖ accused of theft
- ❖ physically abused
- ❖ overworked and underpaid

- ❖ starved and sleep deprived
- ❖ vulnerable due to lack of awareness and social security

Note: Try to be fair – include both sides of the story and don't let your personal opinion get in the way of reporting the facts.

You may find the following outline useful.

BY WHO? WHAT? WHY?
WHEN? WHERE? HOW?

b. You are the teacher counsellor of your school. You organised a workshop on 'Good Parenting' in your school to discuss various issues concerning the student community and the ways to tackle them. Write a detailed report of the workshop held.

You will find the following inputs useful.

Title

By (name)

Para 1 – Name of the event and Chief Guest
(What, why, Objective / purpose
When, where) Date, time and place

Para 2 – Description of the event
(How) Highlights of the programme
(Contributions in the form of sharing their experiences, problems and suggestions)
Chief Guest's address
(appreciation / comments)

Para 3 – Conclusion, Vote of thanks

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The language tips given below will be helpful in writing a letter to the Editor

- ❖ The tone and style should be formal.
- ❖ Specify the purpose of writing.
- ❖ Express your ideas logically.
- ❖ Do not ask the editor to solve the problem.
- ❖ Request him to publish the letter to gain the attention of the authorities concerned.
- ❖ Conclude on an optimistic note.

a. You are concerned about the changing face of society, where people want to earn either by hook or by crook. They don't care if their acts are in agreement with moral values or not. Write a letter to the Editor of a national daily, in not more than 150 words, about the changing values and the importance to re-orient the concept of earning for need and not for greed. The following hints can be used.

Present scenario...

- ❖ Forgotten values
- ❖ Loud late night parties, luxurious lifestyle
- ❖ Corruption at all levels
- ❖ Earning money through unfair means
- ❖ Match fixing in the field of sports
- ❖ Exploiting religious beliefs of people

Solutions

- ❖ Need for reinstating values
- ❖ Value education to be made part of school curriculum
- ❖ Ways to preserve our culture and tradition
- ❖ Parents and teachers to be role models
- ❖ Transparency and accountability

Warm up

a. Study the diagram to learn what is needed to be successful in one's career.

b. Here is an illustration of what soft skills are. Study the picture thoroughly.

c. Notice that those who have English skills have an edge over others, when they attend an interview.

Now list out a few soft skills that you think are necessary for one to succeed.

MUST-HAVE SOFT SKILLS

Reading

a. Read the following passage carefully.

Frankness Matters

1. Whether in an exam, interview, or life itself, we may not always have answers to all questions. Right from when we begin school, through college, and even into the working world, we are coached to face questions with answers, to exhibit what we know, to fill the space between lines with words. When we encounter a question that we do not have an answer to, panic sets in. We feel inadequate, or are prompted to immediately search for the answer - this latter response is mostly a good thing. But sometimes, we refuse to recognize or admit that we don't know, and proceed to apply the most familiar of exam techniques- we fudge. Fudging can be a high art, and when done skilfully, can do a good job of persuading all but the most discerning examiner that you do know something.

2. Don't get me wrong here. I am certainly not advocating fudging, although it is something most of us have been guilty of doing, when we encounter the unexpected question or one that we just haven't fully prepared for. In a written exam, it is possible to fudge and get away with, to some degree, but in a face-to-face situation, or in an interview, I wouldn't recommend it. In fact, it is good to get comfortable with the idea that we may not always have answers to all questions in an examination, interview, and life. There are also contexts where it is not expected that you have a ready answer for every question, where a bit of uncertainty is not just acceptable, but even welcome.

Honesty matters

3. Take the typical interview. You may have questions that test your subject knowledge, assess your attitude, and get a sense of your skills. In terms of subject knowledge, there are some things that everyone who has studied a given subject is expected to know basic theories and foundational concepts. But every field of knowledge is vast and complex, and one cannot know everything; nor is someone at the entry level expected to. So while facing an interview, it is important to be aware of what you can speak of with confidence, and what you are not too comfortable talking about. When faced with questions from this second area, you should be able to graciously admit that you don't know, or are not too sure.

4. Fudging as an answer in an interview can be disastrous. For one, interviewers are usually experienced enough to be able to tell when a candidate is just shooting the breeze. For another, if you really don't know the answer, you may get so involved in faking knowledge that you end up spinning a complicated web that you can't extricate yourself from. This may lead to follow-up questions that only make it worse. Instead, a simple "I'm afraid I don't know" could save you and your interviewers considerable misery and embarrassment.

5. Being able to say that you don't know requires confidence and humility. It is important to prepare well for any test, and to try to cover as much ground as possible, but it is equally important to acknowledge that it is impossible to know everything, particularly when there may be questions that combine theory, application and strategy. A sincere response that acknowledges the current limits of one's knowledge yet indicates a willingness and interest to learn would go a long way in making a good impression.

Glossary

panic (n)	- sudden fear or anxiety inadequate (adj.)	- insufficient
fudge (n)	- cover up
discerning (adj.)	- judicious, enlightened

b. On the basis of your understanding of the above passage, answer each of the questions given below by choosing the most appropriate option.

- What happens when we do not know the answer to a question?
 - lethargy sets in
 - panic sets in
 - expectation rises
- Fudging in a written examination

f. Read the following poem carefully.

THE BUILDERS

HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our to-days and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these;
Leave no yawning gaps between;
Think not, because no man sees,
Such things will remain unseen.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the Gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house, where Gods may dwell,
Beautiful, entire, and clean.

Else our lives are incomplete,
Standing in these walls of Time,
Broken stairways, where the feet
Stumble as they seek to climb.

Build to-day, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall to-morrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
To those turrets, where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain,
And one boundless reach of sky.

a. Fill in the blanks with the correct tense form of the verb given in brackets.

I (be) in London sometime ago on a short visit and (happen) to witness an incident. A very trivial one, but it (set) me thinking. I (take) a walk in one of the suburbs and there (be) this teenage girl ahead of me (take) her pup for a walk. The pup (decide) to use that moment to relieve itself. The girl (take) a paper bag from her pocket, (clean) up the mess and then (walk) onto the nearest bin to dispose of it! What (impress) me (be), this (be) a teenager. This (be) an age when there (be) a natural tendency to rebel, but this civic sense (be) so deeply (ingrain) in her that she never (give) a second thought to it.

b. Complete the passage by choosing the correct form of the verb from the options given.

We Indians.....(took/take/taken) pride in our rich civilisation, history and culture. But sad to say, we find that most people (lack/lacking/ lacked) in civic sense when it comes to public cleanliness, (form/ forming/ formed) queues or even when (driven/drove/driving) vehicles. Cleanliness and discipline must be (inculcate/inculcating/ inculcated) in children in their formative years. We (were/ are/ have) used to throwing garbage in public places. We (have encouraged/ are encouraged/ will encourage) to be more disciplined and (followed/ follow/ following) rules but in trashy places we (became/ become/ will become) trashy ourselves. No city in our country(had managed/ has managed/ is managing) to fight the garbage menace. Civic sense (are/ is/ has) the need of the hour.

c. Hari is attending an interview. Given below is an excerpt of his interview. It is incomplete. Complete it with verbs in the proper tense with the help of the words in brackets.

Interviewer : Good Morning, Hari.

f. Put the verb in brackets in the correct form.

Moving house

I come from a very large family and recently my parents (decide) that they (spend) long enough living in an overcrowded house in Chennai. "We (move) to the country", my father (announce) one evening. "I (sell) this house and we (live) on a farm".

So last week we (load) all our belongings into two hired vans, and for the last few days we (try) to organise ourselves in our new home. Yesterday, for example, my two brothers and I (start) painting the upstairs rooms. Unfortunately, while I (mix) the paint, one of my brothers (open) the door.

Nobody (tell) him that we (be) in the room. So instead of painting the walls, we (spend) all morning cleaning paint off the floor.

But worse things (happen) since then. This morning, when I

..... (wake) up, water (drip) through the ceiling next to my bed. We(spent) the last five hours repairing the roof. It is not all bad news though. The school in the village nearby (close) down two years ago, and my parents (not find) another school for us yet.

ROLE PLAY - INTERVIEW

An imaginary interview with a famous author Anil Sharma

Interviewer : Welcome sir, How are you?

Anil Sharma : Fine, thank you. How are you do?

Interviewer : Well, nice to meet you.

Anil Sharma : Glad to meet you, too.

Interviewer : What is your first piece of writing that got published?

Anil Sharma : I was 16, when Illustrated Weekly of Media published my first story soon after I left school. It was a funny story about a child.

Interviewer : please tell me something about your parents.

Anil Sharma : My parents are from Himachal Pradesh and there was a great deal of differences in their interests. While one was interested in books, the other was fond of travelling.

Interviewer : Who introduced you to books?

Anil Sharma : During my early childhood, we were in Delhi. My father was very attached to me and spent a lot of time with me. He introduced me to books and films. I was only ten years old when he died. It was a traumatic experience and for two or three years I became a recluse and books were my only companions.

Interviewer : How did you do in your studies?

Anil Sharma : I loved to study English and History but hated Maths. I used to read a lot of books in the school library. You could say I was self-taught.

Interviewer : Did it take long for your first novel, “The Flying Frog” to get published?

Anil Sharma : Yes ! A couple of years. On my mother’s suggestion I went to England when I was 17 and took up various jobs there. I would write when I came home in the evenings.

Interviewer : What made you return to India?

Anil Sharma : I missed my friends. I came back purely for emotional reasons.

Interviewer : Did it affect your writing career?

Anil Sharma : I would write four or five short stories and articles every month and send them to magazines and newspapers in the country.

Interviewer : You were making a modest living out of freelancing, weren’t you?

Anil Sharma : Well, I did briefly take up jobs. But I wanted to concentrate on my writing.

Interviewer : Why did you settle down in Ooty?

Anil Sharma : I needed peace so that I could write without interruption. I have written many of my best stories there.

Interviewer : You have written a lot for children. What fascinates you about childhood?

Anil Sharma : I had a lonely childhood. It helped me to understand children who had problems.

Interviewer : What do you prefer – short stories or novels?

Anil Sharma : A short story is a slice of life. But in a novel you are covering a period of time.

Interviewer : How will you describe your style of writing?

Anil Sharma : Easy and conversational style. I use the first person quite a lot. It makes it more personal in a way.

Interviewer : Three of your stories were adapted for films. Am I right?

Anil Sharma : Yes, you are right. That happened by chance.

Interviewer : Do you think reading is declining in this digital age?

Anil Sharma : No, there are a lot of people who still enjoy reading books.

Interviewer : What are the benefits of reading?

Anil Sharma : It makes one understand life better, face the ups and downs of life more easily. It helps you to be more sensitive to others.

Interviewer : It has been very interesting talking to you. Thank you very much for sparing your valuable time and talking to us.

Anil Sharma : Thank you too.

FILLING IN FORMS

We learnt to fill in forms in Class XI. Let us look at some more forms.

OPTICAL MARK RECOGNITION (OMR) FORMS

Every college or university has to deal with lots of admission forms every year. Checking each admission form manually is a big task and hence most institutes issue OMR admission forms to the students. The advantage of this type of admission form is that it becomes a soft copy automatically when it is scanned. With a good OMR software and a normal scanner, it is possible to evaluate huge numbers of admission forms easily.

Instructions to Fill OMR Admission Form

The admission form asks for more detailed information. Along with the name, date of birth and other such basic information, it also requires information like names of the students' parents, marks acquired by the student, etc. As this information would be recorded with the institute, it is important that mistakes are not made while filling the form. Therefore, it is essential to know about the rules of filling the OMR admission form.

- ◆ The students should take several photocopies of the admission form before filling up the actual form. It would be best to practise on these photocopies first. This would prevent the occurrence of unnecessary errors on the original form.
- ◆ Remember that a tampered OMR admission form cannot be scanned properly. Ensure that it is not folded.
- ◆ Always use a black or blue ballpoint pen for filling the form. Most institutes specify the colour of the pen to be used on the form.
- ◆ Never use a stapler on the form. If you have to attach your photograph on the form, always do it with glue.
- ◆ The circles that you have to fill should be completely shaded. Light or half-filled circles would not be read by the scanner software.

The OMR admission form is a document that would help you to secure admission in a college or university. Hence, make sure that you fill the form carefully without making any errors.

Whose fault?

1. A 20 - year - old BCA student met with an accident – his bike rammed a tractor parked on the roadside that had iron rods sticking out. It was dark and around midnight. Arjun did not see the rods. They pierced his eyes, severely injuring his brain. A passerby saw him lying on the road and informed the family.

2. Even today that telephone call is vivid in Arjun's father's mind. That call changed everything. Arjun was his only child. The family rushed to the hospital, where Arjun had been taken. Doctors told them that he was brain dead. Even though his heart was beating and he was breathing, he was in fact dead. The precious life of a young man was lost!

3. Why did this happen, even after the government has banned vehicles from carrying rods, pipes or any protruding material beyond the body frame? The road transport ministry has deleted the provision in the Central Motor Vehicle Rules that allows protrusions up to one meter.

4. The Supreme Court had sought the centre's response in this regard, because thousands of motorists die every year in accidents caused by trucks parked recklessly on highways, many with iron rods protruding from their body frames. The Road Transport Ministry is trying its best to focus on the rule that the material carried in a truck or trailer remains within the length of the vehicle or trailer. But truck drivers seldom follow the law. They do not follow the practice of fixing blinkers at the end point of protruding material to warn vehicles coming from behind.

5. Arjun still lives in 34 lives

Arjun's family bravely put its grief behind and came forward to give the gift of life to others. They asked the doctors to harvest their son's organs - a decision that would help save at least 34 people.

6. Arjun's heart valve, pancreas, cornea and at least 20 other organs were preserved for transplant, said doctors at AIIMS Trauma Centre where the organ retrieval was conducted; matching recipients were identified and the transplants carried out simultaneously.

7. Arjun's family has set an example and created an awareness about organ donation among the family members of brain dead persons. Many families are unable to understand or accept what brain death means. A senior forensic expert says, "Brain death means the irreversible loss of brain functions which has to be certified by a team of experts as per the law. Once a patient is declared brain dead, more than 37 different organs and tissues can be harvested, including the heart, liver, lung, kidney and pancreas among others."

