Me and My Little Friend Cutee

Aratrika Chattopadhyay

One day in a cold winter morning, I found a little baby bird lying under a mango tree. Then I took it home and covered it in a warm sweater. It was cute and friendly, so I named it 'Cutee'. I took care of it and then cutee grew up quickly day by day. I saw that Cutee now has blue colour feathers and now it is a very beautiful blue bird.

After some days it learnt how to fly. I told Cutee don't fly away otherwise I will not give you yummy strawberries. When I woke up from the bed next morning, I heard that a bird is singing near my window and saw it was Cutee! I was very happy. I gave yummy strawberries to Cutee and we were happy friends.
