23	‘Regional demands from different parts of India exemplify the principle of Unity with Diversity’. Do you agree? Give reasons. Ans: Yes, I agree for the following reasons. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Regional aspirations are part of democratic politics-Regional demands have to be addressed in a democratic way. 2. When we try to suppress, regional aspirations will lead to resistance and secession. It is not in India but in other smaller countries like the UK there are regional aspirations in Scotland. The best way to respond to regional aspirations is through democratic negotiations 3. Power sharing – Regional parties should be allowed to share power at regional level at state as well as centre in order to be more representative. 4. Farsightedness of the makers of our constitution – Allows federal characteristic to provide flexibility and special provision to accommodate diversity like Sixth schedule of the constitution Regional imbalances can be accommodated without being discriminated in any way. Therefore, regional aspirations are not encouraged to espouse separatism. Thus, in India regionalism is accepted as part of democratic politics. (OR other relevant points)	4	Politics in India Since Independence Pg. No:131-132

Ans:In January 1974 students in Gujarat started an agitation against rising prices of food grains, cooking oil and Other essential commodities, and against corruption in high places. 3) What does Article 352 state? Ans: Under the provision of this article the government could declare a state of emergency on grounds of external threat or a threat of internal disturbances. Now 'internal' Emergency can be proclaimed only on the grounds of 'armed rebellion' and it is necessary that the advice to the President to proclaim Emergency must be given in writing by the Union Cabinet. 4) Why did the Janata party fail to remain in power for a full term? Ans:The Janata Party government that came to power after the 1977 elections was far from cohesive. After the election, there was stiff competition among three leaders for the post of Prime Minister – Morarji Desai, who was the rival to Indira Gandhi ever since 1966-67; Charan Singh, leader of the Bharatiya Lok Dal and a farmers' leader from UP; and Jagjivan Ram, who had vast experience as a senior minister in the Congress governments. Eventually Morarji Desai became the Prime Minister but that did not bring the power struggle within the party to an end. The opposition to Emergency could keep the Janata Party together only for a while. Its critics felt that the Janata Party lacked direction, leadership, and a common program.		94, 98,105&108

In today's scenario power equations have been changed with the disintegration of USSR and many new countries are entering into the UN: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The UN charter has given a privileged position to permanent members to bring stability all over the world. This position remains the same and no one is allowed to enter. Except permanent members enjoy veto power to be placed in a valuable position. Permanent member's category is from industrialized developed country which should be balanced by enhancing representation from developing countries to become either permanent or non-permanent members. Hence, Security Council should reform and improve its working to make the UN more effective i.e., inclusion of member states should be judged on the basis of contribution to peace keeping initiatives. OR What makes the UN an indispensable organisation? The first consequence of partition was the largest unplanned and tragic transfer of population that human history has known. On both sides of the border, there were large-scale killings and atrocities. In the name of religion, people of one community killed the people of another community. 2. Minorities were forced to abandon their homes and move across borders. Even during their journey, they were often attacked, killed, and looted. On both sides, thousands of women were raped, abducted, and killed. The partition forced about 80 lakh people to migrate across the new border. More than five lakh people were killed due to partition. 3. Another consequence of the partition was the ‘Refugees Problem’. The people who crossed the border found that they had no home. For lakhs of people independence meant life in ‘refugee camps’. The Indian leadership and the Government of India had to face, this immediate and unexpected problem. 4. Division of Properties and Financial Assets. Partition also meant the division of properties, liabilities, and financial assets. 	2+2+2 =6 Politics in India Since Independence Pg.No.4-5 Politics in India Since Independence Pg. 	5. The employees of the government and railways were also divided. 6. Problems of Minorities. Even after large- scale migration of Muslims to Pakistan, about 12 percent of the total population of India were Muslims. The biggest problem before the Indian Government was how to deal with Muslim minorities and other religious minorities. 7. Due to the partition, Bengal was divided into East Bengal (now Bangladesh) and West Bengal. Similarly, Punjab was divided into the Punjab province of West Pakistan and the Indian state of Punjab.