8. AIIMS has reported a threefold increase in the number of such donations after Arjun's gift of life to 34 people. Arjun is physically not alive today, but he continues to live in those who have received his organs. He has become a source of inspiration to many others who are coming forward to donate organs.

9. Experts say that more than 3000 patients die in India for want of organ donors. In India, there are just 0.08 organ donors per million people. The Director of Health Services, says a central body called National Organ and Tissue Transplant Organization (NOTTO) is being set up to increase the availability of organs from cadaver donors, build capacity for organ retrieval and transplantation and roll out post transplant services to recipients and living donors.

Somebody's Mother

- Mary Dow Brine

The woman was old and ragged and gray
And bent with the chill of the Winter's day.

The street was wet with a recent snow
And the woman's feet were aged and slow.

She stood at the crossing and waited long,
Alone, uncared for, amid the throng

Of human beings who passed her by
Nor heeded the glance of her anxious eyes.

Down the street, with laughter and shout,
Glad in the freedom of "school let out,"

Came the boys like a flock of sheep,
Hailing the snow piled white and deep.

Past the woman so old and gray
Hastened the children on their way.

Nor offered a helping hand to her—
So meek, so timid, afraid to stir

Lest the carriage wheels or the horses' feet
Should crowd her down in the slippery street.

At last came one of the merry troop,
The gayest laddie of all the group;

He paused beside her and whispered low,
"I'll help you cross, if you wish to go."

Her aged hand on his strong young arm
She placed, and so, without hurt or harm,

He guided the trembling feet along,
Proud that his own were firm and strong.

Then back again to his friends he went,
His young heart happy and well content.

"She's somebody's mother, boys, you know,
For all she's aged and poor and slow,

And I hope some fellow will lend a hand
To help my mother, you understand,

If ever she's poor and old and gray,
When her own dear boy is far away."

And "somebody's mother" bowed low her head
In her home that night, and the prayer she said

Was "God be kind to the noble boy,
Who is somebody's son, and pride and joy!"

PAPER PRESENTATION

Paper presentation is all about how you present your topic in front of an audience. Hence, the way you present the topic, the way you put across your points, presentation style and language are important.

Paper presentations must be dynamic, informative and enjoyable. Here are some guidelines to help you prepare for it.

1. Know the requirements: Know how long your presentation should be. Know how many points you have to cover. Check if you must include visuals.

2. Know your audience: Know the background of the audience – what they know and what they don't know about the topic that you are going to present. If it is your own classmates, you will know how to break your paper down and what to gloss over.

3. Create a script for your presentation: It is always good to have notes written down for what you plan to say. This way you will be able to remember everything that you want to say and you will sound like you are talking. You will also be able to make eye contact. Number your points to avoid getting mixed up.

4. Design visual aids to make your presentation better: You can use visual aids like slides, graphics, charts and bullet points to make your presentation more captivating.

5. Think in terms of conversation: You are going to address a human audience. So, it's okay to be repetitive. But make sure to emphasize important ideas.

6. Practise before you present: Practise as many times as you need to overcome nervousness. Welcome your audience and remember to thank them at the end of the presentation. Then open the floor for any questions and be prepared to answer them.

Below are some topics that can be used for paper presentations. Choose one of the topics and present a paper for about 3 to 5 minutes.

1. Challenges on the road
2. Infrastructure
3. Keep safe, stay alive.
4. Innovative measures to ease traffic.

Act 1

William Shakespeare's 'As You Like It' is set in France in the early 1600s and follows the love story of Rosalind and Orlando. The action takes place at the court of Duke Frederick and in the nearby Forest of Arden. As the play opens, Orlando is quarreling with his elder brother Oliver over his inheritance. He complains that Oliver has not given him a proper gentleman's education after the death of their father. Oliver threatens Orlando, and Orlando grabs Oliver by the throat and defies his older brother before releasing him. After the fight, Oliver persuades the wrestler Charles to injure Orlando in a wrestling match the next day. Meanwhile Frederick's daughter Celia tries to cheer up her dear cousin Rosalind, who is depressed because her father, Duke Senior, has been banished by his usurping brother, Duke Frederick.

Rosalind and Celia attend the wrestling match and they meet Orlando, who easily beats Charles despite the brute's undefeated status. Orlando and Rosalind fall in love at first sight, and Rosalind gives him a necklace as a prize for winning. When Duke Frederick learns that Orlando's father is his former enemy, he is displeased. Immediately thereafter, Orlando is warned by his servant Adam that his brother plans to kill him that night. Faced with no options, Orlando flees to the Forest of Arden, and loyal Adam accompanies him. Orlando is not the only one to displease Duke Frederick; Duke Frederick has become disenchanted with Rosalind, believing that she outshines his daughter Celia. He banishes Rosalind from court, and Celia decides to follow her into exile in Arden as she cannot bear to be parted from her dearest friend. The two adopt disguises, with Rosalind becoming the young man Ganymede and Celia pretending to be Aliena, a peasant girl. Touchstone the fool goes with them.

Duke Senior, Rosalind's father, and his men have taken up residence in the Forest of Arden during his exile. Among them is the witty, philosophical Jacques, who enjoys being depressed and never misses an opportunity to bemoan his situation. The men hunt for deer and set up a picnic under a tree when Orlando bursts upon them with a sword. He is desperate for food for himself and Adam as the old man is weak from hunger and travel. Duke Senior graciously invites them both to join his party.

Act 3

Back at court Duke Frederick has discovered Celia missing, and he believes she and Rosalind have gone off with Orlando. He then takes Oliver's lands into temporary custody and sends Oliver to find his brother with the hope of locating Celia.

Orlando writes love poems to Rosalind and posts them on trees throughout the forest. In her disguise as Ganymede, Rosalind issues a witty challenge to Orlando. She claims she can cure him of his love if he will woo her as if she were Rosalind. He agrees to do so and promises to meet her later. At the same time, Touchstone has fallen in love with goat herder Audrey and tries to arrange a quick wedding, which Jacques talks him out of, in favour of a more official ceremony. As Rosalind and Celia wait for Orlando, they witness a spat between the young shepherd Silvius and shepherdess Phoebe, who scorns his love. Rosalind intervenes in as Ganymede, advising Phoebe to accept the young man, but instead Phoebe falls instantly for Ganymede.

Orlando arrives late, and Ganymede scolds him for his tardiness, claiming there is no true love in him. Nonetheless, she allows him to woo her, and they agree to meet again later that day after Orlando attends on Duke Senior. This time while they wait, Silvius delivers to Ganymede a letter from Phoebe and is shocked to learn that it is a love letter. He departs, and Oliver arrives bearing a bloody handkerchief. He explains that Orlando has rescued him from a snake and a lion, and was wounded in the fray. The two, Oliver and Orlando, have been reconciled through Orlando's brave act. Ganymede faints but quickly recovers from it and says it was merely playacting.

Ganymede devises a plan to bring all the couples together to be married the next day. She promises to marry Phoebe if Phoebe will have her and extracts a promise from Phoebe that she will marry Silvius if she doesn't marry Ganymede.

Everyone gathers the next day, and Rosalind reveals her disguise as Ganymede. Her father, Duke Senior, gives her to Orlando to wed, and Phoebe agrees to marry Silvius as promised. Touchstone and Audrey will also be married, as will Celia and Oliver, who have fallen in love at first sight. The God of marriage, Hymen, performs the ceremony. Just then another brother of Oliver and Orlando arrives with the news that Duke Frederick has turned over a new leaf and returned his wealth, lands, and position to Duke Senior. The nobles resolve to return to court after the wedding celebration, but Jacques vows to follow Duke Frederick. The play ends with an epilogue in which Rosalind begs the favour of the audience in the form of applause for the actors.

AS YOU LIKE IT (paraphrased) ACT - I

This play by William Shakespeare stands for all times; he is acclaimed for his opening scenes that exposes vividly the plot and introduces all the main characters sequentially and ties a knot which is untied in the subsequent acts and scenes.

Act I Scene 1

Enter ORLANDO and ADAM

ORLANDO: I remember, Adam, that's why my father only left me a thousand crowns in his will. And as you know, my father commanded my brother, Oliver, to make sure that I was brought up well—and that's where my sadness begins. Oliver keeps my brother Jacques away at school, and everyone says he's doing extremely well there. I ask you, is this any way to treat a gentleman as nobly born as I am, to pen me in like an ox? His horses get treated better than I do—at least he feeds them and trains them properly, and spends a lot of money on trainers for them. He gives me plenty of nothing, and takes away everything else, letting me eat with his servants, refusing me what's owed me as his brother, and ruining my good birth with a poor education. This is what angers me, Adam. My father's temper and spirit, which I think I share, makes me want to mutiny against my brother's tyranny. I won't stand for it any longer, though I haven't yet figured out how to revolt.

(Enter Oliver)

ADAM: Here comes my master, your brother.

ORLANDO: Go hide, Adam, You'll hear how he abuses me.

OLIVER: Hey, you! What are you making here?

ORLANDO: Nothing. I've never been taught how to make anything.

OLIVER: Well, then, what are you messing up?

ORLANDO: I'm helping you mess up one of God's creations. Should I tend your pigs and eat husks with them?

OLIVER: Do you know where you are, sir?

ORLANDO: Yes, sir, very well—I'm here in your orchard.

OLIVER: Do you know whom you're talking to?

ORLANDO: Yes, better than you know me. I know you're my oldest brother and deserve more respect. But we're in the same family, so you should acknowledge that I am a gentleman too. According to custom, as first-born you are my superior. But it's not customary to treat me like I'm not even a gentleman.

OLIVER: (hitting ORLANDO) What nerve!

ORLANDO: (grabbing hold of OLIVER) Come on, big brother; you don't know anything about fighting.

OLIVER: What, you dare put your hands on me, villain?

ORLANDO: I'm no villain. I'm the youngest son of Sir Rowland de Boys, and anyone who claims my father's sons is a villain himself.

ADAM: Gentlemen, calm down. For the sake of your father's memory, make peace.

OLIVER: Let me, go, I say.

ORLANDO: I won't until I'm ready. You will listen to me. My father instructed you in his will to give me a good education. But you've raised me as a peasant, depriving me of the education needed to become a gentleman.

OLIVER: And what are you going to do after you've spent your money? Beg?

ORLANDO: I won't bother you any more than necessary.

OLIVER: (to ADAM) And you get lost too, you old dog.

ADAM: Is that my reward—to be called “old dog?” Well, it's true, I've served this family so long I've gotten old and toothless, like a dog. God bless my old master. He would never have spoken to me like this.

(ORLANDO and ADAM exit.)

OLIVER: Is that how it's going to be? Are you starting to challenge me? I'll cure you of your insolence, and I'm not going to give you a thousand crowns, either!—

Hey, Dennis!

(DENNIS enters.)

DENNIS: Did you call for me, your Worship?

OLIVER: Wasn't Charles, the duke's wrestler, here to speak with me?

DENNIS: Yes, sir, he's here at the door right now and asks to see you.

OLIVER: Call him in. (exits) I have a good plan. And tomorrow is the wrestling match.

1. Name the two sons of Sir Rowland de Boys.
2. How is Orlando treated by his brother?
3. Who is Adam?
4. How much money was left in the will for Orlando?
5. What is the name of the Duke's wrestler?

(Charles Enters)

CHARLES: Good morning, sir.

OLIVER: Good Mr. Charles.

DENNIS: Tell me, what's the latest news at the newcourt?

CHARLES: No news but the old news. The old Duke Senior has been banished by his younger brother, the new Duke Frederick. A few loyal lords have gone into exile with Duke Senior, and given up their lands and money to Frederick—so he's happy enough to have them leave.

OLIVER: Can you tell me whether Rosalind, Duke Senior's daughter, has also been banished?

CHARLES: Oh, no. Celia loves her cousin so much that she would have followed Rosalind into exile or died of grief. So Rosalind has stayed at court.

OLIVER: Where will the old duke live?

CHARLES: They say he's already in the Forest of Arden. He has many cheerful men with him, and they live like Robin Hood and his outlaws.

OLIVER: So, are you going to wrestle before the new duke tomorrow?

CHARLES: Indeed I do, sir, and I've come to let you in on a certain problem. I've been informed by certain sources I can't disclose, that your younger brother Orlando plans to fight me in disguise tomorrow. Sir, I'm fighting for my reputation, and any man who gets away without a broken bone or two is an exceptional wrestler indeed. Your brother is young and inexperienced, and because of my affection for you, I'd hate to crush him—though I'd have to, if he challenged me.

OLIVER: Charles, I thank you for your loyalty to me, and you'll see that I'll reward you. I'd heard about my brother's plan and have been subtly trying to change his mind, but he's determined. I tell you, Charles, he's the stubbornest young fellow in France: overly ambitious, jealous of other people's good qualities, and a traitor against me, his own blood brother. So use your discretion. I'd be just as happy if you broke his neck as his finger. It brings me to tears to say this, but there isn't another person alive who is so young and at the same time so wicked. Because he's my brother, I have to take his side.

CHARLES: I'm very glad I came to see you. If he shows up tomorrow, I'll give him what he deserves. If he can manage to walk after our fight, I'll never wrestle for money again. Farewell, my lord.

OLIVER: Take care, Charles.

(CHARLES exits.)

(OLIVER continues.)

Now it's time to get this playboy brother of mine all worked up. I hope I'll see the end of him soon—I don't know why, but I hate nothing in the world as much as him, though he's an upstanding guy. He's never gone to school but he's smart, with good values, and everyone is delighted by him and loves him, especially my subjects, who know him the best. They love him, and therefore they despise me.

(OLIVER exits.)

ACT I SCENE 2

CELIA and ROSALIND enter.

CELIA: Please, Rosalind, my sweet cousin—be happy.

ROSALIND: Dear Celia—I already look much happier than I feel, but you want me to look even happier? Teach me how to forget my banished father, you shouldn't try to teach me how to be happy.

