Vietnam is a long, narrow country in Southeast Asia, forming a 'S' shaped patch of land, and generally enjoys a warm but rainy climate.

Mountains and hills cover two thirds of Vietnam's mainland, while its jungles are home to rare, precious animals and plants. The forests of Vietnam are of two broad categories: evergreen forests and deciduous forests.

Evergreen (adjective) (of a tree or bush) – That has green leaves all through the year

Deciduous (adjective) (of a tree, bush etc.) – That loses its leaves every year

Highland (adjective) – Connected with an area of land that has hills or mountains

As far as their dressing style is concerned, the people of Vietnam prefer thin and lightweight clothing that are well-ventilated for tropical weather. Weddings, funerals, holidays, and traditions are all related to Vietnamese village communities. Country celebrations are held all year, but especially in the springtime, when there is less farming to be done.

Ventilate (verb) – To allow fresh air to enter and move around a room, building, etc.

Custom (noun) – An accepted way of behaving or of doing things in a society or a community

Internal migration and net emigration has occurred in Vietnam over the last several decades, both for humanitarian and economic reasons.

Emigration (noun) – The act of leaving your own country to go and live permanently in another country