CELIA: Well, by this I can see that you don't love me as much as I love you. If your father had banished my father, I could have learned to love your father as my own, as long as I still had you.

6. Who usurped the dukedom from Duke Senior?
7. Name the daughters of the two dukes.
8. Why is Rosalind sad?

TOUCHSTONE: Mistress, you have to go see your father.

CELIA: Did they make you the messenger?

TOUCHSTONE: No, but they told me to come get you.

CELIA: No more talk about my father; you'll be whipped for slander.

TOUCHSTONE: It's a pity that fools aren't allowed to speak wisely about the foolish things that wise men do.

CELIA: Honestly, you're speaking the truth—ever since the fools were silenced, the foolishness of wise men has become all the more apparent. Here comes Monsieur Le Beau.

(LE BEAU enters.)

ROSALIND: With his mouth full of news.

CELIA: Which he'll shove down our throats the way pigeons feed their young.

ROSALIND: Then we'll be stuffed with news.

LE BEAU: Fair princess, you've missed some good sport.

CELIA: What sport?

LE BEAU: I was going to tell you all about a good wrestling match that's going on, which you're missing.

ROSALIND: Tell us about this wrestling.

LE BEAU: I'll tell you about the beginning, and if you find that interesting you can see the end. The best is yet to come, and they're going to perform it right here.

LE BEAU: There comes an old man with his three sons—

CELIA: It sounds like the beginning of an old folktale.

LE BEAU: Three proper young men, all good looking and with great presence—All the three brothers wrestled with Charles, the duke's wrestler. They're now lying over there, and the poor old man, their father, weeps so piteously over them that the whole audience has joined him in grieving.

ROSALIND: Oh, dear!

TOUCHSTONE: But tell me, monsieur—what sport are the ladies missing?

LE BEAU: Why, the one I just told you about.

TOUCHSTONE: Men must be getting wiser every day; that's the first time I've heard that rib-breaking was appropriate entertainment for ladies.

LE BEAU: You're going to have to, if you stay here. This is the place they're scheduled to wrestle, and they're ready to go.

CELIA: Yes, I see them coming. Let's stay and watch. (Trumpets play. DUKE FREDERICK, lords, ORLANDO, CHARLES, and attendants enter)

DUKE FREDERICK: Come on. Since the youth won't be reasoned with, he'll have to suffer for his stubbornness.

ROSALIND: Is that the man?

LE BEAU: That's him, madam.

CELIA: Alas, he is too young. Yet he seems capable.

DUKE FREDERICK: What's up, daughter and niece? Have you snuck over here to watch the wrestling?

ROSALIND: Yes, my lord, if you give us permission.

DUKE FREDERICK: You won't enjoy it much, I can tell you, the odds are so against this young man. Because he's so young, I've tried to discourage him, but he won't listen. Talk to him, ladies. See if you can persuade him.

9. Who is Touchstone?
10. Find out the meaning of "Touchstone" from a dictionary.
11. Who brings the news about the wrestling match?
12. What happened to the three brothers who wrestled with Charles?

CELIA: Call him over here, good Monsieur Le Beau.

LE BEAU: Mister Challenger, the princess wants to speak to you.

ORLANDO: I'll wait on them with all respect and duty.

ROSALIND: Young man, have you challenged Charles the Wrestler?

ORLANDO: No, lovely princess. He is the general challenger. I have only come in—like the others have—to try to fight him with the strength of my youth.

CELIA: Young gentleman, you are too bold for your age. You have seen the cruel proof of this man's strength. If you took a good look at yourself, or if you thought about this more carefully, your fear would teach you to act more cautiously. We beg you, for your own sake, to respect your safety and give up.

ROSALIND: Please, young sir. We'll make sure your reputation isn't hurt; we'll take it upon ourselves to argue with the duke that the wrestling match should be called off.

ORLANDO: I beg you not to think poorly of me—though I suppose anyone who could deny anything to such beautiful women deserves to be scorned. But please, send me good thoughts in this match.

ROSALIND: I wish I could give you the little strength that I have.

CELIA: Mine too, to join hers.

ROSALIND: Good luck. I hope to God I'm wrong about your chances.

CELIA: I hope you get what you desire!

CHARLES: Come on, where's the young show-off who's so eager to lie with mother earth?

ORLANDO: Ready, sir, but I have more modest ambitions.

DUKE FREDERICK: You get only one round.

CHARLES: No, I'm sure your Grace won't be able to persuade him to try a second round.

ORLANDO: You should mock me after you've beaten me, not before. Come on.

ROSALIND: Hercules give you speed, young man!

CELIA: I wish I were invisible, so I could grab that strong fellow by the leg. (They wrestle).

ROSALIND: Oh, what an excellent young man!

CELIA: If I could shoot lightning bolts from my eyes, I can tell you who'd be on the ground.

(Orlando throws Charles. The crowd shouts.)

DUKE FREDERICK: No more, no more.

ORLANDO: Oh, come on, your Grace—I'm barely out of breath.

DUKE FREDERICK: How are you doing, Charles?

LE BEAU: He can't speak, my lord.

DUKE FREDERICK: Carry him away.
What is your name, young man?

ORLANDO: Orlando, my lord, the youngest son of Sir Rowland de Boys.

DUKE FREDERICK: I wish you were someone else's son. The whole world thought your father was an honourable man, but he was always my enemy. But good luck; you are a brave young man.

(DUKE FREDERICK, his train, and LE BEAU exit).

CELIA: If I were my father, cousin, would
I do this?

ORLANDO: I'm proud to be Sir Rowland's son—his youngest son—and I would never change that, not even to be Frederick's adopted heir.

ROSALIND: My father loved Sir Rowland as much as he loved his own soul, and the rest of the world shared my father's opinion. If I had known this young man was his son, I would have tried harder to convince him not to fight.

CELIA: Gentle cousin, let's go thank him and encourage him. My father's rude and envious behaviour is like a knife through my heart. (to ORLANDO) Sir, you fought very well. If you live up to your potential in love as well, your wife will be a very happy woman.

ROSALIND: (giving him a chain from her neck) Gentleman, wear this for me.
I'm a woman who's down on her luck,
and I'd give more if I could. Shall we go, cousin?

CELIA: Yes. Good luck, fair gentleman.
(ROSALIND and CELIA exit).

ORLANDO: (to himself) Can't I even say "thank you"? I left my brain back on the wrestling field. What's left of me is a dummy, just a lifeless block. What is this passion that ties up my tongue? I can't speak to her, even though she asked me to. Oh, poor Orlando, you've been overthrown!
Either Charles or some prettier thing has mastered you.

(LE BEAU enters).

LE BEAU: Good sir, as a friend, I advise you to leave this place. Although you deserve praise, applause, and love, right now the duke misconstrues everything you've done. The duke is temperamental.
I'm sure you can imagine what I mean without my having to spell it out.

ORLANDO: Thank you, sir. Now please tell me this: which of the two ladies who were at the wrestling match is the duke's daughter?

LE BEAU: Neither one is his daughter, to judge from their good manners. But really, the smaller one is his daughter. The other is the daughter of the banished duke.
Goodbye, sir. Later, in a better world than this, I'd love to get to know you.

ORLANDO: I'm indebted to you.
Goodbye.

(LE BEAU exits.)

ORLANDO (continues) Out of the frying pan and into the fire—from a tyrant duke to a tyrant brother! But, oh, heavenly Rosalind!

(ORLANDO exits.)

13. Who dissuades the challenger from wrestling with Charles? Why?
14. What is the answer given by Orlando to the ladies?
15. Who succeeds in the wrestling match?
16. What does Rosalind give Orlando as a gift?
17. What is the advice given by Le Beau to Orlando?
18. Explain the term “Out of the frying pan, into the fire”.

ACT I SCENE 3

(CELIA and ROSALIND enter.)

CELIA: What's going on, Rosalind? Cupid have mercy! You won't utter a single word?

ROSALIND: I could cry.

CELIA: Come on, take control of your feelings.

ROSALIND: Look, here comes the duke.

DUKE FREDERICK (enters with lords)

CELIA: He looks angry.

DUKE FREDERICK: Madam, hurry as fast as you can get out of my court.

Rosalind: Me, Uncle?

Duke Frederick: You, niece. In ten days time, if you're found within twenty miles of the court, you'll die for it.

Rosalind: Please, your Grace, tell me what crime I have committed. If I know my own thoughts and desires, and I'm not dreaming or crazy—which I'm sure I'm not—then, dear uncle, I've never had so much as a half-formed thought that would have offended you.

Duke Frederick: All traitors protest like this. If they could purge their guilt simply by saying that they were innocent, they'd all be as innocent as God Himself. I don't trust you. Enough said.

ROSALIND: But your mistrust alone can't make me a traitor. On what basis do you suspect me?

19. What is the new order spelled out by Duke Fredrick? Why?
20. What is the treason committed by Rosalind?
21. Who is in Forest of Arden?

DUKE FREDERICK: You are your father's daughter. That's enough.

ROSALIND: I was his daughter when your Highness took my father's dukedom. I was his daughter when you banished him. Treason is not inherited, my lord. But even if we did inherit it from our family, what does that have to do with me? My father wasn't a traitor. So, please, my lord, don't assume that I'm treacherous just because I'm poor, with no titles to my name.

CELIA: Dear master, listen to me.

DUKE FREDERICK: Yes, Celia, we kept her here for your sake. Otherwise, she would have been banished with her father.

CELIA: At that time, I didn't beg you to keep her here; you wanted her here, and you felt guilty. I was too young at the time to appreciate her value, but now I know her. If she's a traitor, why then, so am I.

DUKE FREDERICK: She's too devious for you. Her smoothness, her silence, and her patient suffering appeal to the people, and they pity her. You're a fool. She's robbing you of the attention you deserve. You will seem even brighter and more virtuous when she's out of the picture. So be quiet. The sentence I've passed down on her is firm and unshakeable. She is banished.

CELIA: Then lay that sentence on me too, my lord. I cannot live without her.

DUKE FREDERICK: You are a fool.—You, niece, prepare to leave. On my honour and by my word, if you outstay the ten days, you will die.

(Exit DUKE FREDERICK and lords)

CELIA: Oh, my poor Rosalind, where will you go? Do you want to exchange fathers? I'll give you mine. I insist, don't be more distressed than I am.

ROSALIND: I have more reason to be distressed.

CELIA: No you haven't, cousin. Please, be cheerful. Don't you realize the duke has also banished me, his daughter?

ROSALIND: No, he hasn't.

CELIA: Oh, he hasn't? Well, then, you don't have the affection that would teach you that you and I are one. Will we be separated? Should we part, sweet girl? No. Let my father find another heir. So, help me plan how we'll escape, where we'll go, and what we'll take with us.

ROSALIND: But where will we go?

CELIA: To the Forest of Arden, to find your father.

ROSALIND: But what danger we'll put ourselves in, two young, innocent women travelling so far! Fresh beauty attracts thugs and thieves even more than money.

CELIA: I'll put on some poor and ragged clothes and smudge my face with dirt. You do the same, and we'll be able to travel without attracting any attackers' attention.

ROSALIND: Wouldn't it be better—since I'm unusually tall for a woman—to dress myself like a man? I'll wear a big sword in my belt, carry a boar-spear in my hand, and hide all my womanish fear in my heart. We'll maintain a swaggering, warrior look, like so many cowardly men, whose manner has nothing to do with what they're feeling.

CELIA: What should I call you when you're a man?

ROSALIND: I'll take no lesser name than that of Jove's own servant. So call me Ganymede. And what will you be called?

CELIA: Something that refers to my current state. Instead of Celia, call me Aliena.

ROSALIND: Cousin, what if we brought that clownish fool of your father's court, Touchstone? Wouldn't he be a comfort to us in our travels?

CELIA: He'd walk the whole wide world with me. Leave me alone to go convince him. Let's go gather our jewels and money. We'll figure out the best time and safest route to avoid being found out by my father's guards, whom he'll send out as soon as he discovers I've gone. Now, we go contentedly to freedom— not banishment.

(They exit.)

22. Why do Rosalind and Celia decide to go to the forest?
23. What are the dangers of young girls travelling?
24. What is the solution they find for travelling?
25. Describe the disguise discussed by Rosalind.
26. What were the names taken by them while in disguise?

Further Reading

Just to spice up! Here are some idioms used by William Shakespeare in his plays:

1. Nay, if our wits run the wild-goose chase, I am done, for thou hast more of the wild-goose in one of thy wits than, I am sure, I have in my whole five. Was I with you there for the goose?" — Mercutio

This term didn't originally refer to actual geese, but rather a type of horse race.

2. "O, beware, my lord, of jealousy! It is the green-eyed monster, which doth mock the meat it feeds on." — Iago

Before Shakespeare, the colour green was most commonly associated with illness. Shakespeare turned the notion of being sick with jealousy into a metaphor that we still use today.

3. "Be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny. Get thee to a nunnery, go." — Hamlet

"Lawn as white as driven snow." — Autolycus

Though Shakespeare never actually used the full phrase "pure as driven snow," both parts of it appear in his work. For the record, this simile works best right after the snow falls, and not a few hours later when tires and footprints turn it into brown slush.

4. "True is it that we have seen better days and have with holy bell been knolled to church, and sat at good men's feasts and wiped our eyes of drops that sacred pity hath engendered." — Duke Senior

The first recorded use of "seen better days" actually appeared in Sir Thomas More's work in 1590, but the play was written anonymously, and is often at least partially attributed to Shakespeare. We do know Shakespeare was a fan of the phrase; he uses "seen better days" in As You Like It, and then again in Timon of Athens.

5. "This is a way to kill a wife with kindness, and thus I'll curb her mad and headstrong humor." — Petruchio. The Shakespeare canon would contain fewer dead bodies if his characters all believed they should kill their enemies with kindness instead of knives and poison.

Read the following poem carefully.

c. THE BIRD SANCTUARY - Sarojini Naidu.

In your quiet garden wakes a magic tumult
Of winged choristers that keep the Festival of Dawn,
Blithely rise the carols in richly cadenced rapture,
From lyric throats of amber, of ebony and fawn.

The bulbul and the oriole, the honey-bird and shama
Flit among high boughs that drip with nectar and with dew,
Upon the grass the wandering gull parades its sea-washed silver.
The hoopoe and the kingfisher their bronze and sapphire blue.

Wild gray pigeons dreaming of a home amid the tree-tops,
Fill their beaks with silken down and slender banyan twigs.
But the jade-green gipsy parrots are only gay marauders.
And pause upon their sun-ward flight to plunder red ripe figs.

In your gracious garden there is joy and fostering freedom.
Nesting place and singing space for every feathered thing,
O Master of the Birds, grant sanctuary and shelter
Also to a homing bird that bears a broken wing.

"Quack!"
said the duck,
unconsciously so,
since he was a duck.
"Quack!" his friend responded,
since he, too, was a vocal duck.
(Much quacking ensued)
Between the two day in, day out one winter day, till,
of them,
until...
for that was the first duck's name; of course, named his well... his full, obviously, to speak. There was not a quack nor a quack then; for that was duck number two's name, looked on incredulously... how could it be that Bill could not utter a quack? Bill was obviously suffering from some dreadful malady.

Speaking

PRONUNCIATION

Pronunciation is an indispensable aspect of learning a language. In this section the different sounds in English viz, vowels, diphthongs and consonants are given, with the main objectives being:

- ❖ to pronounce vowel and consonant sounds of English
- ❖ to create awareness about the spelling–pronunciation mismatch in English
- ❖ to check understanding of
 - one sound–many spellings
 - one letter–many pronunciations

(Note: the order of the sounds is rearranged to match the order in which Tamil sounds are learnt which the learners may be familiar with)

STRESS

Speaking is generally considered the hardest skill to master in English. This is because the English language has unique concepts called STRESS AND INTONATION, which is essential to communicate effectively.

Stress is the emphasis given to select sounds / syllables in words. This means, some sounds/syllables are pronounced louder than the others. The syllable which is pronounced the loudest is called the stressed syllable.

Note: A SYLLABLE is a unit formed by a vowel with one or more consonants. Syllables combine to form words.

Unlike Indian languages where all syllables are pronounced with equal degree of loudness, in English only one syllable in a word is stressed. The other syllables are pronounced less louder than the stressed syllable, some may not be heard at all. This is why we do not follow the English spoken by native speakers.

The stressed syllable in a word is constant. For example, heat, party, energy, memory, employee, philosophical, administration.

In spoken language, grammatical or form words such as auxiliary verbs, prepositions, pronouns, articles etc., are generally not stressed. Lexical or content words, such as nouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, linkers must have at least one stressed syllable.

However, there is no rule to decide which syllable should be stressed in a polysyllabic word (word with more than one syllable). They have to be learnt consciously using a dictionary.

Lexical words (nouns, verbs, adjectives and adverbs) are stressed.

Grammatical words (auxiliaries, prepositions, pronouns, articles) do not receive any stress.

In words with weak suffixes, the root of the word is stressed.

Compound Nouns take the stress on the first syllable.

Compound adjectives take the stress on the second syllable.

Compound Verbs take the stress on the second syllable.

Inflectional words do not change their stress pattern even after the suffix is added.

Derivational words change from parts of speech to another and so their utterance varies and so does the stress.

Words ending with -ic, -sion, -tion are stressed on the penultimate syllable. (second from the end).

Words ending with -cy, -ty, -phy, -gy, -al are stressed on the ante-penultimate syllable. (third from the end)

Syllable stress is usually indicated by a (') mark over the syllable, as is seen in dictionaries. In the above examples, the spellings that represent the syllables are highlighted.

In sentences, we stress only some words and pronounce them louder than the others. By emphasising on a particular word, we can add/ modify the meaning of the sentence. Note that the basic meaning of the sentence does not undergo any change.

Look at the following example.

I gave her an apple yesterday.

See how the sentence gains in meaning by changing the stress from one word to another.

I gave her an apple yesterday. (Only I gave, not somebody else)

I gave her an apple yesterday. (gave, not bought)

I gave her an apple yesterday. (her and not somebody else)

I gave her an apple yesterday. (apple not banana)

I gave her an apple yesterday. (yesterday, not any other time)

Activity:

a. Read the following sentences aloud stressing on different words.

1. I told you to buy me a bunch of flowers.
2. I told you to buy me a bunch of flowers.
3. I told you to buy me a bunch of flowers.

5. I told you to buy me a bunch of flowers.
6. I told you to buy me a bunch of flowers.
7. I told you to buy me a bunch of flowers.

b. Role play this dialogue stressing on the highlighted words.

Babu : Sara, I'm home!

Sara : Hi daddy! How was your day at work?

Babu : It was great! I finished the project successfully. .

Sara : That's great! Congratulations! I'm really happy.

Babu : I have to go to Madurai this weekend so I won't be able to meet your friends, when they come here on Friday. Sorry to let you down dear.

Sara : You're sorry? You're sorry?!?! I'm afraid "sorry" isn't good enough. I've already told them you will be home!

Babu : I know, I know. And I am sorry about it. But as long as you have the chance to see them it's good, right?

Sara : Fine. But we're going to meet them next Friday. No excuses.

Babu : Sure, definitely.

INTONATION

Intonation is the way the pitch of a speaker's voice goes up or down as they speak. Say this sentence: - "Hello" to the following people:

- ❖ a friend you meet often
- ❖ a friend you are meeting after a long time
- ❖ a neighbour who is troublesome
- ❖ a 6 month infant
- ❖ someone you are seeing for the first time
- ❖ to know if someone is in the room
- ❖ the same as above but on the phone

Is there a difference in the way you say 'Hello'? Discuss and share your views.

The difference is because you raise or lower your voice according to your attitude towards the person. This change in the pitch of your voice is called Intonation.

Types of Intonation

There are four types of Intonation: Falling, Rising, Fall-rise and Rise-fall.

They are denoted by the following signs:

- | | |
|---------------|---------------|
| Falling - \ | Rising - / |
| Fall-Rise - v | Rise-Fall - ^ |

Falling tone is the most common type of intonation in English. It is used for asking and giving information in a normal, quiet, style. Usually statements, that are categorical, confident and convincing, are expressed in this tone.

Standard patterns:

Falling tone is used on the last stressed syllable of the sentence in Statements(declarative sentences):

We live in \Chennai.
He doesn't have the \book.

Questions:

What do you \want?

Commands (imperative sentences):

Close the \door.
Come \here.

Exclamatory sentences:

What a pleasant sur\prise!
Amazing \shot!

The last part of alternative questions (after "or")

Would you like to have coffee or \tea?
Do you want a pen or a pen \cil?

Tag questions(When the answer is sure to be 'yes')

You live here, don't \you?

Rising intonation in English expresses a number of emotions such as : non-finality, surprise, doubt, politeness, interest, lack of confidence etc. Standard rising intonation in English usually goes down a little first and then rises up.

Rising intonation is used in

Statement intended to be a question

You came here to/day? (I thought you came last night.)
He left so /early? (I thought he would wait.)

Statement intended to be reassuring

I will come with /you. (So don't worry.)

Yes/No Questions (Polar Questions)

Can you /show it?
Have you fi/nished?

Exclamations intended to be a question

Re/ally? (I never thought so.)
/What? (unbelievable)

Greetings and Wishes

Good /Morning!
He/llo!
Happy New Year!

Rhetorical Question

Who knows what will /happen?
Can Spring be far be/hind?

Apostrophes / Direct address

The child is father of the /man!
Sir, you dropped your/ phone.

Requests

/Please sit down.

/Don't forget to send it.

Fall Rise Tone (v)

Tag questions: (When not sure that the answer will be 'Yes')

It's a beautiful movie, ^v isn't it ?

I gave it to you, didn't ^v I?

Express Contrasts

I came to buy a /laptop not a ^v desktop.

The teacher asked for the /book not the ^v paper.

Rise-Fall Tone (Λ)

Enumerating items in a list

She bought pens, ^Λpencils^Λand ^Λerasers.

^Λ I came, ^Λ I saw, ^Λ I conquered!

NOTE MAKING

Given below is a sample for note making.

MADHUBANI PAINTING

Madhubani painting is one of the many famous Indian art forms. As it is practised in the Mithila region of Bihar and Nepal, it is called Mithila or Madhubani art. Often characterized by complex geometrical patterns, these paintings are known for representing particular occasions, including festivals, religious rituals, etc. The colours used in Madhubani paintings are usually derived from plants and other natural sources. These colours are often bright and pigments like lampblack and ochre are used to create black and brown respectively. Instead of contemporary brushes, objects like twigs, matchsticks and even fingers are used to create the paintings.

Madhubani paintings originated in the Mithila region of Bihar. Some of the initial references to the Madhubani painting can be found in the Hindu epic Ramayana when King Janaka, Sita’s father, asks his painters to create Madhubani paintings for his daughter’s wedding. The knowledge was passed down from generation to generation and the paintings began to adorn the houses of the region. The women of the village practiced these paintings on the walls of their respective home. Their paintings often illustrated their thoughts, hopes and dreams.

Over time, Madhubani paintings became a part of festivities and special events like weddings. Slowly, this art attracted connoisseurs of art as many contemporary Indian artists took the art to the global stage. The traditional base of plastered mud wall was soon replaced by handmade paper, cloth and canvas. Since the paintings have been confined to a limited geographical range, the themes as well as the style are more or less the same.

Madhubani paintings were initially practised by different sects of people and hence the paintings were categorized into five different styles, such as Tantrik, Kohbar, Bharni, Godna, Katchni. But today, these five different styles have been merged by contemporary artists. The themes used in these paintings often revolve around Hindu deities like Krishna, Rama, Lakshmi, Shiva, Durga and Saraswati. Also, heavenly bodies like the Sun and the Moon often form the centerpiece of Madhubani paintings. The women of the village practised these paintings on the walls of their respective homes.

One can also find paintings based on the scenes from the royal courts and social events like weddings. The usage of geometrical patterns is apparent in these paintings. The fact that these complex mathematical patterns were used in Madhubani paintings makes them more intriguing and special.

These paintings are also known for their simplicity, for the brush and colours used are often derived from natural sources. While the paintings are largely made using powdered rice, colours are derived from turmeric, pollen, pigments, indigo, various flowers, sandalwood, and leaves of various plants and trees, etc. Also, many natural sources are combined and are processed to obtain the desired colours. The colours are often prepared by the artists themselves. If the artists come across empty spaces even after completing the painting, they usually fill up those empty spaces with the motifs of flowers, animals, birds and geometrical patterns. A double line is usually drawn as the border.

Warm up

“In the face of impossible odds, people who love their country can change it.”
-Barack Obama

Start Civic Sense from your side

Others will just follow you

“Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country.”
- John. F. Kennedy

1. Observe the pictures carefully and discuss the connect between them with the title of the unit.

2. Work in pairs and complete the table below:

Evidence of lack of civic sense	Step(s) to combat / improve civic sense
Garbage strewn	Provide dust bins
Defacing monuments	Strict laws and penalty

3. Many people assume that civic sense is just about keeping the roads, streets and public property clean. But it is much more than that. It has to do with respecting fellow beings, and the law, maintaining decorum in public places, defending the country and so on.

In short, civic sense is nothing but social ethics and responsibilities.

The above aspects can be broadly classified under

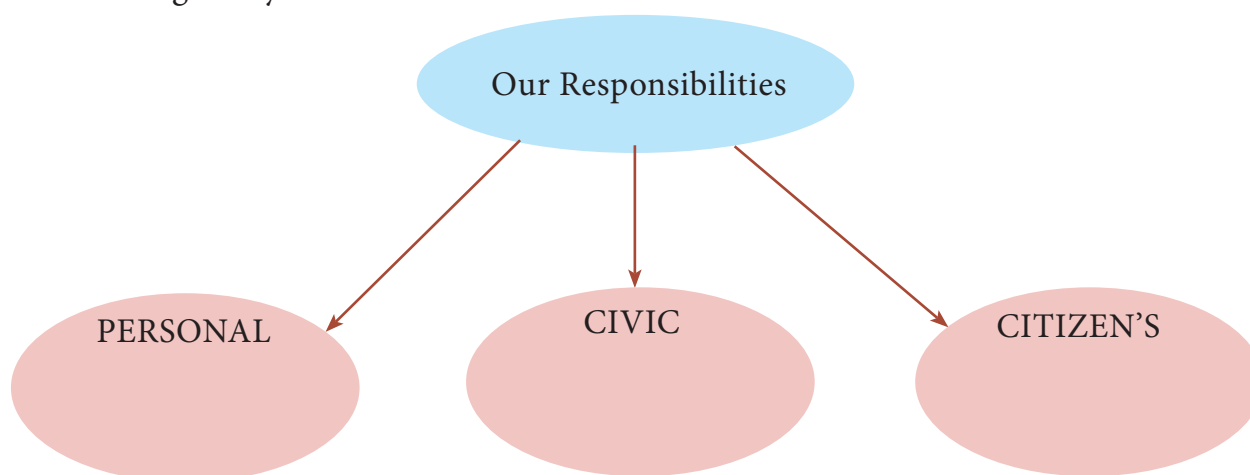

❖ Personal responsibility

❖ Civic responsibility

❖ Citizen's responsibility

Now read the following actions carefully and write the numbers given against each action under the appropriate heading given in the bubbles that follow.

1. Considering the rights and interest of others
2. Caring for and supporting family members
3. Staying informed about the issues affecting one's country
4. Accepting the consequences of one's actions
5. Paying the taxes levied by the government
6. Casting one's vote
7. Defending the constitution
8. Behaving in a civilized manner
9. Cherishing the noble ideals which inspired our fighters
10. Taking care of public property
11. Adhering to moral principles
12. Participating in a democratic process
13. Promoting harmony and brotherhood
14. Upholding and protecting the sovereignty and unity of one's country
15. Following safety rules

Reading

a. Read the following passage carefully.

GREAT INITIATIVES

FOOD BANK AND BEACH CLEANING

1. One of the major problems today is food wastage. It is estimated that 30 percent of all the food produced around the world is lost, trashed or otherwise wasted every year. These statistics are staggering, especially when you consider how many people around the world need that food to survive.

2. A restaurant owner, Minu Pauline of Kochi, had a solution after seeing a hungry woman pick through trash one night. She decided to donate her restaurant's left over food to the hungry. This initiative of hers soon became a major city-wide campaign. Pauline stored the café's eats in a refrigerator outside her Kochi restaurant.

Soon her small "left overs" refrigerator turned to a large scale donation centre with food from her kitchen and those of other restaurants nearby. Even other citizens donated food to this food bank as a way of helping out. It is open 24 hours a day and is never surveilled, allowing those in need to maintain their privacy while collecting donated food.

3. Best of all, the food bank provides food for dozens of locals every night, thereby cutting the food waste among the local restaurants. This has become the best example of civic sense and responsibility in recent times.

Beach clean up

4. We come across a lot of people who take part in community clean-up efforts. But not everyone has the drive to do what a young lawyer and environmentalist in Mumbai recently accomplished.

5. Afroj Shah was shocked by the pollution that he saw at Versova beach – rotting garbage. No one could walk along the beach, let alone swim in the water. He decided to protect the environment.

6. Initially Shah and his neighbour, an eighty-four-year-old man, would go out and pick as much trash as they could. After a while, Shah realised that he had to expand his team if he were to make a dent in what was essentially an environmental crisis. He began to knock on doors and talk to local residents, explaining the harm caused by marine pollution. His determination inspired a lot of people and soon dozens, hundreds and eventually more than a thousand volunteers from all walks of life pitched in. Clean-ups were ironically called "dates with the ocean", because it was a Herculean task – cleaning the beach in the sweltering sun.

7. This massive undertaking by the Residents Volunteer Organisation is being hailed as the "World's largest beach clean-up effort". After months of toil they picked up tons of trash that had accumulated along the shoreline. They also cleaned fifty two public toilets and planted fifty coconut trees. For his vision and hard work, the UN awarded him the "Champion of the Earth” award. “I am an ocean lover and feel that we owe a duty to our ocean to make it free of plastic,” he told the UN, “I just hope this is the beginning for coastal communities across India and the world.”

8. Shah’s work didn’t end with the last piece of trash picked up. He wanted to plant thousands of coconut trees and to return the beach to the lagoon as it once was. He continued to work to limit the garbage by building barriers along the creek’s upstream that carried litter to the beach.

9. Shah also hopes to bring grassroots clean-up efforts to other parts of India inspiring a nationwide awareness of environmentalism. Ultimately, Shah wants to export this mentality throughout the world, cleaning up oceans, and ecosystems to create a world that can foster life in all its splendour. Thus Afroj Shah and Minu Pauline proved to the world that individuals with great vision and mission can change the surroundings and make the world a better place to live in.

A River

- By A.K. Ramanujan

In Madurai,
city of temples and poets,
who sang of cities and temples, every summer
a river dries to a trickle in the sand,
baring the sand ribs,
straw and women's hair
clogging the watergates
at the rusty bars
under the bridges with patches of repair all over them
the wet stones glistening like sleepy crocodiles, the dry ones shaven water-buffaloes lounging in the sun
The poets only sang of the floods.
He was there for a day
when they had the floods.
People everywhere talked of the inches rising, of the precise number of cobbled steps run over by the water, rising on the bathing places, and the way it carried off three village houses,

one pregnant woman
and a couple of cows named Gopi and Brinda as usual.

The new poets still quoted the old poets, but no one spoke in verse of the pregnant woman

drowned, with perhaps twins in her, kicking at blank walls
even before birth.

He said:
the river has water enough to be poetic about only once a year and then it carries away in the first half-hour
three village houses, a couple of cows named Gopi and Brinda and one pregnant woman expecting identical twins with no moles on their bodies, with different coloured diapers to tell them apart.

b. Process of voting

Very soon you will all be eligible to vote in elections. Check your awareness.

The Election Commission of India is in-charge of everything concerning the process of election. It conducts the elections and has devised certain norms that are listed below.

- ❖ You must first register on the Electoral Roll which is a list of eligible voters. You can even apply online at designated locations or through a booth level officer.
- ❖ You will be issued a Voter ID which you need to present at the polling booth.
- ❖ You are responsible to find out where the polling booth is in your respective constituency.
- ❖ You must familiarize yourself with all the names, parties and the symbols of all the candidates contesting in your locality.
- ❖ You can vote on the Electronic Voting Machines available in the polling booth.

- ❖ You just have to press the button next to your desired candidate's name and symbol. You can also vote NOTA if you are not very keen in choosing any of the candidates contesting. NOTA means 'none of the above'.
- ❖ You will receive a mark of indelible ink on your index finger that signifies that you have voted.
- ❖ You must take pride in casting your vote as every vote counts. A multitude of people voting will surely make a difference. The responsibility lies on every individual.

Remember VOTING IS YOUR RIGHT AND RESPONSIBILITY.

Here is a discussion on the Voting system and the need to exercise one's vote. In a group of three, role play the following.

First time voter (18 yrs old) – excited – eager to vote – sense of identity – franchise – feels proud about it – learns about the electoral system – procedures

Experienced Voter- Experienced voter – committed – exercise the rights – duty bound considers it his right – never missed the chance

NOTA(VOTER) – Not happy with the election system – doesn't want his rights to be misused – wants to show his emphatic stand

Mystery and Adventure

Mission ~~X~~ Impossible

Warm Up

a. The pictures given above are places of mystery. Find out where they are and what is mysterious in these places.

b. It is scientifically proved that solving detective riddles everyday will develop your reasoning skill. Now put on your thinking hat and solve the riddles given below logically.

1) A detective comes to a crime scene. A man is said to have jumped out of a window of an abandoned building and committed suicide. The detective goes inside the building to the first floor, to the room at the front. He goes up to the window through which the man had jumped, opens it and looks at the dead man. Then he goes to the second floor and does the same. He continues until he has visited all the floors and repeated the action. Then he returns to his team and says that it's by no means a suicide, but a murder. How did he find it out?

2) Two young ladies stopped at a fresh fruit juice stall and ordered sweet lime juice with ice. One of them was very thirsty and drank very fast and ordered one more. She had two glasses during the time, the other drank only one. Tragically the girl who was drinking the juice slowly dies while the other stayed alive. But it turned out that all the drinks they had been served contained poison. How is it possible that the girl who drank more survived?

1) When a person commits suicide by jumping out of a window, he doesn't tend to close the window behind him. But in this case, none of the windows which faced the dead man were left open. It means that the man wouldn't have jumped out of the window.

2) In fact, the poison was in the ice. The young lady who escaped death drank the juice before the ice cubes could melt completely. But the ice cubes in the other lady's drink melted completely, releasing the poison into the juice.

Reading

a. Read the following story of how some young boys and their coach were saved from a cave in Thailand.

Mission Impossible

1. On 23rd June, 2018, 12-boys of a football team – 'the Wild Boars' went exploring in Thailand's Chiang Rai province with their football coach and ended up being trapped for two weeks, deep inside a cave underneath a mountain.

2. What happened over those two weeks is a remarkable story of friendship, human endurance and selflessness in saving lives. The dramatic rescue operation gripped the world.

3. The team and their young coach had often ventured deep into Tham Luang cave, sometimes as far as 8 km for initiation rites where they would write the names of the new team members on a cave wall.

4. In high spirits, they clambered into the cave that fateful day with just their torches. After all, they were planning to be there only for an hour. They never thought that they would not emerge until two weeks later.

5. Deep in the cave, the Wild Boars found themselves in trouble. It had been raining for the last few days, and all the water falling on the mountain was fast filling up the Tham Luang cave system. The group was caught off guard by a flash flood. They had no choice but to scramble even deeper into the cave.

6. The Wild Boars eventually found themselves marooned on a small rocky shelf about 4 km from the cave entrance, past a dry point known as Pattaya Beach which by now was flooded. Surrounded by darkness, the boys lost all sense of time. But they were determined to survive. They used rocks to dig deeper into the shelf to create a cavern where they could huddle together and keep warm. Coach Aken, a former monk, taught the boys meditation techniques to help them stay calm and use as little air as possible and told them to lie still to conserve their strength. They had no food but they had water in the form of moisture dripping from the caves' walls. They had the right conditions to survive at least for a little while. And most importantly the team had the support of each other.

7. Outside the cave, a full blown rescue operation was quickly unfolding. The Thai Navy Seals, the National Police, other rescue teams and local volunteers pitched in.

8. Exploring the cave was a challenge. Weather was merciless and the heavy rainfall and flooding chambers hindered the rescuers.

9. Engineers desperately tried to pump water out of the cave – but struggled initially.

10. At the start no one had any idea what to do. They even tried drilling into the mountain side and used drones with thermal sensors to locate the boys.

11. Outside the cave, the boys' worried families offered prayers for their lives. The group gradually expanded to include teachers, administrators, classmates and villagers who rallied together, donating money and hundreds of packages of food to the relatives of the boys and their coach. A sense of community soon began to spread, volunteers from other parts of Thailand flew in, while social media lit up with expressions of love and support.

12. International cave divers from UK, USA, Belgium, Australia, Scandinavia and many other countries arrived by Thursday, 28th June. Over the next few days, the divers faced a constant battle with the elements. Two British divers John Volanthen and Rick Stanton had been braving Than Luang's narrow, murky passage ways for several days laying out guide ropes and by 2nd July Monday, the lost Wild Boars and their coach had been found. The two divers spent some time trying to boost their morale. They left lights, and promised to return with food. The parents of the boys were ecstatic to know that their children had m i r a c u l o u s l y survived.

13. After nine days, the group received medicated liquid food and mineral water with vitamins.

14. The rescuers set to work in figuring out how to extract 13 people – from a winding, flooded 4 km stretch of caves that even experienced divers would struggle with.

15. Overnight a small makeshift town mushroomed at the rural country park by the cave entrance. Food stalls were set up and no job was too small to do. People began cleaning the toilets, offered free lifts and a local laundromat cleaned the rescuers' clothes every night. Spirits were high but the death of a navy seal diver Saman Gunan devastated the community.

16. Time was running out. Finally on 6th July, rescuers set up an oxygen supply and the boys communicated with their parents, by writing letters. On Sunday 7th July, the Thai authorities announced they were pulling out the boys. It was a super human effort involving 100 Thai and foreign divers.

17. Each boy was given a full face air mask to ensure he could breathe and was clipped to a diver. Another diver accompanied them. An oxygen cylinder was strapped to the front of the child, while a handle was attached to their backs – and they were held face down to ensure water would run away from their faces. It was like a “shopping bag” that allowed them to manoeuvre the boys around the obstacles. The boys were sedated to ensure that they would not panic.

18. Rescuers had to winch the boys up a steep slope using a pulley system, passing the boys hand to hand. One by one, all the Wild Boars were brought out of the darkness of Tham Luang. By the time the last batch of boys and the coach were out, water levels started rising again. But there were the Navy Seal divers and a medic who had looked after the Wild Boars, as well as Richard Harris, a famed Australian cave diving expert and doctor, still in the cave. They emerged shortly and soon the flood waters rushed in.

19. It was an astonishing feat - after two agonizing weeks, the Thai Cave boys and their coach were finally out at last, safe and sound.

20. It's a story of ordinary people coming together in a remote town with one mission: to save 12 young boys and their coach; and the impossible mission was accomplished.

Hard Is The Journey
By Li Po

Gold vessels of fine wines, thousands a gallon,
Jade dishes of rare meats,
costing more thousands,

I lay my chopsticks down,
no more can banquet,
I draw my sword and stare wildly about me:

Ice bars my way to cross
the Yellow River,
Snows from dark skies to climb
the T'ai-hang mountains!

At peace I drop a hook into a brooklet,
At once I'm in a boat
but sailing sunward...

(Hard is the journey,
Hard is the journey,
So many turnings,
And now where am I?)

So when a breeze breaks waves, bringing fair weather,
I set a cloud for sails,
cross the blue oceans!

FYI: This is to let you know...
Let me know if you need anything else

In this era of social media and texting conversation, e-mail is still the most popular means of communication in business and corporate world. It uses technology to convey a digital message over the Internet. It is a sort of a letter sent electronically from one computer user to one or more recipients via a network. There are many software platforms available to send and receive emails. Popular e-mail platforms include g-mail, hotmail, yahoo etc.

Your e-mail writing skill can be improved by following simple rules that are listed below:

- ❖ use suitable greeting
- ❖ introduce yourself
- ❖ divide the content into three parts - Opening – Main – Closing
- ❖ Use formal language

Email etiquette

The use of formal language while writing an e-mail is known as E-mail Etiquette. It refers to the principles of behaviour that one should use when writing and the code of conduct for e-mail communications. E-mail etiquette depends upon the person one writes to - friends, relatives, partners, customers, superiors and subordinates.

ARTICLE WRITING

Adventure sports are popular outdoor activities among the youngsters all over the world. No doubt such sports are both exciting and challenging but a minute of reckless excitement can lead to a lifelong disability or even turn fatal. Write an article for your school magazine highlighting the charm of adventure sports in about 150 words.

DESCRIPTION OF AN EVENT

Descriptive writing is a piece of writing

- ❖ written to describe an event, place, person or an object
- ❖ uses the five senses – see, hear, smell, touch, taste
- ❖ helps readers to imagine where you are and what you are sharing
- ❖ includes the reader to be a part of the text
- ❖ includes descriptive words and details

Task

Anything we can't understand or explain holds a magical fascination for us. Imagine you went to your native place for your vacation. Every night you heard some mysterious voices at a particular time and grew restless. Write a description of that event that baffled you in about 100 words. Remember to include how you investigated it and solved the mystery.

Unit 1

Sympathy

I lay in sorrow deep depressed...
My grief a proud man heard...
His looks were cold. He gave me gold.
But not a kindly word.
My sorrow passed – I paid him back
The gold he gave me.
Then stood erect and spoke my thanks
And blessed his charity...
I lay in want, in grief and pain.
A poor man passed my way.
He bound my head. He gave me bread.
He watched me night and day.
How shall I pay him back again
For all he did to me?
Oh! Gold is great. But greater far is heavenly sympathy!

one of the most important roads of India that runs through the heart of New Delhi and where the Republic Day parade takes place every year on the 26th of January.

We are placed right next to the flower bedecked saluting dais from where our Honourable President along with our Vice President, Prime Minister and all the other dignitaries will view the parade which showcases India's defence capability and its cultural and social heritage. The day is memorable on account of the presence of the 10 ASEAN leaders who will be amidst us today as chief guests to honour the day when the Constitution of India came into force. My fellow commentator Yusuf is here, to share with you the proceedings of the day...

Yusuf—Good Morning and heartiest greetings to my fellow citizens on the joyous occasion of the 69th Republic Day of our Nation. As you all know, ASEAN is Association of South East Asian Nations comprising of 10 Nations – Thailand, Myanmar, Vietnam, Singapore, Indonesia, Malaysia, Cambodia, The Philippines, Laos People's Democratic Republic and Brunei. The whole area opposite the dais is bedecked with colourful fresh flowers and certainly the three prominent colours of yellow, saffron, white and green are given more prominence depicting the colours of our National Flag. I can see the Red Roses, Yellow Marigold, the Bird of Paradise, the Pansies and other foliage giving the green colour to it. Over to Manoj....

Commentary on Republic Day Celebrations and parade at New Delhi

Good morning Ladies and Gentlemen. On this splendid morning on behalf of the entire team of Radio India, this is Anitha Rao along with my fellow commentators Yusuf Ahmed, Manoj Pande and our Technical Audio team extending warm greetings to all the listeners on the occasion of the 69th Republic Day of India and welcome you to Rajpath New Delhi, which literally means Kingsway, the ceremonial path and Manoj – Thank you Yusuf. What a beautiful sight! And in a short while from now, the combined military band will be playing the National Anthem. There are 44 musicians drawn from 3 EME centres and ASE centres from South. They will be playing the National Anthem, the Cavalry brigade and the army star 'Arjunam'.

The three chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force, the Central and State Defence Ministers have arrived. They are all stationed in the inner periphery of India Gate, flanking the 'Amar Jawan Jyothi'. It's a resplendent sight. The Amar Jawan Jyothi commemorates the indomitable courage of our soldiers and it is symbolised by a reversed rifle topped by a helmet.

The Prime Minister is now laying the wreath on behalf of the country at the Amar Jawan Jyothi. The Inter services guard of honour gives the command to present the arms 'The Salami Shashtra', followed by the reversal of the arms, "The Shok Shashtra". Six buglers stationed there sounded the last post and a two minute silence is being observed. The completion of the silence is marked by sounding the rouse by the buglers. The Prime Minister is leaving the India Gate and now over to Anitha for an eye witness account of the grand parade.

Anitha – It's a lovely day today. The Prime Minister has arrived at the dais and is greeting the guests of honour on the stage. We now see the Honourable President of our country arriving ceremoniously led by the President's body guard. The President's body guard personnel are all handpicked, well trained horsemen, paratroopers and tank men. The Honourable President is led to hoist the National Flag.

The President is now giving the highest Gallantry Awards and Medals to the kin of martyrs. Padma Vibhushan, Padma Bhushan and Padmashree are given to eminent personalities from various fields such as literature, education, art, sports, social work, medicine, science, engineering, civil services, public affairs, trade and industry. Bravery awards to children are given for exhibiting courage and valour. Yusuf will now take over from here...

Yusuf – The customary grand parade has started and is moving ceremoniously, in colourful attires. The different tableaux are showcasing the country's progress in different fields. And here comes the newly formed all Women Bikes Contingent, the 27 member BSF Women 'Dare Devils' Squad named 'Seema Bhavani' showcasing their stunts and acrobatics on their 350 cc Royal Enfield Bullet Motorcycles.

After the mesmerising performance of the BSF women, here are the children from various schools in Delhi and 700 students across the guest countries performing on the power of Education. Manoj, isn't it a splendid sight?

Manoj – A real feast to the eyes! A few of the parade's highlights are the BSF camel band, the musical band of the Army, Navy, Air Force and the DRDO Subsonic cruise missile Tableau.

The Rudra formation, The Hercules formation, Nethra Global formation and several other formations by Air force mark the culmination of the Republic Day Parade, ending with a stupendous fly past by the Jets and helicopters carrying the National Flag and the flags of the three services.

It's been a day of joy and celebration. Once again with greetings to the Nation on this Republic Day, Anitha, Yusuf and Manoj take leave and sign off. JAI HIND.

General Packet Radio Services known as GPRS has been around for quite some time. It was established in the early 2000s and is widely used across the world today. It is an extension of the global system for mobile communication.

GPRS works by allowing data to be stored into 'packets'. This data is then transmitted in an efficient manner across the mobile network. GPRS, however, is much faster than the cellular network system. This type of networking system can be used worldwide without difficulty.

GPRS devices are extremely versatile. Any device that has GPRS capability will allow the user to have not only mobile communication but also access the internet for things such as e-mail and internet browsing. You can even adjust various settings on the device in order to keep track of things like changes in temperature, sound and motion.

Car tracking devices are cheaper and easier to install. They mainly work via GPS satellite navigator, although in some cases a radio frequency or cellular network can be used, if GPS coverage is poor. The actual set up is really very simple; each vehicle transmits a signal to orbiting satellites which relay this information back to a specified computer. The vehicle information is then displayed on maps, allowing you to monitor speed and exact whereabouts.

By utilising real-time vehicle tracking you can get accurate information about the travel. Although this system enables you to avoid traffic and find the quickest road to travel, you will still find an excuse to be late!

Unit 4

Valli : Hello, Surya. Did you read today's newspaper?

Surya : No, is there anything important, that you want me to read?

Valli : Yes, Surya. There's an article on creating sarees with natural fruits, bamboo and aloe vera fibre.

Surya : Oh! That's great! How is that possible? Can you give me more information?

Valli : I'll read out the article; "Natural Fibre Weaving". "The rhythm of the loom" welcomes visitors to Shanmuga Mudhaliar Street nearly 9km from Chennai Airport. There are 90 weavers in the cluster. The cluster consisting mostly of third generation weavers was formed nearly 90 years ago, along the banks of the Adyar River.

“In those days this cluster was producing real Madras chequered fabrics for export to Nigeria,” says Sekar, the President of the Jute Weavers Association.

After 1970, this cluster began weaving cotton fabric and sarees. Kanchi Cotton dress material sets were woven in the 80’s and silk cotton during the 90’s. Over the past 10 years, the cluster has completely shifted to natural fibre weaving.

“As a weaver, I was always looking for a breakthrough, something that would make handloom popular, thereby saving it from extinction,” says Sekar, adding “The South India Textile Research Association involved us in weaving jute and cotton blended yarn. This set me thinking of developing natural fibre yarn from other sources as well.” At that time, a group of students approached him with banana fibre and cotton blended yarn for their project and this added a fillip to his research.

“I developed 25 types of natural fibres and even made it to the Limca Book of Records in 2011 for weaving a saree using 25 different fibres,” he says.

Today the Anakaputhur Natural Fibre Weavers Cluster has 25 pit looms and are pioneers in many methods of natural fibre weaving. Collaborating with NIFT students in design intervention and colour combination has enhanced the reach of the products.

Sekar has introduced “MooligaiPudavai” (herbal Sarees) where he infuses natural fibre yarn with turmeric, tulsi, neem and sandalwood. He says, these herbs and spices have anti-bacterial properties and are good for the skin. The weavers have developed 30 different natural fibre yarns so far, of which the most popular are pineapple, aloe vera, bamboo, banana stem and erukkanchedi (Calotropis). Eager to adopt some of these practices, the North East Development council has invited Sekar to train the women weavers of Assam.

“We have finally proved that handloom can be a profitable business,” he smiles. This venture has generated more jobs, says Sekar.

Unit 5

Water Shortage

Instructor: 14 of the World's 20 big cities are now experiencing water scarcity or drought conditions. As many as 4 million people already live in regions that experience severe water stress. According to a study in the journal ‘Science Advances’, nearly half of these people live in our country and with the rising population, this stress is going to mount.

Moderator: I’m happy to introduce two eminent speakers Mr. Ramesh, retired Chairman of Water Management Board and Mr. Joseph, founder of ‘The Drop’, an NGO. I now request Mr. Ramesh to throw some light on the topic and lead the discussion.

Mr. Ramesh : Humanity is facing water crisis. Either there is too much water in some places or there isn’t enough water in other places and we all know that this is being driven not only by climate changes but also by economic growth, population and poor water management.

Moderator: As mentioned by Mr. Ramesh, water management seems to be the crucial point when we talk about water crisis. I now request Mr. Joseph to make a few suggestions.

Mr. Joseph : Well, to tackle water crisis, a good water management strategy has to be adopted at all levels of planning, developing and distributing water for maximum usage. Say for example, in the field of agriculture, water intensive crops like rice and cotton should be grown in water rich regions and crops which need less water grown in other regions where there is less supply of water.

Moderator: Yes, Mr. Ramesh, what have you got to say about this?

Mr. Ramesh: To minimize water crisis, the main option is to share water, not only in the trans-boundary river basins but also in the river basins within nations and states.

Mr. Joseph: I would like to put forth the causes for this water scarcity. Shortfall of rain is the most important issue, that stems from deforestation. The absence of bunds and encroachments at the catchment areas also aggravate the water shortage issue.

Mr. Ramesh: But the good news is that there are always solutions to our problems. Our motto should be “The less water used, the more water saved.” This will go a long way, towards addressing the current crisis. But for the solutions to be effective they need to be implemented vigilantly.

Moderator : Having discussed the status, causes and problems, let us also consider some practical solutions such as

- ❖ do not keep taps running
- ❖ only use what is needed resourcefully
- ❖ practise sustainable home living
- ❖ recycle used water
- ❖ create awareness of the dire consequences of water resource abuse
- ❖ get more involvement from people

By now we are aware how critical our global water shortage is.

Now the panellists are open for questions from the audience.

Unit 6

Text for listening

Hi everyone! Welcome to our guided tour to a wonderful hiking trail, high up a forested hillside to the Mystery Spot. Gravity and other forces go haywire at this pseudo – scientific anomaly, discovered in 1940. The site is located in Santa Cruz, California amongst the Oak and Eucalyptus trees, near Granite Creek, and within the California Redwood forest. It is a circular area of effect around 150 feet or 46 metres in diameter. Within the Mystery Spot you will be stunned as your perceptions of the laws of physics and gravity are questioned. On this gravity hill you will experience, tilt-induced visual illusion. The illusion experienced by visitors results from the oddly tilted environment as well as standing on a tilted floor. These visual illusions include balls rolling uphill and people leaning farther than normally possible without falling down.

The mystery spot was discovered in 1939 by a group of surveyors and was opened to the public in 1940. The Mystery Spot has amazed and perplexed hundreds and thousands of visitors from all over the world.

Some speculate that cones of metal were secretly brought here by aliens and buried in the earth as guidance systems of their spacecraft. Some think it is in fact, the spacecraft itself buried deep within the ground. Other theories include carbon dioxide permeating from the earth, a hole in the ozone layer, a magma vortex and the highest dielectric bio cosmic radiation. Whatever the cause is, it remains a mystery.

Most Asked Job Interview Questions and How to Answer Them

1. Tell me about yourself

Confine your answer to work related stuff. Never go much into the personal details unless the panel asks you.

2. Tell me about your dream job

If your response is a specific designation along with the responsibilities that you expect, you may be put under the scanner to confirm whether you suit that particular role. So better make use of stereotyped phrases like amicable environment etc.

3. Why did you leave your last job?

Give out a positive response of the sort "I am in pursuit of greener pastures". Just confine your words to better opportunities, However factual that may be, never ever speak out things like "It is the Ill tempered boss at the workplace that made me think of this change"

4. What is your weakness?

Don't start listing out all your personality disorders straight away. Stay composed and quote silly weaknesses that are strengths in disguise. Things like "I take time in getting ready to the office and so, I set my alarm two hours in advance" sound good.

5. What are your strengths?

The more you market, the more will be the demand. Just list out all your strengths, Be prepared with apt instances that reflect them.

6. What do you know about the type of work we do?

Do necessary homework by browsing every nook and corner of the company's website so that is the most authentic source of information to answer questions like these. Talk to people working at the company for specific information in case you know someone personally.

7. Why should we hire you?

Speak in a balanced tone to send them a message that you need the job as the company needs you. Never compare yourself with other participants.

8. Do you consider yourself successful?

Invariably say "Yes". Success does not mean getting control over the whole world. Discuss all your major achievements till that point in time.

9. Why have you been unemployed for such a long time?

Talk about the productive activity you have done during that time right from attending any course to improving the knowledge by any means such as freelancing or else working for no compensation.

10. What do co-workers say about you?

Just come out with the regular compliments you used to receive from your colleagues and take care you do not sound too exaggerating.

11. How long would you expect to work for us if hired?

Don't be too specific by giving away a word for a particular period of time. Answers like "as long as both the parties feel satisfactory", sound good.

12. Do you think you are overqualified for this position?

Try to convince that you are apt for the job. Never express any sort of doubt about your credentials by speaking a bit uncertain; assure them that you are the right person.

13. Describe your management style.

It is very important that you make the listener understand the that you try a lot of emphasis on communication of any sorts with the subordinates and colleagues. Say how you guide them or share with them so as to make them comfortable with what they do.

14. Are you a team player?

Once again a firm "Yes" is necessary for this! Exemplify with various scenarios you succeeded in meeting the project deadlines as a team.

15. What position do you prefer on a team working on a project?

Be imperative and create a sense of a feeling that you are flexible and don't mind whether you have to follow lead.

Complete the job interview given below:

Employer : Good morning Mr.Siddu. Please take a seat.

Candidate : Good morning. It's a pleasure to meet you.

Employer : Can you tell me

Candidate : I'm a customer of your company and I think you provide excellent service. I want to be a part of such a company. I'm looking for a part-time job to help me through college.

Employer : Could you

Candidate : I'm 19 years old and need to pay for my college fees..

Employer : What is

Candidate : I've always helped my parents in their shop. I assisted customers, ordered goods and arranged them too. Last year I worked in a restaurant as a waiter. So, I believe I have much experience in serving the customers.

Employer : Very well

Candidate : I don't mind. I can work in the morning and in the evening.

Employer :

Candidate : Unfortunately I am not very good at computers.

Employer : That's ok. Now do you have any questions you would like to ask me about the job?

Candidate : Yes. Could you tell me what hours I'd have to work?

Employer : Well, we work in 2 shifts. There is a morning shift from 6 to 10 and an evening shift from 6 to 10. Is that ok?

Candidate : Yes that sounds very good. Does this mean I get the job?

Employer : I will have to discuss it with my Manager. We will call you on Monday. Thank you very much.

Candidate : Thank you.

16. Tips to write a Book Review

PASSAGE - 1

Water scarcity is a major threat in many parts of the world, including India. In the world, over two billion people are dying because of it. The situation would worsen in the future with increased demand for fresh water. The earth is 70 per cent water, as are our bodies. We can last for about two to three weeks without food, but we would be dead within three days without water. What we do to our water, we do to ourselves.

Humans are increasingly putting this essential resource in serious danger. We poison our ground and surface water. We burn fossil fuels that cause acid rain and global warming. We dam our rivers, interrupting the water flow and destroyed delicate ecosystems downstream. We clear vegetation and pave massive land areas, decreasing the groundwater level and increasing flood and soil erosion. On top of all this, those with access to the most water are wasting vast amounts of it.

In September 2000, the United Nations adopted a Millennium Declaration setting out targets to be reached in the coming years. One target is to reduce by half, “the proportion of people who are unable to reach or afford safe drinking water” by the year 2015.

The Millennium Declaration also aims, “to stop the unsustainable exploitation of water resources by developing water management strategies at the regional, national and local levels, which promote both equitable access and adequate supplied”. Our planet’s system for purification of water, like all its other systems, is delicate and balanced. It is high time that each one of us takes positive decisions to conserve water, the ‘green gold’ essential for all life on earth.

Questions:

- _____ is the major threat in many parts of the world
 - Resources in danger
 - water scarcity
 - flood and soil erosion
 - global warming
- What does the burning of fossil fuel cause?
 - heavy rain
 - floods
 - water scarcity
 - acid rain
- How is the eco system destroyed?
 - By poisoning the ground water
 - burning fossil fuels
 - by constructing dams
 - by not constructing dams
- The United Nations adopted a Millennium Declaration in _____
 - Sep 2002
 - Sep 2000
 - Sep 2001
 - Sep 2003

5. One target is to _____ by half the proportion of people unable to reach of afford safe drinking water.
 - a) increase
 - b) decrease
 - c) double
 - d) reduce
6. Our planet's system for _____ of water is delicate and balanced.
 - a) exploitation
 - b) management
 - c) supply
 - d) purification
7. One way to protect is by preventing water _____.
 - a) pollution
 - b) usage
 - c) wastage
 - d) exploitation
8. 'green gold' refers to _____.
 - a) ecology
 - b) environment
 - c) water
 - d) life
9. The word 'strategies' means _____.
 - a) plans
 - b) resources
 - c) dangers
 - d) decisions
10. What is the antonym of 'conserve'
 - a) danger
 - b) destroy
 - c) decrease
 - d) interrupt

PASSAGE - 2

These Islands of great beauty, home to the finest rainforests, silver beaches, and sparkling oceans teeming with life – the Andaman and Nicobar Islands have been earmarked for large – scale tourism promotion and development. The Andaman Islands have the potential to emerge as the world's most erotic and high-end holiday destinations for eco-tourism, and for advent tourism.

Tourism creates more jobs than do the agriculture and industries sectors. Keeping in view the ecology and limited carrying capacity of the islands, a balances should be struck between environment and economic development through tourism.

Despite their unique natural wealth, the Andamans have been attracting meager tourist traffic – about 90,000 per year. Chennai and Kolkatta are the only gateways to the islands. High –spending tourists from Europe and America take four to six days to reach the destination, and non-availability of tickets between foreign destinations and India and from the mainland to Port Blair deters tourists from coming. Therefore, traveling to the Andamans is not an attractive proposition.

A major problem in these islands is the acute water shortage. Even though the islands receive an average rainfall of 3000 mm every year, in the dry season, when the tourists start to come, the water problem begins. By the time the tourist season is over, and the tourists have gone, the problem becomes a nightmare. The migration of people from the mainland also continues and the administration refuses to do anything about this. It is a crisis that grows every passing year.

Questions.

1. _____ creates more jobs than do the agriculture and industries sector
 - a) Business
 - b) Technology
 - c) Tourism
 - d) Shipping
2. Despite their natural wealth these islands have been attracting _____ tourist
 - a) Immense
 - b) large scale
 - c) limited
 - d) meager
3. Chennai and Kolkatta are the only _____ to these islands
 - a) Links
 - b) gateways
 - c) tourist spots
 - d) foreign destinations
4. A major problem in these islands is the _____
 - a) Unique natural wealth
 - b) acute water shortage
 - c) tourist traffic
 - d) non- availability of tickets
5. Choose an appropriate synonym for the word 'teeming'
 - a) Full of
 - b) feebly
 - c) unique
 - d) emerging

PASSAGE - 3

Tourism has emerged as the world's largest industry. Growing rapidly in the last two decades, today it accounts for six per cent of world output and employs some 100 million people around the globe. Since the end of the Second World War, it has developed immense revenue and development potential and stands today as a unique natural renewable resource industry.

Tourism – the travel – based recreation – provides people with a change of place and a break from the monotony of daily life. It brings peoples of different nations together, allowing them to come into close contact with each other's customs and other aspects of life. It reveals the scenic beauty and past heritage of a country to people belonging to other nations. The knowledge and experience gained in the process can lead to greater understanding and tolerance, and can even foster world peace.

The contribution of tourism can be nowhere seen more clearly than on the economic front. A study conducted by the United Nations has shown that developing countries, in particular, can reap handsome benefits out of tourism which greatly boosts national income.

Tourism generates employment, and adds to the entrepreneurial wealth of a nation. While tourism's advantages are many, its undesirable side-effects have raised fresh problems.

Tourism can cause social, cultural or environmental disruption. Of the greatest concern is its damage to the environment. In order to attract more tourists, sprawling resorts are built which take neither the local architectural styles nor the ecology into consideration. Natural system come to be destroyed as a result of indiscriminate construction to provide water and waste disposal facilities and recreational arrangements to tourists. Overuse of environmental wealth disturbs the ecological balance.

Damage is most in wildlife parks which remain the foremost sites of tourists attraction. Tourist vans and the visitors' feet the ground vegetation, thus affecting the feeding habits of the animals and the landscape as well. Overcrowding bring about congestion, leading to environmental and health hazards.

The Taj Mahal, one of the seven wonders fo the world, has suffered a lot wear and tear from trampling feet of tourists.

To promote safe tourism while ensuring that it remains a profitable industry, it is imperative to understand the factors that hamper the growth o tourism and check them effectively.

Questions:

1. Tourism has grown rapidly in the last_____
 - a) Century
 - b) five decades
 - c) two decades
 - d) few years
2. Tourism accounts for _____ of world output
 - a) 6%
 - b) 7 %
 - c) 5%
 - d) 4%
3. It stands today as a unique natural _____ resource industry.
 - a) Largest
 - b) national
 - c) socio-cultural
 - d) renewable
4. Tourism also means _____ based recreation
 - a) Environment
 - b) travel
 - c) culture
 - d) economy

5. Tourism can also foster _____

- a) Income
- b) recreation
- c) world peace
- d) employment

6. The contribution of business can be more clearly seen on the _____ front

- a) Economic
- b) employment
- c) income
- d) ecological

7. Overcrowding bring about congestion, leading to _____

- a) National income
- b) fresh problems
- c) health hazards
- d) doubts

8. Overuse of environmental wealth disturbs the _____

- a) ecological balance
- b) Natural systems
- c) damage to wild life

9. Choose a synonym for 'imperative'

- a) Necessary
- b) rapidly
- c) immense
- d) contribute

10. Choose an antonym for 'generate'

- a) hamper
- b) hinder
- c) terminate
- d) distract

PASSAGE - 4

In the 16th century, an age of great marine and terrestrial exploration, Ferdinand Magellan led the first expedition to sail around the world. As a young Portuguese noble, he served the king of Portugal, but he became involved in the quagmire of political intrigue at court and lost the king's favor. After he was dismissed from service by the king of Portugal, he offered to serve the future Emperor Charles V of Spain.

A papal decree of 1493 had assigned a land in the New World west of 50 degrees W longitude to Spain and all the land east of that line to Portugal. Magellan offered to prove that the East Indies fell under Spanish authority. On September 20, 1519, Magellan set sail from Spain with five ships. More than a year later, one of these ships was exploring the topography of South America in search of a water route across the continent. This ship sank, but the remaining four ships searched along the southern peninsula of South America. Finally they found the passage they sought near 50 degrees S latitude. Magellan named this passage the Strait of All Saints, but today it is known as the Strait of Magellan.

One ship deserted while in this passage and returned to Spain, so fewer sailors were privileged to gaze at that first panorama of the Pacific Ocean. Those who remained crossed the meridian now known as the international Date Line in the early spring of 1521 after 98 days on the Pacific Ocean. During those long days at sea, many of Magellan's men died of starvation and disease.

Later, Magellan became involved in an insular conflict in the Philippines and was killed in a tribal battle. Only one ship and 17 sailors under the command of the Basque navigator Elcano survived to complete the westward journey to Spain and thus prove once and for all that the world is round, with no precipice at the edge.

1. The 16th century was an age of great _____ exploration.
 - a) Cosmic
 - b) land
 - c) mental
 - d) None of the above
2. Magellan set sail to prove that the East Indies fell under _____.
 - a) French territory
 - b) Spanish territory
 - c) English territory
 - d) African territory
3. The meridian is now known as the _____.
 - a) International Date Line
 - b) International Time zone
 - c) Equator
 - d) Latitude
4. Only _____ survived to complete the westward journey to Spain
 - a) Two ships and fifteen sailors
 - b) Three ships and seventeen sailors
 - c) One ship and ten sailors
 - d) One ship and seventeen sailors
5. This journey proved that the _____.
 - a) World is round
 - b) World is round with no precipice at the edge
 - c) World is round with precipices
 - d) World is round with edge

Passage - 5

Marie Curie was one of the most accomplished scientists in history. Together with her husband, Pierre, she discovered radium, an element widely used for treating cancer, and studied uranium and other radioactive substances. Pierre and Marie's amicable collaboration later helped to unlock the secrets of the atom.

Marie was born in 1867 in Warsaw, Poland, where her father was a professor of physics. At an early age, she displayed a brilliant mind and a blithe personality. Her great exuberance for learning prompted her to continue with her studies after high school. She became disgruntled, however, when she learned that the university in Warsaw was closed to women. Determined to receive a higher education, she defiantly left Poland and in 1891 entered the Sorbonne, a French university, where she earned her master's degree and doctorate in physics.

Marie was fortunate to have studied at the Sorbonne with some of the greatest scientists of her day, one of her day, one of whom was Pierre Curie. Marie and Pierre were married in 1895 and spent many productive years working together in the physics laboratory. A short time after they discovered radium, Pierre was killed by a horse – drawn wagon in 1906. Marie was stunned by this horrible misfortune and endured heartbreaking anguish. Despondently she recalled their close relationship and the joy that they had shared in scientific research. The fact that she had two young daughters to raise by herself greatly increased her distress.

Curie's feeling of desolation finally began to fade when she was asked to succeed her husband as a physics professor at the Sorbonne. She was the first woman to be given a professorship at the world-famous university. In 1911 she received the Nobel Prize in chemistry for isolating radium. Although Marie Curie eventually suffered a fatal illness from her long exposure to radium, she never became disillusioned about her work. Regardless of the consequences, she had dedicated herself to science and to revealing the mysteries of the physical world.

Questions.

1. The Curies' _____ collaboration helped to unlock the secrets of the atom
 - a) Friendly
 - b) Competitive
 - c) industrious
 - d) courteous
2. Marie had a bright mind and a _____ personality
 - a) Strong
 - b) Humorous
 - c) blithe
 - d) strange
3. Marie left Poland and travelled to France to enter the _____
 - a) University in Warsaw
 - b) University in Poland
 - c) Sorbonne
 - d) University in Austria
4. She received the Nobel Prize in _____
 - a) Physics
 - b) Chemistry
 - c) Astronomy
 - d) Astro Physics

Passage – 6

When Andrew Carnegie came to America from Scotland, he was just a lad. He started out by running errands and ended up as one of the largest steel manufactures in the United States.

Someone once asked Mr. Carnegie how he dealt with people. Andrew Carnegie replied, "Dealing with people is a lot like digging for gold. When you go digging for an ounce of gold, you have to move tons of dirt. But when you go digging, you don't go looking for the dirt, you go looking for the gold."

Andrew Carnegie's reply has a very important message. Though sometimes it may not be apparent, there is something positive in every person and every situation. We have to look deep for the positive.

Questions.

1. Andrew Carnegie came from _____
 - a) England
 - c) Scotland
 - b) Ireland
 - d) Finland
2. When he came to America, he was _____
 - a) An old man
 - b) A young boy
 - c) a rich man
 - d) a poor man
3. He started out by doing _____
 - a) Manual work
 - b) Clerical work
 - c) odd jobs
 - d) white collar jobs
4. Dealing with people is a lot like digging for _____
 - a) Dirt
 - b) Gold
 - c) silver
 - d) ore

5. We have to dig _____ to look for the positive
 - a) Gently
 - b) Fast
 - c) around
 - d) deep

Passage -7

Read the passage and answer each question below in a short sentence.

Some people suffer from an inability to sleep, a disease called insomnia and it may be due to different factors. The first factor many be 'biological imbalance'. Sleep is caused by a sleep system and wakefulness is caused by an arousal system. Both the systems are governed by the brain. In order to have a good sleep, the arousal system must be less and the sleep system must be more. When the arousal system goes up due to tension, insomnia many occur. Drugs are the second factor. People who consume alcohol habitually become prey to insomnia. Drugs like stimulants, sedatives, certain thyroid drugs and heart medicines can cause sleeplessness. Both sleeping pills and alcohol appear to promise better sleep. But habits and disturbing environments are the third factor in making one lose his sleep. If the bedroom is too noisy or too cold it may make one keep awake. If the stomach has too little or too much food, it may cause sleeplessness. Physical exercise too close to bedtime also confuses the sleep mechanism.

Questions:

- a) What is insomnia?
- b) Does alcohol help a person sleep better?
- c) List the drugs that can cause sleeplessness.
- d) Why should one eat the right quantity of food?
- e) Why should one avoid physical exercise just before bedtime?

1. An inability to sleep is called _____

- a) somnia
- b) insomnia
- c) shallow sleep
- d) sleep mechanism

2. The sleep and arousal system are governed by the _____

- a) sleep mechanism
- b) drugs
- c) heart
- d) brain

3. The second factor resulting in sleeplessness is _____

- a) exercise
- b) biological imbalance
- c) drugs
- d) bad habits

4. Physical exercise too close to bed time _____

- a) improves good memory
- b) gives a good sleep
- c) disturbs the sleep mechanism
- d) increases blood circulation

5. This passage is about the _____

- a) different factors
- b) bad habits
- c) wakefulness & arousal system
- d) people suffering from

Passage –8

Read the passage carefully and complete the statements choosing the right options:-

The Indus valley civilization, also known as the Harappan culture is one of the earliest urban civilizations. About 5000 years ago, a group of homeds, traveling from Sumeria, entered North Western India, and settled there without hesitation. The civilizations anchor lay in the beautiful twin cities of mohenjodaro and Harappa. These cities were made of Bricks either baked Mud or wood bricks or amazingly every brick was of the same size. The city's population was about 30,000 and had very modern methods sanitation and sewerage. Located below the great mountain range, it was abundant with water and fertile soil, making agriculture the main occupation.

1. The Harappan culture originated _____

- a) recently
- b) of late
- c) very early
- d) in villages

2. The nomads from Sumeria settled in the new soil _____

- a) with qualms
- b) readily
- c) with hesitation
- d) unwillingly

3. The civilization was centered upon _____

- a) the hard work of the nomads
- b) the willingness of the people to labour
- c) the trade and business prospects available
- d) the twin cities of Mohenjo-Daro and Harappa

4. Every Mud or Wood Brick was _____

- a) uneven
- b) smooth
- c) uniform
- d) strange

5. Water and fertile soil rendered the place _____

- a) conducive
- b) facile
- c) complicated
- d) unsuitable

Passage -9

Read the passage carefully and fill in the blanks choosing the correct answer from the following:

Pearl Buck was the first American woman to be awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1938. She was born on January 26, 1892 in West Virginia, USA and as a baby, hardly six months old, was taken to China by her missionary parents. Except for a few College years in her home town, she lived until 1934 in China, where, thanks to her Chinese teacher, she learned in childhood the Chinese language much earlier than English, her mother tongue.

Mrs. Buck had the pen of a ready – writer and was so prolific in writing that she produced more than a hundred works of fiction and non – fiction. Her most popular novel, “The Good Earth”, earned for her the American Pulitzer Prize in 1931. This novel, in addition to being translated into 30 languages, was filmed. Many of her works, both non – fiction and fiction are widely appreciated by the general public and rated high on the popularity lists of student readers. It is not surprising therefore that the Nobel committee in 1938 cited her for her ‘rich and genuine epic portrayal of Chinese life...’

Questions:

1. Pearl Buck got her Nobel prize at the age of _____

- a) 46 b) 56
- c) 66 d) 76

2. She spent most of her life in _____
 - a) America
 - b) England
 - c) Australia
 - d) China
3. Buck's mother tongue was _____
 - a) Chinese
 - b) French
 - c) German
 - d) English
4. The most famous novel of Buck is _____
 - a) Letter from Peking
 - b) The Good Earth
 - c) East Wind, West Wind
 - d) Death in the castle
5. She produced more than _____ works of fiction and non – fiction
 - a) Two hundred
 - b) three hundred
 - c) a hundred
 - d) four hundred

Passage –10

Read the following passage and complete the answers:

Topsy was one of the blacks of her race; and her round shining eyes, glittering as glass beads, moved with quick glances over everything in the room. Her mouth half open with astonishment at the wonders of the new master's parlour, displayed a white and brilliant set of teeth. Her woolly hair was braided in Sunday little tails which stuck out in every direction. The expression of the face was an odd mixture of shrewdness and cunningness over which was oddly drawn, like a kind of veil, an expression of the most doleful gravity and solemnity. She was dressed in a single, filthy, ragged garment, made of begging: and stood with her hands demurely folded before her. Although there was some thing odd and goblin – like about her appearance – something as Miss Ophelia afterwards said 'so heathenish', as to inspire that good lady with utter dismay.

Questions:

1. Topsy's eyes are compared to _____
 - a) germs
 - b) glass beads
 - c) pearls
 - d) beads
2. She was astonished looking at the _____ of the new parlour
 - a) beauty
 - b) decoration
 - c) wonders
 - d) expensive furniture
3. She was dressed in _____
 - a) the best clothes
 - b) neat clothes
 - c) ragged garments
 - d) white frock

4. Topsy was in the care of _____

- a) Miss Olivia
- b) Miss Ophelia
- c) Miss Clara
- d) Mrs. Oliver

5. 'She stood with her hands demurely folded, before her' – what does 'demurely' mean?

- a) shyly
- b) angrily
- c) oddly
- d) seriously

Passage -11

In the eighteenth century, two men, a French Professor, Gabriel Venel, and a British chemist Joseph Priestly made a rather pleasant discover. They found that water charged with carbon – di –oxide tasted rather nice. Jacob Schweppe, a Swiss chemist began to manufacture soda water in England. This was marketed under the name Seltz. Soon, soda water became a popular refreshment.

By the beginning of the 19th century, many factories and bottling plants were set up in Europe and the United States to make and bottle this artificial ' mineral water'

Later on, it was discovered that soda could be flavoured too. You could have tasted orange flavoured or lime flavoured soda... but the most popular flavoured soda grew to be the cola. This flavor is taken from the cola tree that grows in the tropical parts of Africa, South America and Asia.

Coco-cola, which is now one of the most popular carbonated drinks, was first served in 1886 at a medical ship in Atlanta, Georgia, in South America. IT marked a first in the flavouring of carbonated water.

Questions:

1. The pleasant taste of water with carbon-di-oxide was discovered in the _____century.
 - a) seventeenth
 - b) eighteenth
 - c) nineteenth
 - d) twentieth
2. Soda water was manufactured for the first time in _____.
 - a) Sweden
 - b) France
 - c) England
 - d) The United States
3. The most well-known flavoured soda is _____.
 - a) orange
 - b) lemon
 - c) mango
 - d) cola
4. Coco-cola was first served in a _____.
 - a) restaurant
 - b) party
 - c) medical shop
 - d) departmental store

5. Soda water became a popular refreshment under the name _____

- a) Schweppe
- b) Venel
- c) Priestly
- d) Seltz

Passage -13

Food, generally speaking, decays as time passes. Cooked food or uncooked meat and fish or fruits lose their freshness, become old and spoil in warm, wet air by undergoing chemical changes because of bacteria, yeasts and moulds. Some spoil within hours while others take days or weeks. Salt, Sun's heat, oil have been used to store and save food items from decomposing. Salted and dried fish is an example.

During the past five or six decades, several changes have taken place in our life styles. There are more towns and cities today than in the past; people are concentrated in these places. Population has grown in their land. And they also like to eat readymade foods.

All these changes have brought about one big change. That is, processed and canned foods and drinks have become part of our food habits. Getting food items like meat, fish, peas, fruits, and soft drinks like Coca-Cola, Pepsi, Rasna ready for sale inside a country or in another country has become an industry. Factories prepare and produce readymade foods, using the knowledge provided by food science and Technology. They use canning, dehydration, smoke and refrigeration methods to process and preserve foods. For this purpose they use food additives to add flavours, colour, nutrients to foods.

Food can be preserved by controlling or destroying the agents that spoil foods. A few of these agents are bacteria, moulds, insects, rodents, warm and wet air.

Canning is a thermal or heat processing where foods are subjected to temperatures that are high enough to kill most microorganisms. Foods are sterilized in airtight, heat-resistant pouches.

Dehydration of food removes water in the food and thus prevents bacteria from growing. It compresses and freeze-dries food which can resume their original shape on rehydration.

Refrigeration and freezing help store foods along with their nutrients and flavours. Smoke treatment to food can preserve them only for a short time. Smoke contains guaiacol which has only limited capacity. It is now being used to add an appealing flavor.

Questions

1. Cooked or uncooked food spoils by undergoing _____ changes
 - a) climatic
 - b) chemical
 - c) physical
 - d) biological
2. Salt, heat & oil save food items from _____
 - a. burning
 - b. decomposing

- c. dehydration
 - d. losing colour
3. Changes in the life style of the people has inserted in _____
- a) refrigerated foods
 - b) salted food
 - c) processed & canned food
 - d) dried food
4. What method helps store foods along with their nutrients & flavours?
- a) Refrigeration
 - b) Dehydration
 - c) Canning
 - d) Using additives
5. Which treatment preserves food for a short time?
- a) Processing
 - b) Adding nutrients
 - c) Compressing
 - d) Smoke treatment

Passage 14

Mount Vesuvius, a volcano located between the ancient Italian cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum, has received much attention because of its frequent and destructive eruptions. The most famous of these eruptions occurred in A.D 79

The volcano had been inactive for centuries. There was little warning of the coming eruption, although one account unearthed by archaeologists says that a hard rain and a strong wind had disturbed the celestial calm during the preceding night. Early the next morning, the volcano poured a huge river of molten rock down upon Herculaneum, completely burying the city and filling the harbor with coagulated lava.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the mountain, cinders, stone and ash rained down on Pompeii. Sparks for the burning ash ignited the combustible rooftops quickly. Large portions of the city were destroyed in the conflagration. Fire, however, was not the only cause of destruction. Poisonous sulfuric gases saturated the air. These heavy gases were not buoyant in the atmosphere and therefore sank toward the earth and suffocated people.

Over the years, excavations of Pompeii and Herculaneum have revealed a great deal about the behavior of the volcano. By analyzing data, much as a zoologist dissects an animal specimen, scientists have concluded that the eruption changed large portions of the area's Geography. For instance, it turned the Sarno River from its course and raised the level of the beach along the Bay of Naples. Meteorologists studying these events have also concluded that Vesuvius caused a huge tidal wave that affected the world's climate.

In addition to making these investigations archaeologists have been able to study the skeletons of victims by using distilled water to wash away the volcanic ash. By strengthening the brittle bones with acrylic paint, scientists have been able to examine the skeletons and draw conclusions about the diet and habits of the residents. Finally, the excavations at both Pompeii and Herculaneum have yielded many examples of classical art, such as jewelry made of bronze, which is an alloy of copper and tin. The eruption of Mount Vesuvius and its tragic consequences have provided everyone with a wealth of data about the effects that volcanoes can have on the surrounding area. Today, volcanologists can locate and predict eruptions, saving lives and preventing the destruction of other cities and cultures.

Questions

1. Herculaneum and its harbor were buried under _____ lava.
 - a) liquid
 - b) solid
 - c) flowing
 - d) coagulated
2. The poisonous gases were not _____ in the air
 - a) able to float
 - b) visible
 - c) able to evaporate
 - d) invisible
3. Scientists analyzed data about Vesuvius in the same way that a zoologist _____ a specimen
 - a) describes in detail
 - b) studies by cutting apart
 - c) photographs
 - d) chart
4. _____ have concluded that the volcanic eruption caused a tidal wave.
 - a) Scientists
 - b) Scientist who study atmosphere conditions
 - c) Scientists who study ash
 - d) Scientists who study animal behavior
5. Scientists have used _____ water to wash away volcanic ash from the skeletons of victims.
 - a) bottled
 - b) volcanic
 - c) purified
 - d) sea

Passage 15

King Louis XVI and Queen Marie Antoinette ruled France from 1774 to 1789, a time when the country was fighting bankruptcy. The royal couple did not let France's insecure financial situation limit their immoderate spending, however. Even though the minister of finance repeatedly warned the king and queen against wasting money, they continued to spend great fortunes on their personal pleasure. This lavish spending greatly enraged the people of France. They felt that the royal couple bought its luxurious lifestyle at the poor people's expense.

Marie Antoinette, the beautiful but exceedingly impractical queen, seemed uncaring about her subjects' misery. While French citizens begged for lower taxes, the queen embellished her palace with extravagant works of art. She also surrounded herself with artists, writers, and musicians, who encouraged the queen to spend money even more profusely.

While the queen's favourite glutted themselves on huge feasts at the royal table many people in France were starving. The French government taxed the citizens outrageously. These high taxes paid for the entertainments the queen and her court so enjoyed. When the minister of finance tried to stop these royal spendthrifts, the queen replaced him. The intense hatred that the people felt for Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette kept building until it led to the French Revolution. During this time of struggle and violence (1789 – 1799), thousands of aristocrats, as well as the king and queen themselves lost their lives at the guillotine. Perhaps if Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette had reined in their extravagant spending, the events that rocked France would not have occurred.

1. The people surrounding the queen encouraged her to spend money _____
 - a) wisely
 - b) abundantly
 - c) carefully
 - d) foolishly
2. The minister of finance tried to curb these royal _____
 - a) aristocrats
 - b) money wasters
 - c) individuals
 - d) spend thrifts
3. This lavish spending _____ the people of France.
 - a) provoked
 - b) insulted
 - c) enraged
 - d) gladdened
4. The intense hatred of the people led to the _____
 - a) Minister being replaced
 - b) Government taxing the citizens outrageously
 - c) death of many people
 - d) French Revolution
5. Thousands of aristocrats, as well as the king and queen lost their lives _____
 - a) in the French Revolution
 - b) at the guillotine
 - c) in the royal palace
 - d) into violence
